Corporation Tax Cut Is Cancelled

Committee Paves Way For Slash In Excise, Sales Tax

"CAN'T GO ALONG"—Chairman Leonard Hall of the Republican National Committee said he "can't go along" with Sen. Joseph McCarthy's attack on others "also fighting Communism" following a discussion of the situation with President Eisenhower yesterday.

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee voted overwhelmingly today to cancel a scheduled two billion dollar annual cut in corporation income taxes. President Eisenhower has strongly urged cancellation.

But members said the committee also paved the way for almost certain approval tomorrow of a proposal—opposed by the administration—slashing many excise or sales taxes in half.

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) introduced the excise bill today, predicting it would give an immediate boost to consumer buying and thus to the nation's economy. He urged speedy action by Congress.

The bill would slice to 10 per cent all excise rates now above that level, except for liquor and tobacco. It would affect a score of items now taxed at from 25 to 15 per cent.

Two-Edged Proposition

It was a two-edged proposition, canceling cuts scheduled April 1 in some other excises—on liquor, tobacco, gasoline, automobiles, beer and wine.

Under present law the top corportation income tax rate, now 52 per cent, drops to 47 per cent on April 1. The committee voted 22 to 2 to extend the present rate for one more year, without change.

That marked a big but gradual shift in sentiment. When Eisenhower first asked for the extension, Chairman Reed and other members publicly voiced opposition. Rep. Simpson (R-Pa), a key committee Republican, predicted a compromise at 50 per cent.

But today, only two Democrats—Reps. Mills (D-Ark) and Gregory (D-Ky)—voted to let the scheduled reduction take effect. Rep. Camp (D-Ga) was absent. All 15 committee Republicans and seven Democrats supported the move in a closed-door session.

Opposition Melted

Members said opposition had melted in view of other tax cuts already in effect or planned this year, chiefly a sweeping, 800-page bill overhauling almost all the nation's tax laws and providing many benefits to corporations. The committee temporarily scheduled a final vote Thursday on the general revision bill, which would reduce revenues from business and individuals about $1,300,000,000 the first year and more than two billion dollars in later years.

The new excise cuts in the Reed bill would take effect April 1 and would amount to an estimated 912 million dollars a year. The scheduled reductions on other items, which would be canceled by the bill, amount to about $1,100,000,000. Thus, members said, Eisenhower hardly could veto the bill because he would lose more revenue than he would gain.

Hall Doesn't Go Along With Sen. M'Carthy

GOP Chairman Has Conference With Ike On Subject

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)-After conferring with President Eisenhower, Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today he can't "go along" with Sen. McCarthy when McCarthy attacks those "who are fighting communism just as conscientiously as he is."

This was evidently a reference to the Wisconsin senator's course of action in the Stevens-McCarthy case.

Told of Hall's remarks, McCarthy said he and Hall have "a right to differ because we are good friends."

No Time To Answer

"I am about ready to call a moratorium on these statements back and forth between me and those who disagree with me," McCarthy added.

"I just don't have the time to answer all those who disagree with me.

"I'll continue to do my job in the future as I have done it in the past. Wherever we find a Communist he will be dug out."

Hall, who said several weeks ago McCarthy was an asset to the party, asserted today that "I don't like the situation as it developed last week." McCarthy, who has accused the Army of coddling Communists, had an encounter with Secretary of Army Stevens. Stevens, accusing McCarthy of "abusing" an Army general, at first refused to let two officers testify before the McCarthy committee. Later he agreed to permit Army men to testify, but subsequently said he would "never accede" to browbeating of witnesses.

McCarthy announced tonight that his tentatively scheduled meeting with Stevens to discuss what McCarthy has termed "contradictions" in Army handling of alleged Communists will be delayed.

He and Stevens had tentatively agreed to talk it out Thursday or Monday, depending on mutual convenience, behind the closed doors of McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Asks For Postponement

McCarthy said tonight Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a subcommittee member who is in Europe, sent a message asking for a postponement until he can attend. Symington is expected to return Saturday.

Hall said he had discussed the "so-called McCarthy situation" with the President, but he did not say what the President's reaction was. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, had nothing to say about the conference except to point out that Eisenhower will hold a news conference tomorrow. This indicated the President might make a statement then.

"My feeling is this," Hall said. "While Joe (McCarthy) is fighting communism I go along and we all go along. When he begins to attack persons who are fighting communism just as conscientiously as he is, I can't go along with him."

Puerto Rico Governor Sees Ike

Governor Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico talks with President Eisenhower at the White House after flying to Washington from San Juan yesterday. The governor came to Washington to express his regret to the President and other officials over the shooting of five Congressmen by Puerto Rico nationalists. Marin said his country was horrified and "protest strongly against the outrage."

4 Assailants Are Held On $100,000 Bond

Red Propaganda Is Found In Puerto Rico Woman's Apartment

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Extra guards were thrown around the White House and the halls of Congress today as messages poured in from all over the world expressing shock at yesterday's wild gunfire assault by Puerto Rican fanatics in the House of Representatives.

In New York, police reported they found "quantities" of Communist literature in the Brooklyn apartment of Rafael Miranda, 25, one of the four Puerto Rican gun wielders.

All four assailants, including Lolita Lebron, 34, fiery self-styled ringleader, were held in $100,000 bail each on charges of assault with intent to kill.

Police said none of the four showed any sign of remorse.

New York authorities, announcing the discovery of a cache of Red propaganda, said they had been asked by the Federal Bureau of Investigation to aid in attempts to find out whether the Capiitol Hill shootings were part of a wider plot.

200 Members Show Up

About 200 House members, mostly grave faced, showed up when the chamber met for its regular session at noon today. Plainclothes detectives mingled with spectators in the public galleries, and 30 extra uniformed police were posted at strategic points. FBI agents were also in evidence.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) told newsmen that Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), the most seriously wounded of five lawmakers cut down in the hail of bullets, was slightly improved after an emergency operation.

Dr. George Crile, noted surgeon, who flew here from Cleveland for consultation, said the wealthy 35-year-old Michigan lawmaker, now serving his first term in Congress, has a "better than 50-50 chance" to live.

When the assassins opened fire, shouting "Free Puerto Rico!" and waving Puerto Rican flags, Bentley was felled by a bullet that pierced his chest, lung, diaphram, liver and stomach.

The four other wounded lawmakers were all reported to be doing well. They were: Reps. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), Ben F. Jensen (R-Iowa), Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) and George H. Fallon (D-Md).

Shaken By Attack

House leaders, shaken by the unprecedented attack, huddled this forenoon to discuss tighter security regulations. At present, spectators are warned against taking cameras into either the House or Senate, but there is no safeguard against concealed weapons.

Speaker Martin said one plan under discussion was to screen the visitors' galleries with bullet-proof glass. It was from one of the galleries that the Puerto Ricans suddenly cut loose at 2:30 p.m. yesterday with a one-minute fusillade of some 30 to 40 shots from Luger-type automatic pistols.

Effective today, visitors will be admitted to the public galleries only by showing non-transferrable cards issued by Congress members. Similar precautions were taken in the Senate.

At the White House, four uniformed guards and a Secret Service agent were stationed at the main gate on Pennsylvania Ave. leading to the President's office—two outside and two inside. Ordinarily, only two guards are posted there, and they stay in a little sentry-style house just inside the gate.

Lennon Requests Reconsideration Of Treaty Vote

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Sen. Lennon (D-NC) served notice today he will ask the Senate to reconsider the action by which it defeated, on a single vote margin, a proposal to amend the Constitution to curb treaty powers.

Lennon was absent last Friday when the Senate recorded a roll call of 60 votes for the proposal and 31 against it. The 60 votes were just one vote shy of the two-thirds required for approval. He filed a formal re-consideration notice.

Any senator can call the motion up at any time, but unless some senator shifts position there seemed little likelihood of any change in the result.

Although he was absent when the vote was taken which killed the last remaining proposal for the constitutional change, Lennon was paired in favor of passage.

He was one of five absentees, three of whom favored passage and two of whom opposed it. Thus if all 96 votes had been recorded, there would have been no change in the final result.

Lennon told reporters: "I think the chances are better than 50-50 that the vote will be reconsidered and something will be passed," he said.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) introduced a resolution late in the day calling for a study by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of the entire treaty-executive agreement situation which would lead to a report by Feb. 1, 1955.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said he thought the study would be a good idea, but Sen. George (D-Ga) said he thought it could serve "no useful purpose."

Wable Jurors Hard To Find

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 2 (AP)—The State, seeking the death penalty for John Wesley Wable, accused phamtom slayer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, found it tough today getting jurors willing to return a death verdict based on circumstantial evidence.

As the murder trial of the 24-year-old native of Ohiopyle, Pa., moved through a second day, prosecuting attorneys repeatedly rejected persons who said they could not conscientiously return a first degree murder verdict carrying the death penalty.

Defense counsel occasionally turned town jurors who said they had fixed opinions as to the guilt or innocence of Wable.

When court adjourned for the day, only six jurors had been selected from among 106 persons questioned for duty. The state rejected 67.

Wable, attired in a light tan suit and striped tie, sat calmly at a counsel table in the big courtroom of the Westmoreland County Courthouse.

Wable is chargged with shooting to death two truckdrivers as they slept in the cabs of their trucks along the Turnpike last July. However, he is on trial only for the death of Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va.

The other victim, Lester B. Woodward, 39, of Duncannon, Pa., was killed three days before. Both had been shot in the head.

Committee Votes To Modify Farm Parity Orders

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—A House subcommittee today voted unanimously to modify Secretary of Agriculture Benson's recent order slashing federal price supports under butter and some other dairy products from 90 to 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is a formula, set by law, designed to give farmers a fair return on their products in relation to the prices of things they buy.

A special dairy subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee struck obliquely at Benson's order by voting to limit cuts in diary price props to not more than five per cent in any one year.

If enacted by Congress, it would cancel out two-thirds of the support reduction set for April 1.

Benson's order brought outcries from some dairy state lawmakers that it would "ruin" many dairy farmers. Benson defended his action on the ground that federal warehouses are already bulging with more than 280 million pounds of surplus butter and further 90 per cent price supports would invite "staggering" losses by the government.

The secretary said his order would mean U. S. housewives would pay about eight cents a pound less for butter at the corner grocery after April 1.

Across the capitol, Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) introduced legislation to enact President Eisenhower's proposal to "freeze" 2½ billion dollars worth of surplus farm products and tag them for use in foreign and domestic aid programs.

Aiken told the Senate his committee will begin public hearings Thursday on the administration's new farm program.

The "freeze" program would set aside: Wheat, 400 to 500 million bushels; upland cotton, three to four million bales; cottonseed oil, up to 500 million pounds; butter, up to 200 million pounds; nonfat dry milk solids, up to 300 million pounds, and cheese up to 150 million pounds. In most cases, the figures were roughly half of present surpluses acquired by the government under price support programs.

World Bank Lends Australia $54 Million

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The World Bank today made a 15-year, 54 million dollar loan to Australia. The bank said the loan will be used for development of Australian agriculture and forestry; road, rail and air transport; and electric power. This and two other World Bank loans to Australia have totaled 204 million dollars.

Income Is Same

CHICAGO, March 2 (AP) — The Greyhound Corp. today reported net income of $13,801,400, equal to $1.27 a common share, for the year ended Dec. 31, 1953, compared with net income of $13,595,651, equal to $1.26 a common share, in the preceding year.

MADRID, Spain, March 2 (AP) — Sens. Bridges (R-NH) and Symington (D-Mo) arrived here from Paris tonight. They are making a survey of European factories producing for the U.S. armed forces.

FDR Blocked Ouster Of Reds Probers Told

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—A retired Navy officer repeated today a statement that former President Roosevelt blocked the ouster of Communists from the U. S. Merchant Marine in 1942.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee heard from Rear Adm. Adolphus Staton, Ret., substantially the same story he told a news conference in October, 1950—that he was ordered not to oust Communist radio operators in that period of wartime collaboration with Russia.

Staton also quoted Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee and a wartime special assistant to the Navy secretary, as telling him that "I don't think we should be too hard on the Commies."

In Chicago, Stevenson called Staton's testimony "the same old story that was brought up during the 1952 campaign and fully explained at that time."

Stevenson said in a statement that he didn't recall all the details but "I was executing the orders of my superiors and I believe their decision was to leave the doubtful radio operators on the merchant ships at that critical time to keep the convoys moving."

"My boss," he continued, "was the secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, formerly Republican candidate for vice president and no lover of Communists and extremists of any kind."

Roosevelt's reported views were brought out both in Staton's testimony and in the purported minutes of a 1942 Navy Department meeting. The same or a similar document was distributed to newsmen during Staton's 1950 news conference, which was arranged by Hamilton A. Long of New York, a former Army combat intelligence major who was working with Staton on a pamphlet.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) admitted the document as evidence in the committee record, subject to revision if the Navy later produces a different official version. The typed copy was entered by Charles P. Grimes, the subcommittee counsel.

According to the document, Knox quoted Roosevelt that "considering the fact that the United States and Russia were allies at this time and that the Communist party and the United States efforts were now bent toward our winning the war, the United States was bound to not oppose the activities of the Communist party, and specifically to not disapprove the employment of any radio operator for the sole reason that he was a member of the Communist party or that he was active in Communist party affairs."

Soviet Minister Of Health Fired

LONDON, March 2 (AP) — The Kremlin announced today that the physician who bossed the treatment of the dying Joseph Stalin a year ago, A. F. Tretyakov, has been fired from his post as public health minister of the U.S.S.R.

The brief communique broadcast on Moscow radio gave no explanation.

Newsman Saves Woman's Life

BOSTON, March 2 (AP)—A newspaperman saved the life of a 25-year-old mother contemplating suicide today by keeping her talking on a telephone until he traced the call and notified police.

Doctors at City Hospital said the woman, Mrs. Jean Pasquale, would recover from gas poisoning.

City Editor John A. Flynn of the Boston Evening American was at his desk early today when the telephone rang and a woman inquired, "Do you want a good story?"

"Sure," said Flynn, "what is it?"

"I'm going to commit suicide, I'm going to stick my head in the oven."

Flynn talked fast. He asked her her name and address. He tried to persuade her to change her mind. He learned she had two young children. He said they needed a mother.

While he argued, Flynn had Mrs. Caroline Donovan, switchboard operator, trace the call to assure that the woman was calling from her home. Mrs. Donovan learned she was and notified police.

Minutes later, police kicked in the locked door of the woman's apartment and found her unconscious in front of a gas stove. They hustled her to a hospital.

Congressman Pours Whiskey Down Drain Following Shooting

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP) — One congressman today ruefully told this sequel to yesterday's shooting incident in the House:

At the height of the excitement, a woman thrust a bottle of whisky into the hands of an elevator operator and said: "This is to help those who are hurt."

The operator turned it over to the congressman.

"I thought maybe the whisky was full of cyanide or something," the legislator said. "It could have been part of the plot. So I poured it down the drain."

Now he's having the dregs of the bottle analyzed to see if the sacrifice was necessary. He asked to remain nameless.

Pennsylvania Reds Danger To Nation

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—"A serious potential danger to the security of this nation" exists in Western Pennsylvania as a result of Communist industrial activity, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee said today.

A subcommittee task force headed by Sen. Butler (R-Md), which investigated "subversive influence in the United Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers of America" in the Pittsburgh and Erie areas last November, made the following comment:

"The testimony establishes that there exists in the area of Pittsburgh, Pa., a serious potential danger to the security of this nation."

Dean Tenders Resignation As Dulles Deputy

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The State Department today announced the resignation of Arthur H. Dean, climaxing weeks of speculation he would bow out as a Korean peace negotiator.

The Wall Street attorney, a former law partner of Secretary of State Dulles, tendered his resignation in a letter dated Feb. 26 and made public today.

Dean, 55, said he was forced to quit as Dulles' deputy to the Korean peace conference because of a press of personal business. He said committments to appear in court prevent him from going abroad this spring, when the Korean peace talks will be renewed at Geneva, Switzerland.

There was no mention in Dean's letter of the criticism or speculation which sprang up after he walked out of the preliminary peace talks at Panmunjom last Dec. 12, charging the Reds had insulted the United States.

Some State Department officials were reported to have been distressed at the walkout, feeling it to be a tactical error, although this was officially denied.

Remarks Dean made subsequently led to some criticism in the Senate. Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) said in a Senate speech last Jan. 14 that Dean seemed to be spreading a type of propaganda designed to bring about the "appeasement" of Red China. Dean vehemently denied this.

Russian General Is Reported Dead

MOSCOW, March 2 (AP)—The Soviet armed forces newspaper Red Star announced today the death of Maj. Gen. P. Krutovskikh, 53, a veteran of 35 years service in the Red Army.

Krutovskikh fought in the Russian Civil War and in the Second World War. Among his many decorations were two orders of Lenin, the Soviet Union's highest award.

LONDON, March 2 (AP) — Britons guzzled about 900 million gallons of beer last year and the tax on it all was 258,600,000 pounds ($724,080,000), Chancellor of the Exchequer Richard A. Butler told a House of Commons questioner today.

GI, Released From Soviet Prison, To Return For Girl

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 2 (AP)—Homer H. Cox, 33-year-old Oklahoma City soldier released last Christmas Day after spending four years in a Russian prison, said today he would risk traveling through Soviet territory soon to marry a girl he wooed and won while they were both imprisoned.

Cox said he was taking this step after all his other attempts to bring the girl here had failed.

He met pretty Inge Brenner, 26-year-old Austrian when they were both imprisoned. She was released last autumn and disclosed for the first time that Cox was a Russian prisoner.

He had disappeared four years before from the American sector of Berlin. He said after his release that he had been drugged and kidnaped.

Cox said he would fly to his fiancee in Vienna and to do this he must land in the Russian sector of Vienna.

"I have to take the chance. It doesn't look like there is any other way," he said.

Cox will get his discharge from the Army by March 14. Cox estimates he will get back pay of between $4,000 and $5,000 for the four years he spent behind the Iron Curtain.

The former Berlin military policeman said he would spend six weeks in Vienna, then come home to make arrangements to bring his bride back.

Cox has the promise of Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) to help cut red tape to get his bride to this country as soon as possible.

2,427 "Security Risks" Are Fired By Government

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The chairman of the Civil Service Commission boosted to 2,427 today the number of "security risks" removed from the government payroll, but said he did not know whether a single person had been fired for actual disloyalty, subversion or communism.

Philip Young gave the new total to the Senate Civil Service Committee. It is up 227 from the 2,200 figure that has been used since President Eisenhower mentioned it in his State of the Union message to Congress in January.

Young submitted a table showing that among the 2,427 security risks who were fired or who resigned there were 383 persons whose files contained something of a subversive nature. But he said these 383 were not necessarily subversives or Communists.

"There is no figure in the table," he said, "that include the number of disloyal persons."

The CSC head told reporters he knows of no way of finding out whether subversion was the controlling factor in the separation of the 383 from government service.

Democrats have been complaining that the Republicans have been trying to convince the people that most of the security risks removed from government were Reds or subversives left behind by the Truman administration.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) once said he had information that 90 per cent of the security risks separated from the government were either Communists or sex perverts.

Committee Votes To Modify Farm Parity Orders

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—A House subcommittee today voted unanimously to modify Secretary of Agriculture Benson's recent order slashing federal price supports under butter and some other dairy products from 90 to 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is a formula, set by law, designed to give farmers a fair return on their products in relation to the prices of things they buy.

A special dairy subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee struck obliquely at Benson's order by voting to limit cuts in diary price props to not more than five per cent in any one year.

If enacted by Congress, it would cancel out two-thirds of the support reduction set for April 1.

Benson's order brought outcries from some dairy state lawmakers that it would "ruin" many dairy farmers. Benson defended his action on the ground that federal warehouses are already bulging with more than 280 million pounds of surplus butter and further 90 per cent price supports would invite "staggering" losses by the government.

The secretary said his order would mean U. S. housewives would pay about eight cents a pound less for butter at the corner grocery after April 1.

Across the capitol, Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) introduced legislation to enact President Eisenhower's proposal to "freeze" 2½ billion dollars worth of surplus farm products and tag them for use in foreign and domestic aid programs.

Aiken told the Senate his committee will begin public hearings Thursday on the administration's new farm program.

The "freeze" program would set aside: Wheat, 400 to 500 million bushels; upland cotton, three to four million bales; cottonseed oil, up to 500 million pounds; butter, up to 200 million pounds; nonfat dry milk solids, up to 300 million pounds, and cheese up to 150 million pounds. In most cases, the figures were roughly half of present surpluses acquired by the government under price support programs.

World Bank Lends Australia $54 Million

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The World Bank today made a 15-year, 54 million dollar loan to Australia. The bank said the loan will be used for development of Australian agriculture and forestry; road, rail and air transport; and electric power. This and two other World Bank loans to Australia have totaled 204 million dollars.

Income Is Same

CHICAGO, March 2 (AP) — The Greyhound Corp. today reported net income of $13,801,400, equal to $1.27 a common share, for the year ended Dec. 31, 1953, compared with net income of $13,595,651, equal to $1.26 a common share, in the preceding year.

FDR Blocked Ouster Of Reds Probers Told

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—A retired Navy officer repeated today a statement that former President Roosevelt blocked the ouster of Communists from the U. S. Merchant Marine in 1942.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee heard from Rear Adm. Adolphus Staton, Ret., substantially the same story he told a news conference in October, 1950—that he was ordered not to oust Communist radio operators in that period of wartime collaboration with Russia.

Staton also quoted Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee and a wartime special assistant to the Navy secretary, as telling him that "I don't think we should be too hard on the Commies."

In Chicago, Stevenson called Staton's testimony "the same old story that was brought up during the 1952 campaign and fully explained at that time."

Stevenson said in a statement that he didn't recall all the details but "I was executing the orders of my superiors and I believe their decision was to leave the doubtful radio operators on the merchant ships at that critical time to keep the convoys moving."

"My boss," he continued, "was the secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, formerly Republican candidate for vice president and no lover of Communists and extremists of any kind."

Roosevelt's reported views were brought out both in Staton's testimony and in the purported minutes of a 1942 Navy Department meeting. The same or a similar document was distributed to newsmen during Staton's 1950 news conference, which was arranged by Hamilton A. Long of New York, a former Army combat intelligence major who was working with Staton on a pamphlet.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) admitted the document as evidence in the committee record, subject to revision if the Navy later produces a different official version. The typed copy was entered by Charles P. Grimes, the subcommittee counsel.

According to the document, Knox quoted Roosevelt that "considering the fact that the United States and Russia were allies at this time and that the Communist party and the United States efforts were now bent toward our winning the war, the United States was bound to not oppose the activities of the Communist party, and specifically to not disapprove the employment of any radio operator for the sole reason that he was a member of the Communist party or that he was active in Communist party affairs."

Soviet Minister Of Health Fired

LONDON, March 2 (AP) — The Kremlin announced today that the physician who bossed the treatment of the dying Joseph Stalin a year ago, A. F. Tretyakov, has been fired from his post as public health minister of the U.S.S.R.

The brief communique broadcast on Moscow radio gave no explanation.

Newsman Saves Woman's Life

BOSTON, March 2 (AP)—A newspaperman saved the life of a 25-year-old mother contemplating suicide today by keeping her talking on a telephone until he traced the call and notified police.

Doctors at City Hospital said the woman, Mrs. Jean Pasquale, would recover from gas poisoning.

City Editor John A. Flynn of the Boston Evening American was at his desk early today when the telephone rang and a woman inquired, "Do you want a good story?"

"Sure," said Flynn, "what is it?"

"I'm going to commit suicide. I'm going to stick my head in the oven."

Flynn talked fast. He asked her her name and address. He tried to persuade her to change her mind. He learned she had two young children. He said they needed a mother.

While he argued, Flynn had Mrs. Caroline Donovan, switchboard operator, trace the call to assure that the woman was calling from her home. Mrs. Donovan learned she was and notified police.

Minutes later, police kicked in the locked door of the woman's apartment and found her unconscious in front of a gas stove. They hustled her to a hospital.

Congressman Pours Whiskey Down Drain Following Shooting

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP) — One congressman today ruefully told this sequel to yesterday's shooting incident in the House:

At the height of the excitement, a woman thrust a bottle of whisky into the hands of an elevator operator and said: "This is to help those who are hurt."

The operator turned it over to the congressman.

"I thought maybe the whisky was full of cyanide or something," the legislator said. "It could have been part of the plot. So I poured it down the drain."

Now he's having the dregs of the bottle analyzed to see if the sacrifice was necessary. He asked to remain nameless.

Pennsylvania Reds Danger To Nation

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—"A serious potential danger to the security of this nation" exists in Western Pennsylvania as a result of Communist industrial activity, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee said today.

A subcommittee task force headed by Sen. Butler (R-Md), which investigated "subversive influence in the United Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers of America" in the Pittsburgh and Erie areas last November, made the following comment:

"The testimony establishes that there exists in the area of Pittsburgh, Pa., a serious potential danger to the security of this nation."

Dean Tenders Resignation As Dulles Deputy

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The State Department today announced the resignation of Arthur H. Dean, climaxing weeks of speculation he would bow out as a Korean peace negotiator.

The Wall Street attorney, a former law partner of Secretary of State Dulles, tendered his resignation in a letter dated Feb. 26 and made public today.

Dean, 55, said he was forced to quit as Dulles' deputy to the Korean peace conference because of a press of personal business. He said committments to appear in court prevent him from going abroad this spring, when the Korean peace talks will be renewed at Geneva, Switzerland.

There was no mention in Dean's letter of the criticism or speculation which sprang up after he walked out of the preliminary peace talks at Panmunjom last Dec. 12, charging the Reds had insulted the United States.

Some State Department officials were reported to have been distressed at the walkout, feeling it to be a tactical error, although this was officially denied.

Remarks Dean made subsequently led to some criticism in the Senate. Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) said in a Senate speech last Jan. 14 that Dean seemed to be spreading a type of propaganda designed to bring about the "appeasement" of Red China. Dean vehemently denied this.

Russian General Is Reported Dead

MOSCOW, March 2 (AP)—The Soviet armed forces newspaper Red Star announced today the death of Maj. Gen. P. Krutovskikh, 53, a veteran of 35 years service in the Red Army.

Krutovskikh fought in the Russian Civil War and in the Second World War. Among his many decorations were two orders of Lenin, the Soviet Union's highest award.

Like Their Beer

LONDON, March 2 (AP) — Britons guzzled about 900 million gallons of beer last year and the tax on it all was 258,600,000 pounds ($724,080,000), Chancellor of the Exchequer Richard A. Butler told a House of Commons questioner today.

4 Assailants Are Held On $100,000 Bond

Red Propaganda Is Found In Puerto Rico Woman's Apartment

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Extra guards were thrown around the White House and the halls of Congress today as messages poured in from all over the world expressing shock at yesterday's wild gunfire assault by Puerto Rican fanatics in the House of Representatives.

In New York, police reported they found "quantities" of Communist literature in the Brooklyn apartment of Rafael Miranda, 25, one of the four Puerto Rican gun wielders.

All four assailants, including Lolita Lebron, 34, fiery self-styled ringleader, were held in $100,000 bail each on charges of assault with intent to kill.

Police said none of the four showed any sign of remorse.

New York authorities, announcing the discovery of a cache of Red propaganda, said they had been asked by the Federal Bureau of Investigation to aid in attempts to find out whether the Capiitol Hill shootings were part of a wider plot.

200 Members Show Up

About 200 House members, mostly grave faced, showed up when the chamber met for its regular session at noon today. Plainclothes detectives mingled with spectators in the public galleries, and 30 extra uniformed police were posted at strategic points. FBI agents were also in evidence.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) told newsmen that Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), the most seriously wounded of five lawmakers cut down in the hail of bullets, was slightly improved after an emergency operation.

Dr. George Crile, noted surgeon, who flew here from Cleveland for consultation, said the wealthy 35-year-old Michigan lawmaker, now serving his first term in Congress, has a "better than 50-50 chance" to live.

When the assassins opened fire, shouting "Free Puerto Rico!" and waving Puerto Rican flags, Bentley was felled by a bullet that pierced his chest, lung, diaphram, liver and stomach.

The four other wounded lawmakers were all reported to be doing well. They were: Reps. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), Ben F. Jensen (R-Iowa), Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) and George H. Fallon (D-Md).

Shaken By Attack

House leaders, shaken by the unprecedented attack, huddled this forenoon to discuss tighter security regulations. At present, spectators are warned against taking cameras into either the House or Senate, but there is no safeguard against concealed weapons.

Speaker Martin said one plan under discussion was to screen the visitors' galleries with bullet-proof glass. It was from one of the galleries that the Puerto Ricans suddenly cut loose at 2:30 p.m. yesterday with a one-minute fusillade of some 30 to 40 shots from Luger-type automatic pistols.

Effective today, visitors will be admitted to the public galleries only by showing non-transferrable cards issued by Congress members. Similar precautions were taken in the Senate.

At the White House, four uniformed guards and a Secret Service agent were stationed at the main gate on Pennsylvania Ave. leading to the President's office—two outside and two inside. Ordinarily, only two guards are posted there, and they stay in a little sentry-style house just inside the gate.

GI, Released From Soviet Prison, To Return For Girl

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 2 (AP)—Homer H. Cox, 33-year-old Oklahoma City soldier released last Christmas Day after spending four years in a Russian prison, said today he would risk traveling through Soviet territory soon to marry a girl he wooed and won while they were both imprisoned.

Cox said he was taking this step after all his other attempts to bring the girl here had failed.

He met pretty Inge Brenner, 26-year-old Austrian when they were both imprisoned. She was released last autumn and disclosed for the first time that Cox was a Russian prisoner.

He had disappeared four years before from the American sector of Berlin. He said after his release that he had been drugged and kidnaped.

Cox said he would fly to his fiancee in Vienna and to do this he must land in the Russian sector of Vienna.

"I have to take the chance. It doesn't look like there is any other way," he said.

Cox will get his discharge from the Army by March 14. Cox estimates he will get back pay of between $4,000 and $5,000 for the four years he spent behind the Iron Curtain.

The former Berlin military policeman said he would spend six weeks in Vienna, then come home to make arrangements to bring his bride back.

Cox has the promise of Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) to help cut red tape to get his bride to this country as soon as possible.

2,427 "Security Risks" Are Fired By Government

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The chairman of the Civil Service Commission boosted to 2,427 today the number of "security risks" removed from the government payroll, but said he did not know whether a single person had been fired for actual disloyalty, subversion or communism.

Philip Young gave the new total to the Senate Civil Service Committee. It is up 227 from the 2,200 figure that has been used since President Eisenhower mentioned it in his State of the Union message to Congress in January.

Young submitted a table showing that among the 2,427 security risks who were fired or who resigned there were 383 persons whose files contained something of a subversive nature. But he said these 383 were not necessarily subversives or Communists.

"There is no figure in the table," he said, "that include the number of disloyal persons."

The CSC head told reporters he knows of no way of finding out whether subversion was the controlling factor in the separation of the 383 from government service.

Democrats have been complaining that the Republicans have been trying to convince the people that most of the security risks removed from government were Reds or subversives left behind by the Truman administration.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) once said he had information that 90 per cent of the security risks separated from the government were either Communists or sex perverts.

State Senate Crushes Bill On Utilities Shares Tax

Vote Is 20 To 9 On Measure; Bond Bills Back To Committee

ANNAPOLIS, March 2 (AP) — The Senate crushed today Del. Whitworth's plan to redistribute the utilities shares tax by taking away more than three-million dollars from Baltimore City and three counties and giving it to the other 20 counties.

The vote was 20-9 on a motion to throw out an unfavorable committee report on the measure.

Before the vote, Sen. Kimble (R-Allegany) argued for the bill but scathingly denounced Whitworth as "a politician devoid of ethics."

He accused his fellow Allegany countian of falsely telling Cumberland newspapers Kimble was not doing his best to promote the bill.

Whitworth has been mentioned as a probably candidate for state senator against Kimble in the June primary.

Recommit Bond Bills

Action on the Whitworth plan came after the senators took two giant steps backward on fiscal legislation by recommitting the $7,800,000 bond bill and a State office building bill to the Finance Committee.

This resulted from a grand snafu in last night's session, when both measures were tentatively approved. At the time, the senators mistakenly believed the House of Delegates already had approved the budget bill. The constitution provides that no money measures can legally be considered until the budget has passed both Houses.

Partly for the same reason, Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) failed to advance his 90-million-dollar veterans bonus bill, which was reported out of the committee favorably, 8-4.

Some anti-bonus senators, fretful of losing veterans' votes in this election year, would prefer to keep the proposal from reaching a point where they would have to stand up and be counted on it.

Backtrack On Measure

Bonus backers in the House also had to backtrack with their bill. They forced it through second reading last night only to learn it was invalid because it had no right to precede the budget. So they had it recommitted to the Ways and Means Committee to lose ground.

The House threw a bone of contention into the closing days by renewing its quest for less taxes on gross receipts of railroads. It put back an amendment to decrease the railroad tax starting in 1956 on Gov. McKeldin's plan to collect the levy twice during the next fiscal year.

The Senate refused to accept the railroad cut, so conference committees were named to bargain. And the budget, main reason for the session, can't be passed finally until the gross receipts bill is finished. The budget is hanging in the House one vote away from enactment.

The double tax collection will provide the five million dollars needed to balance the budget.

The Senate earlier had ignored the House bill on gross receippts amended to help railroads. Instead, it passed its own version leaving out the railroads. The House, in turn, stuck the amendment back on the Senate bill and sent it back with a 96-4 vote.

GMAC Reports Increased Income

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—General Motors Acceptance Corp., the automobile financing subsidiary of General Motors Corp., today reported net income for 1953 climbed to $28,626,359 compared with $21,062,683 in 1952. The company paid a cash dividend of 15 million dollars on capital stock last year, compared with 10 million in 1952.

Puerto Rico Gov. Protests "Outrage" Against Congress

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico today assured President Eisenhower that "all Puerto Ricans" protest against "this outrage" — the shooting of five members of Congress by Puerto Rican terrorists.

The governor called at the White House shortly after arriving by plane from Puerto Rico.

He told reporters he wanted to assure the President that there has been "a great protest by all Puerto Ricans against this outrage."

Referring to the episode as "tragic and horrible," the governor said he also told the President that "the four who engaged in this lunacy were members of a very tiny group of terrorists" numbering less than 500 as compared to Puerto Rico's total population of 2¼ million.

Pope Observes 78th Birthday

VATICAN CITY, March 2 (AP)—Pope Pius XII today quietly observed the double anniversary of his 78th birthday and the 15th of his reign. Messages from far and near arrived to express wishes for his full recovery.

The pontiff spent the day in the solitude of his Vatican palace apartment, where a stubborn abdominal ailment has confined him for the last 36 days.

No official word of his progress was issued today, following yesterday's report by L'Osservatore Romano that the Pope's general condition was "good." But Vatican sources said the slow improvement of the last four days continued.

The white and golden flags of this tiny 108-acre state of Vatican City, of which the Pope is sovereign, were unfurled in honor of the double anniversary.

The Pope received only a few members of his family, among them Prince Carlo Pacelli, councillor of the state of Vatican City.

This morning the Pope listened to mass, celebrated at a portable altar near his bedside by one of his private secretaries. Then he received Msgr. Domenico Tardini, Vatican pro-secretary of state for extraordinary affairs, who presented the cabled and telegraphed messages of greetings and wishes for his recovery and also told the pontiff of countless prayers being offered for his recovery by millions of Catholics throughout the world.

Six Navy Men Killed In Collision Of Two Helicopters

KEY WEST, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Two helicopters on an anti-submarine training exercise collided in flight today and crashed in flames, killing all six Navy men aboard.

The whirlybirds were only 100 feet off the ground when the accident occurred about a mile from downtown Key West.

One helicopter appeared to slide into the other while making a turn just above Fleming Key.

The wreckage was a mass of flames by the time two Navy foam tanks and two Navy pumpers reached the scene. A derrick had to be used to get at some of the charred bodies.

Skiers Are Killed

MUNICH, Germany, March 2 (AP)—Three Munich skiers were killed today in an avalanche which struck at the Lahnerkopf peak in the Tegernsee Alps near here.

Boy, 6, Is Killed By Truck Wheels

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Six-year-old Leslie Robertson, returning to school after a week's illness, was crushed to death under the wheels of a truck on heavily-traveled Fleet Street in East Baltimore today.

The driver of the truck that hit the boy was stricken by a heart attack a short time later while police were questioning him.

The death led witnesses and residents of the neighborhood to complain of the volume of traffic on Fleet Street, which many children must cross on the way to school.

Miss Harriet Kerchoff, principal of William Fell School which the boy attended, said uniformed school crossing guards frequently have difficulty in stopping the heavy traffic so they can shepherd their charges across the intersection.

A request for a signal light at Fleet and Wolfe streets, Miss Kerchoff said, was denied. No funds.

The driver of the truck was identified as William Griffith, 38, of Baltimore.

118 Persons Tossed Into Egypt's Jails

CAIRO, Egypt, March 2 (AP)—President Mohamed Naguib returned from Khartoum today to Cairo, where the military government tossed 118 persons into jail in connection with Sunday's riotous pro-Naguib demonstrations.

Almost half the 118 were members of the outlawed fanatical Moslem Brotherhood, but others included Communist, Socialist and Wafdist party members.

A source close to the military regime, which had deposed Naguib and then put him back in the presidency last week, said eight army officers were under arrest on charges of Communist activities.

The informant said the eight would be brought before the Revolutionary Tribunal — the military court which has been trying former high officials on charges of corruption and treason during the regime of the ousted King Farouk.

The Moslem brothers and Communists were active in the demonstrations Saturday night and Sunday in which 13 persons were wounded by gunfire.

The police had taken prompt action to maintain order in Cairo after popular pressure had put Naguib back into the presidency but not the premiership. The office was retained by Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, the young army officer who is also chairman of the Revolutionary Council which rules Egypt.

Naguib, as the popular front man for the government, had been sent to Khartoum, capital of the Sudan, to build up additional pro-Egyptian sentiment. He is a native of the Sudan. But his visit was marked by violence yesterday in which 31 persons lost their lives.

Naguib had gone to Kartoum to attend the opening of the Sudan's first Parliament. The violence caused postponement until March 10 and Naguib told newsmen he planned to return on that date "if circumstances permit."

Nation's Traffic Death History Being Repeated

CHICAGO, March 2 (AP)—The nation's recent traffic death history is being repeated.

The National Safety Council today reported there were 2,900 motor vehicle fatalities in January—the same number as in January, 1953.

The council said the toll was reduced 14 per cent in cities in January, but the reduction was offset by a rise in fatal accidents in rural areas.

Minister Succumbs

LONDON, March 2 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Assen Kirilov Grekov, Bulgaria's assistant minister of national defense, died today after a long illness, Sofia radio reported.

Mitchell's Wife Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, March 2 (AP)—Jackie Loughery, Miss U.S.A. in the 195- Miss Universe beauty contest, today divorced singer Guy Mitchell on testimony he told her she was in the way in Europe last year.

The red-haired beauty, 22, told Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch she was supposed to accompany Mitchell, 27, on European appearances but he refused to take her. He didn't write or call her, she said, so she went over to find out why.

"He told me he didn't want me there—that I was in the way," she testified. "I came back, but he never got in touch with me again."

A property settlement gives her $1,500 a month alimony for three years and $20,000 in community property. She said the couple married here Oct. 26, 1952, separated last Sept. 22.

Aging Begins When Growth Stops, Doctor Discovers

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Teenagers and young adults seem to hold the secrets of how we might live longer, Dr. Albert I. Lansing, an expert on aging, said today.

He finds that aging apparently starts the moment we stop growing.

Just what the mystery of aging is, and how to delay it, might best be learned by comparing teenagers, who are still growing, and young adults, who have just stopped growing, he said.

Dr. Lansing, of Washington University of Medicine, St. Louis, spoke at a symposium on gerontology, the science of aging, sponsored by the Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health, and the National Vitamin Foundation.

Part of the evidence that aging begins abruptly when growth stops comes from rotifers, which are microscopic, wheel-shaped pond organisms.

Normally, rotifers live about 24 days.

But the life span can be doubled, tripled or quadrupled by selecting only eggs from adolescent mothers and allowing them to continue a family or line of rotifers, he said.

The young, still-growing mothers give their offspring some tendency for longer life. These adolescent mothers either do not have the mysterious aging factor, or it is not operating in them. The aging factor is not genetic, or set by heredity, Dr. Lansing said. Rather it is something which appears when growth stops.

State Senate Crushes Bill On Utilities Shares Tax

The governor called at the White House shortly after arriving by plane from Puerto Rico.

He told reporters he wanted to assure the President that there has been "a great protest by all Puerto Ricans against this outrage."

Referring to the episode as "tragic and horrible," the governor said he also told the President that "the four who engaged in this lunacy were members of a very tiny group of terrorists" numbering less than 500 as compared to Puerto Rico's total population of 2¼ million.

Pope Observes 78th Birthday

VATICAN CITY, March 2 (AP)—Pope Pius XII today quietly observed the double anniversary of his 78th birthday and the 15th of his reign. Messages from far and near arrived to express wishes for his full recovery.

The pontiff spent the day in the solitude of his Vatican palace apartment, where a stubborn abdominal ailment has confined him for the last 36 days.

No official word of his progress was issued today, following yesterday's report by L'Osservatore Romano that the Pope's general condition was "good." But Vatican sources said the slow improvement of the last four days continued.

The white and golden flags of this tiny 108-acre state of Vatican City, of which the Pope is sovereign, were unfurled in honor of the double anniversary.

The Pope received only a few members of his family, among them Prince Carlo Pacelli, councillor of the state of Vatican City.

This morning the Pope listened to mass, celebrated at a portable altar near his bedside by one of his private secretaries. Then he received Msgr. Domenico Tardini, Vatican pro-secretary of state for extraordinary affairs, who presented the cabled and telegraphed messages of greetings and wishes for his recovery and also told the pontiff of countless prayers being offered for his recovery by millions of Catholics throughout the world.

Six Navy Men Killed In Collision Of Two Helicopters

KEY WEST, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Two helicopters on an anti-submarine training exercise collided in flight today and crashed in flames, killing all six Navy men aboard.

The whirlybirds were only 100 feet off the ground when the accident occurred about a mile from downtown Key West.

One helicopter appeared to slide into the other while making a turn just above Fleming Key.

The wreckage was a mass of flames by the time two Navy foam tanks and two Navy pumpers reached the scene. A derrick had to be used to get at some of the charred bodies.

Skiers Are Killed

MUNICH, Germany, March 2 (AP)—Three Munich skiers were killed today in an avalanche which struck at the Lahnerkopf peak in the Tegernsee Alps near here.

GMAC Reports Increased Income

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—General Motors Acceptance Corp., the automobile financing subsidiary of General Motors Corp., today reported net income for 1953 climbed to $28,626,359 compared with $21,062,683 in 1952. The company paid a cash dividend of 15 million dollars on capital stock last year, compared with 10 million in 1952.

118 Persons Tossed Into Egypt's Jails

CAIRO, Egypt, March 2 (AP)—President Mohamed Naguib returned from Khartoum today to Cairo, where the military government tossed 118 persons into jail in connection with Sunday's riotous pro-Naguib demonstrations.

Almost half the 118 were members of the outlawed fanatical Moslem Brotherhood, but others included Communist, Socialist and Wafdist party members.

A source close to the military regime, which had deposed Naguib and then put him back in the presidency last week, said eight army officers were under arrest on charges of Communist activities.

The informant said the eight would be brought before the Revolutionary Tribunal — the military court which has been trying former high officials on charges of corruption and treason during the regime of the ousted King Farouk.

The Moslem brothers and Communists were active in the demonstrations Saturday night and Sunday in which 13 persons were wounded by gunfire.

The police had taken prompt action to maintain order in Cairo after popular pressure had put Naguib back into the presidency but not the premiership. The office was retained by Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, the young army officer who is also chairman of the Revolutionary Council which rules Egypt.

Naguib, as the popular front man for the government, had been sent to Khartoum, capital of the Sudan, to build up additional pro-Egyptian sentiment. He is a native of the Sudan. But his visit was marked by violence yesterday in which 31 persons lost their lives.

Naguib had gone to Kartoum to attend the opening of the Sudan's first Parliament. The violence caused postponement until March 10 and Naguib told newsmen he planned to return on that date "if circumstances permit."

Boy, 6, Is Killed By Truck Wheels

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Six-year-old Leslie Robertson, returning to school after a week's illness, was crushed to death under the wheels of a truck on heavily-traveled Fleet Street in East Baltimore today.

The driver of the truck that hit the boy was stricken by a heart attack a short time later while police were questioning him.

The death led witnesses and residents of the neighborhood to complain of the volume of traffic on Fleet Street, which many children must cross on the way to school.

Miss Harriet Kerchoff, principal of William Fell School which the boy attended, said uniformed school crossing guards frequently have difficulty in stopping the heavy traffic so they can shepherd their charges across the intersection.

A request for a signal light at Fleet and Wolfe streets, Miss Kerchoff said, was denied. No funds.

The driver of the truck was identified as William Griffith, 38, of Baltimore.

Witnesses said Griffith helped carry the small victim to the sidewalk after the accident, then suddenly began screaming, apparently from emotional shock.

Nation's Traffic Death History Being Repeated

CHICAGO, March 2 (AP)—The nation's recent traffic death history is being repeated.

The National Safety Council today reported there were 2,900 motor vehicle fatalities in January—the same number as in January, 1953.

The council said the toll was reduced 14 per cent in cities in January, but the reduction was offset by a rise in fatal accidents in rural areas.

Minister Succumbs

LONDON, March 2 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Assen Kirilov Grekov, Bulgaria's assistant minister of national defense, died today after a long illness, Sofia radio reported.

Mitchell's Wife Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, March 2 (AP)—Jackie Loughery, Miss U.S.A. in the 1954 Miss Universe beauty contest, today divorced singer Guy Mitchell on testimony he told her she was in the way in Europe last year.

The red-haired beauty, 22, told Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch she was supposed to accompany Mitchell, 27, on European appearances but he refused to take her. He didn't write or call her, she said, so she went over to find out why.

"He told me he didn't want me there—that I was in the way," she testified. "I came back, but he never got in touch with me again."

A property settlement gives her $1,500 a month alimony for three years and $20,000 in community property. She said the couple married here Oct. 26, 1952, separated last Sept. 22.

Aging Begins When Growth Stops, Doctor Discovers

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Teenagers and young adults seem to hold the secrets of how we might live longer, Dr. Albert I. Lansing, an expert on aging, said today.

He finds that aging apparently starts the moment we stop growing.

Just what the mystery of aging is, and how to delay it, might best be learned by comparing teenagers, who are still growing, and young adults, who have just stopped growing, he said.

Dr. Lansing, of Washington University of Medicine, St. Louis, spoke at a symposium on gerontology, the science of aging, sponsored by the Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health, and the National Vitamin Foundation.

Part of the evidence that aging begins abruptly when growth stops comes from rotifers, which are microscopic, wheel-shaped pond organisms.

Normally, rotifers live about 24 days.

But the life span can be doubled, tripled or quadrupled by selecting only eggs from adolescent mothers and allowing them to continue a family or line of rotifers, he said.

The young, still-growing mothers give their offspring some tendency for longer life. These adolescent mothers either do not have the mysterious aging factor, or it is not operating in them. The aging factor is not genetic, or set by heredity, Dr. Lansing said. Rather it is something which appears when growth stops.

THE GROWING TREND IN MOTORING

There's a very special pride in owning a 1954 Lincoln

You almost instinctively know the nature of the man who owns a Lincoln. He likes his living modern and his driving the same. He prefers simple, functional design to flash and bulk. He enjoys modern combinations of colors in his car as well as in his home.

He wants his car to express his taste, not his pocketbook.

That's why he owns the new Lincoln for 1954.

When he steps into this fine car he knows he will have complete control and superb performance. He commands Lincoln's world-famous V-8 engine with its new 4-barrel carburetor which gives that extra surge when he needs it. He has complete confidence on curves and rough roads because he knows he rides in the only automobile in the fine car field with ball-joint front suspension.

The Lincoln owner believes in and gets convenience. His lightest touch operates Lincoln's optional features—power steering, power brakes, the 4-way power seat, and electric power window lifts.

Only by driving and then owning the new Lincoln for 1954 can you feel that very special pride. We invite you to take the first step by trying a new 1954 Lincoln or Lincoln Capri today.

Performance proof: Lincoln again won 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places over all stock cars in the 1,912-mile Mexican Pan-American Road Race.

State Prepares For Polio Tests In Montgomery

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—The State Health Department has announced the selection of Montgomery County as site for a polio vaccine test this spring.

Under the program, about 15,000 first, second and third grade children whose parents file a request will be inoculated.

Maryland is among 11 states conducting the test to determine whether or not a vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk is effective in preventing polio among human beings.

Inoculations are currently being given in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Robert H. Riley, director of the State Health Department, stressed that there is no scientific proof as yet that the vaccine will work.

He said the work is still in the stage of clinical investigation.

Selection of Montgomery County as one of the first areas in the nation for polio vaccine trials was welcomed today by Dr. V. L. Ellicott, county health officer, and Charles Davidson, chairman of the Montgomery County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Dr. Ellicott, who said that the trials will begin March 29 at Rockville Elementary School, explained that forms for parents to request that their children participate in the trials will be provided through the schools.

A planning meeting, scheduled for 4 p.m. tomorrow at the county health department, will be attended by representatives of the county medical Society, which has already gone on record as endorsing the trials. Also at the meeting will be representatives of the Elementary Schools Principals Assn., the Montgomery County Council of Parent Teachers Assn. and the National Foundation.

Violent Flareups Are Not New To Halls Of Congress

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—No one could get into the House gallery today without a special pass, signed by his representative.

The objective, of course, is to prevent a recurrence of yesterday's shooting, in which four Puerto Rican fanatics wounded five congressmen.

Down through the years there have been a number of violent flareups in the halls of Congress, though none quite like yesterday's.

Historically visitors who have turned into potential killers have in most cases fallen into these general categories:

(1) Fanatics, like the Puerto Ricans.

(2) Mental cases, like the man who waved a gun around in the House gallery in December, 1932, and said he wanted to make a speech on how to end the depression. Rep. Melvin Maas (R-Minn) coolly talked him into dropping the gun.

(3) The disgruntled, who feel they have some sort of personal peeve.

Into the third classification falls the July 12, 1947 attack on Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio). A former Capitol policeman fired two shots that missed.

And in March, 1921, Sen. Charles B. Henderson (D-Nev) was shot through the arm by a man who felt he had been wronged in a Nevada land deal.

Of the thousands of men elected senators and representatives, the record shows only one actually killed at the Capitol.

In 1890, Rep. William P. Taulbee (D-Ky), a onetime Methodist minister, complained bitterly of stories written by Charles E. Kincaid, a Louisville reporter. The two met on a House stairway, and, according to one version, Taulbee grabbed Kincaid by the ear. In the scuffle, Taulbee was shot through the head. He died 10 days later.

Quarrels between congressmen have been more frequent, if not so disastrous.

The worst: In 1856 Sen. Charles Sumner (R-Mass), a strong anti-slaveryman, made a speech attacking the Kansas-Nebraska bill and its authors, Stephen A. Douglas and Andrew P. Butler.

Rep. Preston Brooks of South Carolina felt this was a libel on his state and on Butler, a relative of his. He followed Sumner into the Senate chamber and pounded him with a cane until he fell senseless.

The beating was so brutal Sumner was absent from the Senate for three years.

Recent congressional fights have consisted mostly of shoving and pushing. Such as the brief but lively engagement in 1949 between two representatives now dead, Gene Cox of Georgia and Adolph Sabath of Illinois. Glasses got knocked off, and that was about all.

Defense Depends On Europe's Troops

LONDON, March 2 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill's government warned today that the defense of Britain depends on "a firm defensive shield in Europe," including West German troops.

Opening a two-day House of Commons debate on the government's new 1½ billion pound — ($4,200,000,000) defense budget, Parliamentary Defense Secretary Nigel Birch said atomic air power alone "cannot prevent armies advancing unless they are opposed by conventional ground forces."

Which wasn't surprising considering their ages: Cox 69, Sabath 83.

But their tempers, sir, remained in fighting trim.

Government Was Foxed This Time

ATLANTA, March 2 (AP)—In 1946, Jasper, a north Georgia mountain town of 1,380, borrowed $2,890 from the Federal Works Agency as an advance against the cost of a sewerage system.

The money hasn't been repaid so the government sued to recover it. Mayor Sherman G. Gartrell wrote to point out the agreement called for repayment after the start of work. And, said his honor, work hasn't started so why all the fuss.

Government attorneys investigated and found the mayor spoke truly so the action was dropped. If Uncle Sam will just hold his horses——.

Investigate Report Prisoner Is Beaten In Hagerstown Jail

HAGERSTOWN, March 2 (AP) — State's Attorney John S. Hollyday said today he is investigating reports that a prisoner was badly beaten by an officer in the Washington County Jail.

Testimony of other inmates indicates, Hollyday said, that the beaten prisoner was intoxicated at the time.

The prisoner, John R. (Red) Carbaugh, 35, serving a six-month term for larceny, was treated at the Washington County Hospital for lacerations of the face and scalp. The state's attorney said the wounds were inflicted by a deputy sheriff he would not name.

Communism In The Americas

A major concern of the U. S. delegation to the 10th Inter-American Conference at Caracas will be the stand there taken by the assembled American states against infiltration of the Western Hemisphere by international communism. When the agenda was drawn up in Washington in November, "intervention of international communism in the American republics" was included, over the objection of Guatemala.

Foreign Minister Toriello of Guatemala in an interview published February 12 insisted that his government was not Communist, and that the Communists were only one of several groups backing the government program. But John M. Cabot, former U. S. assistant secretary of state for Latin affairs and confirmed Monday as ambassador to Sweden, last October asserted publicly that Guatemala was "openly playing the Communist game."

Ironically enough, the present position of the American states on communism stems from an original proposal by Guatemala. At the Mexico City Conference of 1945, the delegation of the Guatemalan government then in power submitted a "project" designed to prevent the establismhent of undemocratic regimes in the American republics. As the outgrowth of this project, the agenda for the Ninth Inter-American Conference included a topic on "Defense and Preservation of Democracy in America against the Possible Establishment of Anti-Democratic Regimes in the Continent."

The United States, Chile, Brazil, and Peru at that conference, held at Bogota, Colombia, in 1948, presented a draft resolution dealing with international communism. This was termed "diametrically opposed to liberty" and leading "to totalitarian control, to a denial of the dignity of man, to the end of civil rights and civil liberty and to eventual subjugation to a foreign power."

Guatemala, despite the fact that the present regime was by then in power, withdrew its approval. The delegation of the Venezuelan government of that time urged extension of the draft resolution to include totalitarianism of the right. The U. S.-backed draft was then adopted as Resolution XXXII of the Bogota Conference.

In it, the American republics resolved:

"To adopt within their respective territories and in accordance with their respective constitutional provision, the measures necessary to eradicate and prevent activities directed, assisted, or instigated by foreign governments, organizations, or individuals tending to overthrow their institutions by violence, to foment disorder in their domestic political life, or to disturb, by means of pressure, subversive propaganda, threats or by any other means, the free and sovereign right of their peoples to govern themselves in accordance with their democratic aspirations."

The Guatemalan government entered no reservation to the final resolution. It also approved a resolution adopted by American foreign ministers in Washington in April 1951. This measure attacked communism in specific security terms, recommending that each government "examine its respective laws and regulations . . . to assure that subversive activities of agents of international communism directed against any of them may be adequately prevented and punished."

The problem now is to reaffirm and tighten these pronouncements in the face of the new opposition of Guatemala without appearing to interfere in the affairs of any individual state.

McCarthy Unique

Nothing else quite like the phenomenon that is Joseph Raymond McCarthy has popped up on the American political stage in recent years. Plenty of members of Congress have put on one-man rebellions, but almost always have (1) seemed only cantankerous by nature, or (2) broken with their parties (Sen. Morse of Oregon, for example), or (3) gone off the reservation in order to further a particular bill or program, or (4) amassed little political strength except in a certain area or in a certain stratum of the population.

Senator McCarthy, however, seems to enjoy much support among many strata for what his admirers call his crusade. This crusade isn't so much to build up a positive new program as to get rid of something —Communists and pro-Communists in the government.

Moreover, the junior senator from Wisconsin is technically in good standing in his party. He has gone out of his way to praise President Eisenhower and has voted with the Administration more often than against it.

McCarthy is sometimes likened to the late Huey Long, but perhaps the only outstanding similarity between the two on the political stage is that most other senators shied away from tangling with either. The Southern spellbinder had a positive program of "sharing the wealth" and "making every man a king;" on everything else Long gave the impression of being in opposition just for the sake of being in opposition.

He abused President Roosevelt, was cold-shouldered by the Democratic party leaders, held no post of influence in the Senate, shirked congressional labors (whereas McCarthy is a hard worker), declared shortly before his assassination in 1935 that he would bolt the party if FDR was renominated. By way of contrast, McCarthy was recently sent on a nationwide speaking tour by the Republican National Committee.

Hilly And Cloudy

The floor of the Atlantic Ocean is two and a half miles down, 120 miles west of Dakar, France, hilly, and the water is cloudy. Two French naval officers are authority for this. They went down 13,284 feet —a record depth—in the bathyscaphe FNRS-3.

Their feat establishes as fact that man now has an effective instrument for the first time that can be used to explore the depths of the oceans.

The bathyscaphe is described as a diving sphere attached to a steel float filled with a liquid lighter than water. A vertical lock chamber, through which the crew enters, is filled with water and the craft begins to sink. It rises when the crew releases enough ballast to give it buoyancy. Battery-powered motors provide horizontal movement.

Help In Parkinsonism

"Pill rolling" tremor is one of the symptoms of Parkinson's disease, also called parkinsonism, paralysis agitans, and shaking palsy. The term is descriptive of the manner in which pharmacists of a generation ago molded a pill between the thumb and index finger, to make it round and smooth.

Tremor of one hand or the other usually begins as a quivering or slight stiffness that comes and goes for no apparent reason. Some days, shaking is worse than at other times and it is more noticeable when sitting quietly. Head nodding may co-exist. These tremors are associated with muscular stiffness and the victim finds it difficult to walk, rise from a chair, use the hands, and turn over in bed. Speech becomes blurred, chewing is difficult, and drooling is common. Stiffness also leads to bodily discomfort, restlessness, and fatigue. Later, there are emotional changes such as apprehension and fear. Many victims are wound up internally, in contrast to their facial expression which is fixed and staring.

Most sufferers develop the disease late in life due to degeneration of a nerve center at the base of the brain. It is part of the arteriosclerotic process and the nerve structures are affected by the change in circulation. When the disease appears earlier in life, it usually is traceable to a brain infection such as encephalitis (sleeping sickness). In some instances, encephalitis occurs as a complication in chicken pox, mumps, measles, or influenza. Many physicians believe that when an individual develops parkinsonism for no apparent reason, he must have had an attack of encephalitis that was so mild it was overlooked.

Parkinson's disease has been subjected to considerable research but so far, the only remedies have been drugs that reduce tremor and relax stiff muscles. Pagitane is one of the latest. Doctors Kenneth Magee and Russell De Jong of the University of Michigan, used this product on 61 patients. In 28 (46 per cent), more relief followed than with any other medication used previously. In the series, 25 per cent more were helped but the benefits derived were on a par with the effect of older products. These physicians reemphasized the adage that one patient derives great benefit from a particular compound while another finds the same substance ineffective. Other helpful drugs include artane, tolserol, benadryl, and rabellon. Variety is welcome because most of the victims develop a tolerance to one or all of these preparations. A multiplicity of remedies allows the physician to prescribe one and then another, as needed.

Former Italian Army Officer Points To Dangers Of Politics In Army; Col. Robert R. McCormick Tells McCarthy To Lay Off

WASHINGTON — A former officer of the Italian army was sitting with a group of senators when the question of Secretary Stevens' capitulation to Senator McCarthy came up. McCarthy had been quoted as saying: "If you want a commission in the Army I can fix it up for you."

"I doubt if you Americans realize what politics can do to an army," the Italian said. "I was a young captain in the Italian army when the Fascists took it over, and I know what politics did.

"It creeps in very subtly before anyone realizes it. An inferoir officer who's a lieutenant is promoted to be a captain, simply because he's a friend of the Fascist regime. Or again, I remember I once ordered a lieutenant to take over a work detail and he refused. He said he was busy making out reports on the army for the Fascist party.

"Some people have criticized the Italian army for caving in during the war," continued the former officer. "Politics was the reason. An army doesn't fight when it's run on political lines."

Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, who was listening, remarked: "I just received a telegram from a friend calling attention to the fact that the Egyptian army had kicked out its premier, the Syrian army had kicked out its president, and McCarthy had driven a political wedge in the American army all in the same day."

"It may seem far-fetched to you," concluded the Italian ex-captain, "but once political leader begins to dominate an army the line between free government and a totalitarian government becomes very thin indeed."

Army Politics

Judging from current resentment against McCarthy in the Army there should be no early danger of his taking over. However, officers recalled last week how Maj. Gen. Cornelius Ryan, commander of the 19th Infantry at Fort Dix had phoned Secretary of the Army Stevens to complain that McCarthy's office had been bombarding him to get special privileges for McCarthy's ex-aide, Gerard David Schine.

"General," replied Secretary Stevens, "this is one you've got to handle yourself."

Officers also recalled last week that when Col. Frances Kreidel, commander of the Provost Marshal School at Camp Gordon, Ga., had protested against Schine's transfer to his school without sufficient qualifications, Kreidel was suddenly transferred to Tokyo.

Under Army Regulation 615-215-1, no one is admitted to the Provost Marshal School without attaining the rank of corporal or higher, and without being in a Class 1 or Class 2 physical condition. Schine is in Class 3, has been in the Army only four months, and is a private.

Despite this, Senator McCarthy arranged for his ex-staff member to ride roughshod over Army regulations and transfer from Fort Dix basic training to the provost Marshal's School regular Army channels. But the transfer was ordered by Secretary of the Army Stevens himself.

And when the commander of the provost Marshal School objected, he was transferred.

No wonder McCarthy boasted to friends: "If you want a commission in the Army I can fix it up for you."

Merry-Go-Round

Remarked Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona apropos of the way the four Republican senators got Secretary Stevers to surrender: "They've been watching these Communists so closely that they've learned how to brain-wash." . . . Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune amazed Washington by publishing a front-page editorial at the height of the Stevens-McCarthy controversy telling McCarthy to lay off the Army. McCormick and McCarthy are old friends and the Chicago Tribune is one of Joe's stanchest backers, but first and last "The Colonel" is an Army man . . . It was because Senator Langer voted with the Democrats to adjourn the Senate rather than hold a night session that Majority Leader Knowland proposed that the committee chairman no longer be picked by seniority. He was aiming of course at Langer . . . Knowland seemed to resent Langer's vote against a night session more than Langer's investigation of Chief Justice Earl Warren . . . His colleagues say that Senator Dirksen of Illinois who did the chief job of sweet-talking Secretary Stevens into surrender, is such a good salesman he could talk a hornets nest out of a tree.

Efficient Lyndon

Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas has developed one of the smoothest machines in recent Democratic history. Colleagues agree that while it isn't always right it certainly is smooth.

It was this machine that brought defeat to the Republicans when Democrats overrode Senator Knowland's plan to hold night sessions on the Bricker Amendment. Every Democrat was in his seat at the right moment and voting, except for two—Symington of Missouri, who was in Europe, and McCarran of Nevada, who was sick.

Johnson had gone around to almost all Democrats and said: "I don't think it's fair to hold night sessions so early in the session. We've cooperated on everything else, but the older senators can't be here at night. Senator George can't get here, and I think we'll just have to ask the Republicans to get their work done in the daytime."

Johnson held no caucus, though a caucus is customary. He hasn't held a single caucus this year, partly because he's afraid some of his Democratic opponents, of which he has plenty, will take him over the hurdles. Instead of caucusing, he goes around to see each senator person . . . It's more work, but you can't get around the fact that the gentleman from Texas is efficient.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Doctors Need Sense

I heard a story the other day of two young people about to have their first child. The family doctor in their community rejects bringing babies into the world, insisting on an obstetrician. This is, to me, astonishing, for babies have come into life, lo! these thousands of years, with or without the aid of doctors, midwives or medicine men. It used to be the pride of the fine, old American doctor that all the young people in the community and their children were the products of his skill.

However, we live in an age of specialization in which the mechanic who turns a screw does not use a chisel, so these young things were sent off to the obstetrician, who is nowadays a specialist in what used to be called midwifery. There were no complications in the case, except the fee asked, which was $750, including prior and after treatment. The young people were bankruped by their first child.

Maybe this sort of thing is unusual. I have no way of knowing. That it is anti-social is obvious because our society cannot be strong if birth is limited by the cost of doctors. It is also a very bad thing for the medical profession, which nowadays has become suspect not of fee-splitting but of charging too much, of involving patients in the expense of multiple specialists, of operative costs which may not be necessary. The public criticism may be all wrong, but the doctors have not succeeded in establishing their case.

I have become interested in two illnesses, diabetes and hyperinsulinism, which I pursue in the professional literature as well as in the news. I find that too often the general practitioner rarely has knowledge of hyperinsulinism, making no tests for it and telling the patient that he finds nothing wrong, but in the end the patient takes an overdose of sleeping pills out of sheer fatigue. I find, by talking to patients, that too few dentists realize the real dangers of pyorrhea and dislike sending patients to peridontists. I note the literature on the subject and find that reconstructive dentistry is a science that only the rich and poor can afford; the poor in the clinics, the rich by paying the enormous costs.

Nevertheless, it is true that if a person can afford a combination of periodontist, an oral surgeon and a reconstructive dentist, he is likely to keep his teeth most of his life. If all of us knew about it, whom to go to, and could afford to pay the costs, we probably would never have to use upper and lower plates, which are a curse and an abomination.

The point of the matter is that much that is published in medical and dental journals does not find its way to the people in language which they can understand and that often physicians and dentists are too busy grubbing for a livelihood to keep up-to-date, with the result that unless the patient is sent to the specialist, he does not get the best advice and the best treatment. The specialist costs too much, even if he cures; the patient does not have the money to pay but is too well off to be accepted at a clinic. The various health insurance devices do not solve this problem because the amounts allowed for doctors or hospitals are inadequate and the patient may not have the money to make up the difference. Also, some companies cancel health insurance policies when the insured need their services. This is morally wrong if legally right.

The solution, of course, is for hospitals to employ staffs of physicians, specialists and dentists of the highest fitness for the services of whom the patient can pay a single fee to the hospital. This is violently opposed by the various associations as unethical corporate practice. The motivation for the opposition is financial. After all, many of the most important medical institutions in this country, including the Mayo Clinic, do operate that way without being unethical.

The doctors have to recognize that every human being is interested in his own health and while no one expects doctors to work for too little, doctors cannot afford to out-price their services beyond the ability of most of the people to pay.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The Communist infiltration forces in the United States, attempting to use Puerto Rican fanatics as a front, have been checkmated in their plot to assassinate President Eisenhower and J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

For several weeks the existence of this assignment, as given to Puerto Rican agents in New York, has been known here but it was not expected that an effort would be made to shoot up Congress.

The connection between the Puerto Rican Nationalists and the Communists has been well established for some time. As early as July 1943, the American Communist party issued a statement which said in part:

"We pledge our full support to the Nationalist party of Puerto Rico and to the complete unification of all the people of Puerto Rico and their various parties around the supreme task of achieving full nationhood.

Laid To Communists

"We will fulfill our pledge by rallying the people and particularly the labor movement of our country to Puerto Rican independence as a necessary pre-condition to correct relations with all Latin America . . . as an acid test of the Atlantic Charter. Puerto Rico must and will be free."

Within 60 days after the attempt to assassinate President Truman, the convention of the National Committee of the American Communist Party on December 28, 1950, in New York City—the last of the Communist party conclaves to be held—had in it a Puerto Rican Communist delegation and this declaration was made:

"We place the responsibility for the bloodshed on Harry S. Truman and on his watchdog—Munoz-Marin (present governor)."

The resident commissioner of Puerto Rico in Congress, A. Fernosisern, who has a seat but no vote, declared after the attempt to shoot up the U. S. House of Representatives that the whole thing was a "Communist plot" because even the extreme Nationalists knew there was no real issue about Puerto Rican independence. For commonwealth status has been granted, and the decision as to severance of all ties with the United States is in the hands of the Puerto Rican voters themselves. So he concluded that something else entered into the situation—a Communist effort to produce disharmony.

Certainly as the Latin-American conference is about to convene in Venezuela, it is natural for the Communists to make a demonstration in the hope of convincing the Latin countries generally that the United States is oppressing a Spanish-inhabited country a—kind of "colonialism."

The shooting in the House chamber came as a shock in more ways than the dramatic occurrence itself would indicate on its face. For it suddenly awakened official Washington in all its branches to the fact that the Communist menace cannot be pooh-poohed. Those who have insisted that security measures hereabouts were superfluous now will feel differently about it, and the one place where there has been great laxity—in and around Congress—may at last get the protection it has always needed.

Dupes Of Communists

The Puerto Rican Nationalists, like their brethren in the fanatical fold in other countries, are dupes of the Communists. The Nationalists start out with an emotional crusade in the cause of freedom and independence and are egged on by Communist agents who furnish the money and the brains for intrigue.

At first it was discounted, for instance, that the Nationalists in Iran had any connection with the Communists. But later on the plot became clear. In Guatemala today, the Nationalists insist that they are on their own in their "anti-imperialist" campaigns which take the form of bitter anti-Americanism. But the Communists are in the background. The British government saw through the pretense when the same cry was raised in British Guiana.

For the Communists are fishing in troubled waters everywhere—in Egypt, Tunisia, Syria, French Morocco, India, Japan, the Philippines, Indonesia and, of course, in Indochina, where they have taken over the movement for independence from the French.

Nationalism is a spontaneous affair as a rule but the Communists furnish the guiding brains and supply the terrorists to complicate the situation. The murderous attack on the American Congress may have an effect opposite to that which Communist forces inside the United States counted on—it may stiffen the resistance and bring about the passage of even more restrictive measures than are now on the statute books with reference to the freedom of movement in America of Communists and fellow-travelers who play a part in the Communist infiltration techniques.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

ARCADIA, Calif. —(INS)— Racing is a major industry in the United States. It is the country's top sport. In 1952 it lured 28,849,451 co-conspirators to the horse-parks in the 24 states that permit it. Some $63,950,230 in purses were distributed to horsemen in 29,051 races. The racing states collected about $100,000,000 in taxes.

The thoroughbred game was virtually scandal-free. Its roots extend deeply into pre-Revolutionary days. George Washington was an enthusiast and owned a racing stable. Andrew Jackson kept his racers at the White House.

But during recent generations, racing stopped being the sport of kings in America. This is now the only country in the world where the top political figures in government studiously avoid being seen at a track.

It occasioned considerable surprise Saturday at golden Santa Anita when Goodwin J. Knight, governor of California, not only appeared for a day of racing that included the running of the rich Santa Anita Handicap, but consented to collaborate in a colorful ceremony.

During Earl Warren's long reign as governor he appeared only once at Santa Anita, though the state's department of finance was collecting millions of dollars a year—which, in turn was distributed to such beneficiaries as the University of California, Cal Tech, state employes' retirement fund, 4-H clubs, state fairs, agriculture studies and wildlife conservation programs.

Gov. Knight, accompanied by John A. Morris, president of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations, and Mrs. Morris, led a pre-race parade that was a delight to see. Seated in a landau, drawn by four handsome hackney ponies and heralded by a pink-coated trumpeter, the governor held at his side the glittering gold cup to be presented to the winner of the big race.

Behind his landau came a shooting cart hitched to two hackneys, a two-horse open phaeton, the Santa Anita wagon with its eight matched Belgians, and four spans of Belgians pulling harrows.

It brought back memories of another gold-splashed day at Epsom where the young queen, who walks with the proud erectness of a thoroughbred went on foot down part of the home stretch of the verdant course, to watch her colt Aureole saddled for the derby. With her walked her smiling mother and the courtly duke, and behind them a prominent horse-owner, resplendent in gray topper, Sir Winston Churchill.

But could you imagine Cal Coolidge at a race track? Or President Ike?

Speaking of foreign tracks and customs, don't think for an instant that the American visitor is not made welcome. At Chantilly, which looks like a park surrounding a fine and massive chateau, there is a long line of pari-mutuel windows. They range in prestige from the 100-franc window up through 200 francs, 500 francs, 1,000 francs and finally to a solitary window through which only 10,000 franc bets are made. And under the sign which reads: 10,000 fr. is a smaller sign on which is neatly printed:

English spoken.

It had to happen in Southern California, the way things have been going. They now favor the smog.

No kidding, the smog that recently shut down the airports, made highway driving perilous, caused millions of eyes to water and throats to bark was described in the local press as "smelling like garlic."

Probably all started from an incorrectly-mixed Caesar salad.

Communism In The Americas

A major concern of the U. S. delegation to the 10th Inter-American Conference at Caracas will be the stand there taken by the assembled American states against infiltration of the Western Hemisphere by international communism. When the agenda was drawn up in Washington in November, "intervention of international communism in the American republics" was included, over the objection of Guatemala.

Foreign Minister Toriello of Guatemala in an interview published February 12 insisted that his government was not Communist, and that the Communists were only one of several groups backing the government program. But John M. Cabot, former U. S. assistant secretary of state for Latin affairs and confirmed Monday as ambassador to Sweden, last October asserted publicly that Guatemala was "openly playing the Communist game."

Ironically enough, the present position of the American states on communism stems from an original proposal by Guatemala. At the Mexico City Conference of 1945, the delegation of the Guatemalan government then in power submitted a "project" designed to prevent the establismhent of undemocratic regimes in the American republics. As the outgrowth of this project, the agenda for the Ninth Inter-American Conference included a topic on "Defense and Preservation of Democracy in America against the Possible Establishment of Anti-Democratic Regimes in the Continent."

The United States, Chile, Brazil, and Peru at that conference, held at Bogota, Colombia, in 1948, presented a draft resolution dealing with international communism. This was termed "diametrically opposed to liberty" and leading "to totalitarian control, to a denial of the dignity of man, to the end of civil rights and civil liberty and to eventual subjugation to a foreign power."

Guatemala, despite the fact that the present regime was by then in power, withdrew its approval. The delegation of the Venezuelan government of that time urged extension of the draft resolution to include totalitarianism of the right. The U. S.-backed draft was then adopted as Resolution XXXII of the Bogota Conference.

In it, the American republics resolved:

"To adopt within their respective territories and in accordance with their respective constitutional provision, the measures necessary to eradicate and prevent activities directed, assisted, or instigated by foreign governments, organizations, or individuals tending to overthrow their institutions by violence, to foment disorder in their domestic political life, or to disturb, by means of pressure, subversive propaganda, threats or by any other means, the free and sovereign right of their peoples to govern themselves in accordance with their democratic aspirations."

The Guatemalan government entered no reservation to the final resolution. It also approved a resolution adopted by American foreign ministers in Washington in April 1951. This measure attacked communism in specific security terms, recommending that each government "examine its respective laws and regulations . . . to assure that subversive activities of agents of international communism directed against any of them may be adequately prevented and punished."

The problem now is to reaffirm and tighten these pronouncements in the face of the new opposition of Guatemala without appearing to interfere in the affairs of any individual state.

McCarthy Unique

Nothing else quite like the phenomenon that is Joseph Raymond McCarthy has popped up on the American political stage in recent years. Plenty of members of Congress have put on one-man rebellions, but almost always have (1) seemed only cantankerous by nature, or (2) broken with their parties (Sen. Morse of Oregon, for example), or (3) gone off the reservation in order to further a particular bill or program, or (4) amassed little political strength except in a certain area or in a certain stratum of the population.

Senator McCarthy, however, seems to enjoy much support among many strata for what his admirers call his crusade. This crusade isn't so much to build up a positive new program as to get rid of something —Communists and pro-Communists in the government.

Moreover, the junior senator from Wisconsin is technically in good standing in his party. He has gone out of his way to praise President Eisenhower and has voted with the Administration more often than against it.

McCarthy is sometimes likened to the late Huey Long, but perhaps the only outstanding similarity between the two on the political stage is that most other senators shied away from tangling with either. The Southern spellbinder had a positive program of "sharing the wealth" and "making every man a king;" on everything else Long gave the impression of being in opposition just for the sake of being in opposition.

He abused President Roosevelt, was cold-shouldered by the Democratic party leaders, held no post of influence in the Senate, shirked congressional labors (whereas McCarthy is a hard worker), declared shortly before his assassination in 1935 that he would bolt the party if FDR was renominated. By way of contrast, McCarthy was recently sent on a nationwide speaking tour by the Republican National Committee.

Hilly And Cloudy

The floor of the Atlantic Ocean is two and a half miles down, 120 miles west of Dakar, France, hilly, and the water is cloudy. Two French naval officers are authority for this. They went down 13,284 feet —a record depth—in the bathyscaphe FNRS-3.

Their feat establishes as fact that man now has an effective instrument for the first time that can be used to explore the depths of the oceans.

The bathyscaphe is described as a diving sphere attached to a steel float filled with a liquid lighter than water. A vertical lock chamber, through which the crew enters, is filled with water and the craft begins to sink. It rises when the crew releases enough ballast to give it buoyancy. Battery-powered motors provide horizontal movement.

The same crew took the FNRS-3 down more than 6,800 feet in the Mediterranean last fall, and Prof. Auguste Piccard, its inventor, in a sister bathyscaphe, descended to 10,168 feet several months ago. No doubt there is a limit to the depths man may descend in this ocean balloon, but it would be presumptious to say it has been reached or approached.

Former Italian Army Officer Points To Dangers Of Politics In Army; Col. Robert R. McCormick Tells McCarthy To Lay Off

WASHINGTON — A former officer of the Italian army was sitting with a group of senators when the question of Secretary Stevens' capitulation to Senator McCarthy came up. McCarthy had been quoted as saying: "If you want a commission in the Army I can fix it up for you."

"I doubt if you Americans realize what politics can do to an army," the Italian said. "I was a young captain in the Italian army when the Fascists took it over, and I know what politics did.

"It creeps in very subtly before anyone realizes it. An inferoir officer who's a lieutenant is promoted to be a captain, simply because he's a friend of the Fascist regime. Or again, I remember I once ordered a lieutenant to take over a work detail and he refused. He said he was busy making out reports on the army for the Fascist party.

"Some people have criitcized the Italian army for caving in during the war," continued the former officer. "Politics was the reason. An army doesn't fight when it's run on political lines."

Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, who was listening, remarked: "I just received a telegram from a friend calling attention to the fact that the Egyptian army had kicked out its premier, the Syrian army had kicked out its president, and McCarthy had driven a political wedge in the American army all in the same day."

"It may seem far-fetched to you," concluded the Italian ex-captain, "but once political leaders begins to dominate an army the line between free government and a totalitarian government becomes very thin indeed."

Army Politics

Judging from current resentment against McCarthy in the Army there should be no early danger of his taking over. However, officers recalled last week how Maj. Gen. Cornelius Ryan, commander of the 19th Infantry at Fort Dix had phoned Secretary of the Army Stevens to complain that McCarthy's office had been bombarding him to get special privileges for McCarthy's ex-aide, Gerard David Schine.

"General," replied Secretary Stevens, "this is one you've got to handle yourself."

Officers also recalled last week that when Col. Frances Kreidel, commander of the Provost Marshal School at Camp Gordon, Ga., had protested against Schine's transfer to his school without sufficient qualifications, Kreidel was suddenly transferred to Tokyo.

Under Army Regulation 615-215-1, no one is admitted to the Provost Marshal School without attaining the rank of corporal or higher, and without being in a Class 1 or Class 2 physical condition. Schine is in Class 3, has been in the Army only four months, and is a private.

Despite this, Senator McCarthy arranged for his ex-staff member to ride roughshod over Army regulations and transfer from Fort Dix basic training to the provost Marshal's School regular Army channels. But the transfer was ordered by Secretary of the Army Stevens himself.

And when the commander of the provost Marshal School objected, he was transferred.

No wonder McCarthy boasted to friends: "If you want a commission in the Army I can fix it up for you."

Merry-Go-Round

Remarked Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona apropos of the way the four Republican senators got Secretary Stevens to surrender: "They've been watching these Communists so closely that they've learned how to brain-wash." . . . Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune amazed Washington by publishing a front-page editorial at the height of the Stevens-McCarthy controversy telling McCarthy to lay off the Army. McCormick and McCarthy are old friends and the Chicago Tribune is one of Joe's stanchest backers, but first and last "The Colonel" is an Army man . . . It was because Senator Langer voted with the Democrats to adjourn the Senate rather than hold a night session that Majority Leader Knowland proposed that the committee chairman no longer be picked by seniority. He was aiming of course at Langer . . . Knowland seemed to resent Langer's vote against a night session more than Langer's investigation of Chief Justice Earl Warren . . . His colleagues say that Senator Dirksen of Illinois who did the chief job of sweet-talking Secretary Stevens into surrender, is such a good salesman he could talk a hornets nest out of a tree.

Efficient Lyndon

Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas has developed one of the smoothest machines in recent Democratic history. Colleagues agree that while it isn't always right it certainly is smooth.

It was this machine that brought defeat to the Republicans when Democrats overrode Senator Knowland's plan to hold night sessions on the Bricker Amendment. Every Democrat was in his seat at the right moment and voting, except for two—Symington of Missouri, who was in Europe, and McCarran of Nevada, who was sick.

Johnson had gone around to almost all Democrats and said: "I don't think it's fair to hold night sessions so early in the session. We've cooperated on everything else, but the older senators can't be here at night. Senator George can't get here, and I think we'll just have to ask the Republicans to get their work done in the daytime."

Johnson held no caucus, though a caucus is customary. He hasn't held a single caucus this year, partly because he's afraid some of his Democratic opponents, of which he has plenty, will take him over the hurdles. Instead of caucusing, he goes around to see each senator person . . . It's more work, but you can't get around the fact that the gentleman from Texas is efficient.

These Days

Doctors Need Sense

I heard a story the other day of two young people about to have their first child. The family doctor in their community rejects bringing babies into the world, insisting on an obstetrician. This is, to me, astonishing, for babies have come into life, lo! these thousands of years, with or without the aid of doctors, midwives or medicine men. It used to be the pride of the fine, old American doctor that all the young people in the community and their children were the products of his skill.

However, we live in an age of specialization in which the mechanic who turns a screw does not use a chisel, so these young things were sent off to the obstetrician, who is nowadays a specialist in what used to be called midwifery. There were no complications in the case, except the fee asked, which was $750, including prior and after treatment. The young people were bankruped by their first child.

Maybe this sort of thing is unusual. I have no way of knowing. That it is anti-social is obvious because our society cannot be strong if birth is limited by the cost of doctors. It is also a very bad thing for the medical profession, which nowadays has become suspect not of fee-splitting but of charging too much, of involving patients in the expense of multiple specialists, of operative costs which may not be necessary. The public criticism may be all wrong, but the doctors have not succeeded in establishing their case.

I have become interested in two illnesses, diabetes and hyperinsulinism, which I pursue in the professional literature as well as in the news. I find that too often the general practitioner rarely has knowledge of hyperinsulinism, making no tests for it and telling the patient that he finds nothing wrong, but in the end the patient takes an overdose of sleeping pills out of sheer fatigue. I find, by talking to patients, that too few dentists realize the real dangers of pyorrhea and dislike sending patients to peridontists. I note the literature on the subject and find that reconstructive dentistry is a science that only the rich and poor can afford; the poor in the clinics, the rich by paying the enormous costs.

Nevertheless, it is true that if a person can afford a combination of periodontist, an oral surgeon and a reconstructive dentist, he is likely to keep his teeth most of his life. If all of us knew about it, whom to go to, and could afford to pay the costs, we probably would never have to use upper and lower plates, which are a curse and an abomination.

The point of the matter is that much that is published in medical and dental journals does not find its way to the people in language which they can understand and that often physicians and dentists are too busy grubbing for a livelihood to keep up-to-date, with the result that unless the patient is sent to the specialist, he does not get the best advice and the best treatment. The specialist costs too much, even if he cures; the patient does not have the money to pay but is too well off to be accepted at a clinic. The various health insurance devices do not solve this problem because the amounts allowed for doctors or hospitals are inadequate and the patient may not have the money to make up the difference. Also, some companies cancel health insurance policies when the insured need their services. This is morally wrong if legally right.

The solution, of course, is for hospitals to employ staffs of physicians, specialists and dentists of the highest fitness for the services of whom the patient can pay a single fee to the hospital. This is violently opposed by the various associations as unethical corporate practice. The motivation for the opposition is financial. After all, many of the most important medical institutions in this country, including the Mayo Clinic, do operate that way without being unethical.

The doctors have to recognize that every human being is interested in his own health and while no one expects doctors to work for too little, doctors cannot afford to out-price their services beyond the ability of most of the people to pay.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The Communist infiltration forces in the United States, attempting to use Puerto Rican fanatics as a front, have been checkmated in their plot to assassinate President Eisenhower and J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

For several weeks the existence of this assignment, as given to Puerto Rican agents in New York, has been known here but it was not expected that an effort would be made to shoot up Congress.

The connection between the Puerto Rican Nationalists and the Communists has been well established for some time. As early as July 1943, the American Communist party issued a statement which said in part:

"We pledge our full support to the Nationalist party of Puerto Rico and to the complete unification of all the people of Puerto Rico and their various parties around the supreme task of achieving full nationhood.

Laid To Communists

"We will fulfill our pledge by rallying the people and particularly the labor movement of our country to Puerto Rican independence as a necessary pre-condition to correct relations with all Latin America . . . as an acid test of the Atlantic Charter. Puerto Rico must and will be free."

Within 60 days after the attempt to assassinate President Truman, the convention of the National Committee of the American Communist Party on December 28, 1950, in New York City—the last of the Communist party conclaves to be held—had in it a Puerto Rican Communist delegation and this declaration was made:

"We place the responsibility for the bloodshed on Harry S. Truman and on his watchdog—Munoz-Marin (present governor)."

The resident commissioner of Puerto Rico in Congress, A. Fernosisern, who has a seat but no vote, declared after the attempt to shoot up the U. S. House of Representatives that the whole thing was a "Communist plot" because even the extreme Nationalists knew there was no real issue about Puerto Rican independence. For commonwealth status has been granted, and the decision as to severance of all ties with the United States is in the hands of the Puerto Rican voters themselves. So he concluded that something else entered into the situation—a Communist effort to produce disharmony.

Certainly as the Latin-American conference is about to convene in Venezuela, it is natural for the Communists to make a demonstration in the hope of convincing the Latin countries generally that the United States is oppressing a Spanish-inhabited country a—kind of "colonialism."

The shooting in the House chamber came as a shock in more ways than the dramatic occurrence itself would indicate on its face. For it suddenly awakened official Washington in all its branches to the fact that the Communist menace cannot be pooh-poohed. Those who have insisted that security measures hereabouts were superfluous now will feel differently about it, and the one place where there has been great laxity—in and around Congress—may at last get the proteciton it has always needed.

Dupes Of Communists

The Puerto Rican Nationalists, like their brethren in the fanatical fold in other countries, are dupes of the Communists. The Nationalists start out with an emotional crusade in the cause of freedom and independence and are egged on by Communist agents who furnish the money and the brains for intrigue.

At first it was discounted, for instance, that the Nationalists in Iran had any connection with the Communists. But later on the plot became clear. In Guatemala today, the Nationalists insist that they are on their own in their "anti-imperialist" campaigns which take the form of bitter anti-Americanism. But the Communists are in the background. The British government saw through the pretense when the same cry was raised in British Guiana.

For the Communists are fishing in troubled waters everywhere—in Egypt, Tunisia, Syria, French Morocco, India, Japan, the Philippines, Indonesia and, of course, in Indochina, where they have taken over the movement for independence from the French.

Nationalism is a spontaneous affair as a rule but the Communists furnish the guiding brains and supply the terrorists to complicate the situation. The murderous attack on the American Congress may have an effect opposite to that which Communist forces inside the United States counted on—it may stiffen the resistance and bring about the passage of even more restrictive measures than are now on the statute books with reference to the freedom of movement in America of Communists and fellow-travelers who play a part in the Communist infiltration techniques.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

ARCADIA, Calif. —(INS)— Racing is a major industry in the United States. It is the country's top sport. In 1952 it lured 28,849,451 co-conspirators to the horse-parks in the 24 states that permit it. Some $63,950,230 in purses were distributed to horsemen in 29,051 races. The racing states collected about $100,000,000 in taxes.

The thoroughbred game was virtually scandal-free. Its roots extend deeply into pre-Revolutionary days. George Washington was an enthusiast and owned a racing stable. Andrew Jackson kept his racers at the White House.

But during recent generations, racing stopped being the sport of kings in America. This is now the only country in the world where the top political figures in government studiously avoid being seen at a track.

It occasioned considerable surprise Saturday at golden Santa Anita when Goodwin J. Knight, governor of California, not only appeared for a day of racing that included the running of the rich Santa Anita Handicap, but consented to collaborate in a colorful ceremony.

During Earl Warren's long reign as governor he appeared only once at Santa Anita, though the state's department of finance was collecting millions of dollars a year—which, in turn was distributed to such beneficiaries as the University of California, Cal Tech, state employes' retirement fund, 4-H clubs, state fairs, agriculture studies and wildlife conservation programs.

Gov. Knight, accompanied by John A. Morris, president of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations, and Mrs. Morris, led a pre-race parade that was a delight to see. Seated in a landau, drawn by four handsome hackney ponies and heralded by a pink-coated trumpeter, the governor held at his side the glittering gold cup to be presented to the winner of the big race.

Behind his landau came a shooting cart hitched to two hackneys, a two-horse open phaeton, the Santa Anita wagon with its eight matched Belgians, and four spans of Belgians pulling harrows.

It brought back memories of another gold-splashed day at Epsom where the young queen, who walks with the proud erectness of a thoroughbred went on foot down part of the home stretch of the verdant course, to watch her colt Aureole saddled for the derby. With her walked her smiling mother and the courtly duke, and behind them a prominent horse-owner, resplendent in gray topper, Sir Winston Churchill.

But could you imagine Cal Coolidge at a race track? Or President Ike?

Speaking of foreign tracks and customs, don't think for an instant that the American visitor is not made welcome. At Chantilly, which looks like a park surrounding a fine and massive chateau, there is a long line of pari-mutuel windows. They range in prestige from the 100-franc window up through 200 francs, 500 francs, 1,000 francs and finally to a solitary window through which only 10,000 franc bets are made. And under the sign which reads: 10,000 fr. is a smaller sign on which is neatly printed:

English spoken.

It had to happen in Southern California, the way things have been going. They now favor the smog.

No kidding, the smog that recently shut down the airports, made highway driving perilous, caused millions of eyes to water and throats to bark was described in the local press as "smelling like garlic."

Probably all started from an incorrectly-mixed Caesar salad.

Tot, 4, Tells Woeful Tale

ESSEX, Md., March 2 (AP) — A voice that sounded as if it issued from a very young person told Baltimore County police over the telephone today quite a tale of violence.

The picture, painted in childish tones, was of a father knifed and a mother who could not be awakened.

Sgt. Caroll Huffines kept the youngster on the telephone and frantically signaled for colleagues to have the call traced.

The telephone company determined it was coming from an address on Race Road south of Pulaski Highway, and two patrol cars sped to the scene.

When police arrived, they found the father, Sylvester Holme, peacefully sleeping after a night's work at an automobile plant. So was the mother.

Their 4-year-old son, Larry, was still on the telephone, amusing himself in conversation with Sgt. Huffines.

Norris Taylor Dies From Bullet Wound

CRISFIELD, Md., March 2 (AP)—Norris (Thirty Cents) Taylor died with a state police bullet in his chest today about the time the wife he is accused of slaying was buried.

The 45-year-old Crisfield tavern operator was shot yesterday by Cpl. Thomas Foxwell.

Foxwell was among police officers who tried to talk Taylor into coming out of Harold Nelson's oyster shucking house where he was discovered hiding.

Officers went inside after the fugitive when he refused to come out and Foxwell shot when it looked as if Taylor might be reaching for a gun in his clothing, it was reported.

The dead man's 40-year-old wife, Margaret Ella, was slain with a shotgun in a family argument Sunday. A step-daughter, Mrs. Peggy Dorman Walker, was wounded slightly.

Fallon Hoping To Return Home

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP) — Rep. George H. Fallon said today doctors told him he must remain in Casualty Hospital here "a day or two longer" and then may be moved either to Bethesda Naval Hospital or to his Baltimore home.

Maryland's Fourth District representative was one of five congressmen shot in the House of Representatives yesterday by four Puerto Rican Nationalist fanatics.

"They gave me a sleeping pill and if it had not been for the streetcars outside I would have gotten a good night's sleep," Fallon said today.

"I'm going to suggest they give the sleeping pills tonight to the streetcars," he quipped.

The Maryland Democrat said he thought too little attention has been paid to the matter of congressmen at work.

"They are just like sitting ducks on a pond for anyone who wants to take a shot at them," he said. Fallon likes a suggestion that the visitors' gallery be enclosed with bulletproof glass.

Fallon was hit with a single shot just above the hip bone on the right side.

Full Hearing Set On "Collusion" Charge

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut today ordered a full scale habeas corpus hearing for a Maryland Penitentiary prisoner who charged "collusion" between his court-appointed lawyer and the state's attorney.

The collusion charge, which Judge Chesnut called "flimsy" was brought by Luther C. Sykes Jr., 45, serving eight years for burglary and house breaking after a jury trial in Rockville in May, 1951.

Sykes was convicted as one of the participants in a $1,900 burglary of the Georgetown Preparatory School where he had once worked as a handyman.

Asked to appear in court here later this week, possibly Friday, were Steadman Prescott Jr. of Rockville, the defense lawyer, and Walter W. Dawson, state's attorney for Montgomery County.

Richie Ashburn of the Phillies topped National League outfielders in putouts during the 1953 season with 496.

NLRB Upholds Dismissal Of Hagerstown Picketers

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—A National Labor Relations Board examiner upheld today the discharge of 17 employes of the Victor Products Corp. of Hagerstown, Md., over a series of picket line incidents.

Trial Examiner Ralph Winkler ruled that the 17 participated in "unprotected strike activity," by threatening company officials who sought to enter the plant during a strike on April 10, 1950.

The NLRB original ruled that 18 members of the CIO-United Auto Workers discharged after the picket line incident should be reinstated to their jobs. The board originally found that it was not proven that the 18 were on the picket line at the time one certain official was denied admittance to the plant.

The case was appealed to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington. The Appeals Court sent it back, ordering the NLRB to determine whether the 18 had participated in picket line coercion involving other officials also.

Winkler ruled that all but one of the 18, Samuel Griffith, did participate in such activity and were therefore not entitled to protection under the Labor Law.

"I therefore conclude," Winkler said, "that each of the 18 individuals in question, except Samuel Griffith, participated in unprotected strike activity, and I would accordingly recommend that the order previously issued by the board in this matter be amended by deleting therefrom the names of these 17 individuals as having been discriminated against and entitled to relief thereunder."

Reader's Digest Reports:
ONLY NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM
with Miracle Anti-Enzyme Ingredient GARDOL*
HAS THE CLINICAL PROOF!
(Proof that Brings New Hope to Millions for LIFETIME PROTECTION AGAINST TOOTH DECAY)

5 QUICK FACTS FROM THE READER'S DIGEST ARTICLE
"What About Anti-Enzyme Toothpastes?" December, 1953

1. Reader's Digest says—The most effective anti-enzyme toothpaste ingredient tested was developed in the Colgate-Palmolive Company laboratories.
(It's Colgate's miracle ingredient Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate)—found in no other leading toothpaste!)

2. Reader's Digest says—One of the foremost dental authorities in the world proved that this ingredient binds itself effectively to the teeth—holds acid formation below the decay level in 95 per cent of cases tested.
(Unlike ordinary toothpaste ingredients, effective only for minutes, this protection won't rinse off—won't wear off—all day or all night!)

3. Reader's Digest says—Even 12 hours after brushing, this new Colgate anti-enzyme discovery continues to guard against the enzymes that cause tooth decay.
(Thus, just daily morning and night brushings guard against decay-causing enzymes every minute of the day and night!)

4. Reader's Digest says—In clinical tests, supervised by leading dental authorities—for a full year—people who used ordinary toothpastes averaged almost two and a half times more new cavities than those who used New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate). In fact, of the group using New Colgate's, 4 out of 5 developed no new cavities at all!
(A group of distinguished dentists examined this evidence and agreed—New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol gives the surest protection against tooth decay ever offered by any toothpaste!)

5. Reader's Digest says—New Colgate Dental Cream is the only toothpaste with clinical proof of its effectiveness in actually reducing the formation of new cavities.

Young Women Admit Theft During Court House Trial

Two young women, including a parolee, pleaded guilty yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court to stealing $11 in currency from the pocketbook of a juror during a criminal hearing in Circuit Court last month.

Ida Mae Crawford, 20, of 12 West Second Street, was given an indefinite term not to exceed one year in the Maryland Reformatory for Women.

Mary Jane Diehl, 22, of Waverly Terrace, formerly of Baltimore, drew a suspended sentence of one year in the same institution and was paroled for three years.

In sentencing the Crawford woman, Magistrate Donald W. Mason noted that she "served time in Michigan for burglary" and was on parole.

Mason ordered the other defendant to make restitution through the state's attorney's office and be of good behavior generally. She had no previous record.

Both women were charged with taking the money from a wallet in the purse of Mrs. Viola McGann, Gilmore, who was on jury duty when the theft occurred February 9 after she had gone to a rest room during a recess.

Authorities said the money, taken by the Crawford woman, was divided later in a downtown store.

The larceny took place during the trial of Eugene Lepley, who was accused of assault with intent to rob. Lepley was found guilty and given a 10-year sentence.

Deputy Sheriff William Chappell assisted County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya in the probe.

George Awarded Jail Contract

The George Construction Company of this city was awarded the contract yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to make alterations to the county jail on a bid of $11,887.

It was the only bid on the job, which includes a new entrance to the women's quarters and a storage room. The project is part of the commissioners' four-year plan of improvements to various county buildings.

A number of grand jury reports have recommended the work in recent years and the State Board of Prisons has also noted the need for the improvement.

Sealed bids will be opened by the county commissioners on March 23 at 10:30 a. m. at the Court House on offers to construct a parking lot at the Union Street County Office Building.

Prisoner May Work Off Part Of His Sentence In West Virginia Forests

CHARLESTON, March 2 (AP) — Support was voiced here for a judge's recommendation that a former patient in a Pennsylvania institution be permitted to work off part of a prison sentence in West Virginia's forests.

That was disclosed in a letter written by Treasurer L. Steele Trotter of the State Board of Control to Warden Orel J. Skeen of the State Penitentiary, involving a one-to-10-year sentence imposed on Jean Christoff.

Christoff, who escaped from Torrence State Hospital in Blairsville, Pa., last September, was arrested in the Morgantown area on Dec. 10 and charged with breaking and entering.

He allegedly entered several cottages in the Cheat Mountain section in quest of food and clothing. He was sentenced to the state penitentiary by Circuit Judge Don J. Eddy in Morgantown when he pleaded guilty.

Eddy recommended that Christoff spend part of his sentence in work in the forests for the State Conservation Department.

In his letter to Skeen, Trotter wrote that "this is perfectly legal. I heartily concur with the decision of Judge Eddy."

Trotter added that "I have discussed this matter with" other members of the three - man board, and he said that "we are all of the opinion that Judge Eddy's recommendation should be followed.

Christoff was to be taken to the penitentiary from Monongalia County jail Sunday, but the trip was delayed because officers were on duty at a strike - harrassed Morgantown chemical plant.

Authorities said last night Christoff probably will be taken to Moundsville later this week, however. Certain processing would be necessary there before he could be assigned to any forestry work.

George Awarded Jail Contract

The George Construction Company of this city was awarded the contract yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to make alterations to the county jail on a bid of $11,887.

It was the only bid on the job, which includes a new entrance to the women's quarters and a storage room. The project is part of the commissioners' four-year plan of improvements to various county buildings.

A number of grand jury reports have recommended the work in recent years and the State Board of Prisons has also noted the need for the improvement.

Sealed bids will be opened by the county commissioners on March 23 at 10:30 a. m. at the Court House on offers to construct a parking lot at the Union Street County Office Building.

Prisoner May Work Off Part Of His Sentence In West Virginia Forests

CHARLESTON, March 2 (AP) — Support was voiced here for a judge's recommendation that a former patient in a Pennsylvania institution be permitted to work off part of a prison sentence in West Virginia's forests.

That was disclosed in a letter written by Treasurer L. Steele Trotter of the State Board of Control to Warden Orel J. Skeen of the State Penitentiary, involving a one-to-10-year sentence imposed on Jean Christoff.

Christoff, who escaped from Torrence State Hospital in Blairsville, Pa., last September, was arrested in the Morgantown area on Dec. 10 and charged with breaking and entering.

He allegedly entered several cottages in the Cheat Mountain section in quest of food and clothing. He was sentenced to the state penitentiary by Circuit Judge Don J. Eddy in Morgantown when he pleaded guilty.

Eddy recommended that Christoff spend part of his sentence in work in the forests for the State Conservation Department.

In his letter to Skeen, Trotter wrote that "this is perfectly legal. I heartily concur with the decision of Judge Eddy."

Trotter added that "I have discussed this matter with" other members of the three - man board, and he said that "we are all of the opinion that Judge Eddy's recommendation should be followed.

Christoff was to be taken to the penitentiary from Monongalia County jail Sunday, but the trip was delayed because officers were on duty at a strike - harrassed Morgantown chemical plant.

Authorities said last night Christoff probably will be taken to Moundsville later this week, however. Certain processing would be necessary there before he could be assigned to any forestry work.

Amcelle Honors Employes For Most Good Suggestions

At a luncheon attended by members of the Suggestion Committee at the Celanese plant, R. F. Thompson, plant manager, presented the outstanding suggesters with certificates for valuable contributions to plant improvement. In addition, these suggesters also received awards of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Clement A. Poland of the Cellulose Acetate Department was the top $100 bond award winner for 1953 with 25 adopted suggestions. In addition to payment for the 25 suggestions, he received three $25 bonds. This is based on 30 per cent of the value of the awards for all of his adopted suggestions for the year. In order to be considered an outstanding suggester, an employe must have at least 12 successful ideas for the year. During the last six years, Poland has been one of the outstanding suggesters.

Howard C. Hersh of the Technical Control Department, William H. Vernall of the Central Auxiliary Department, and Lewis D. Dickerhoof of the Textile Department each had 21 cash-winning suggestions. Each received three extra $25 bonds. Hersh is not a newcomer to the winners' circle. He shared in the awards for 1952 with two $25 bonds.

Edwin C. Kubes of the Research Department was the fifth employe with 15 cash-worthy suggestions, for which he received a dividend of two extra $25 bonds. In spite of the fact that Kubes was in military service in 1945-46, he has submitted 232 winning suggestions and has been rewarded with 22 extra bonds amounting to almost $2,200.

Kenneth P. Thomas of the Central Auxiliary Department, although unable to be present at the luncheon, will also receive a special award consisting of two $25 bonds.

Attending the luncheon for the Suggestion Committee were, in addition to Thompson, J. Brenneman, R. W. Brown, W. D. Claus, L. I. Horner, A. W. Keight, W. L. McIntosh, B. H. Sands, N. W. Taylor, B. O. Waite, M. W. Work and K. J. Williams.

LaVale Cooperates In Water Conservation

The LaVale Sanitary Commission is cooperating in the ban imposed by the City of Cumberland on the use of water for non-essential purposes, city officials reported yesterday.

When the city placed the restrictions on the use of water, the LaVale water company was informed of the action.

LaVale water officials reported that all of their users had been ordered to comply, and that personal checks were being made to see that the orders were being fulfilled.

Area Clean-Up

February, but Monday morning, up to a short time before noon, the rain gauge registered a rainfall of 2.52 inches for the morning hours.

"The month of February, just ended," Arnold said, yas the dryest and warmest February in the past 20 years, according to my records here."

Several Slides Noted

In this county there were several small slides caused by the deluge of rain and state roads crews will work three to four days cleaning up.

A bridge across George's Creek at Brophytown which was barricaded yesterday when it was damaged by flood waters and debris was ordered repaired yesterday by Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Mayor Arthur P. Hoffa of Barton appeared before the board to ask that immediate repairs be made as the community of Brophytown was isolated with the bridge not in commission. He cited the fire hazard in such a situation. He also said the bridge is the only exit for trucks which haul coal from the Brophytown area.

Hoffa To Do Work

Hoffa said he would replace the cribbing beneath the 90-foot span if the county would pay $150 for the expense of labor and material. The county agreed to do this and also to weld the broken steel member of the bridge superstructure which collapsed when the cribbing was washed away.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, ordered the bridge barricaded Monday when the cribbing washed out due to its unsafe condition.

He said the heavy rain of Monday did not do too much other damage to county roads or bridges, but that some spots in low-lying areas were covered with water when ditches overflowed.

Yesterday and last night, weather in the Tri-State area remained fairly calm and clear, however in mountainous areas, heavy snow fell late Monday and Monday night. Some areas are blanketed with half a foot or more, but highways are reported clear and open.

County Board Issues Two Beer Licenses

The Allegany County Board of License Commissioners yesterday issued two beer licenses.

Wilbert Paul Boone was issued one for premises at 300 Maryland Avenue. The other one went to Evelyn V. Fields for premises at 2 Laing Avenue.

400 License Tags Sold In Single Day

Tax Collector Ernest B. Treat said that yesterday was one of the best days for sale of new automobile license plates since it started a week ago as 400 plates were distributed.

Total sales in seven working days since February 23 amount to 2,180 tags. Last year in seven days 2,800 were sold. Some of the new orange tags with black letters already have been attached to automobiles. They all must be by midnight Wednesday, March 31.

Maryland Cattle Infested With Grubs

Cattle in all parts of Maryland are infested with grubs, according to T. L. Bissell, University of Maryland extension entomologist.

Bissell bases his report on a survey in five counties, Washington, Howard, Montgomery, Calvert and Wicomico, representing various sections of the state.

Wallace Harding of the department of entomology made the survey with the assistance of county agents. He examined 107 dairy cows and 161 beef animals on 15 afrms. Forty-six per cent of the dairy cows and 68 per cent of the beef animals had grubs. The number of grubs per animal varied from one to 40. Animals were about equally grubby in the five counties.

Two Alarms Checked

Two alarms were answered by city firemen yesterday. At 3:09 p. m. a smoke scare was checked by Central firemen at the Windsor Restaurant, 158 Baltimore Street. West Side firemen were called at 10:57 a. m. to the home of Austin Flanagan, 213 South Spruce Street, when a valve on a gas stove broke. No damage was reported in either fire.

4-H GIRLS VIEW GALLON JUGS — Members of the LaVale Girls 4-H Club got a preview of the new gallon milk jug at Mason's Dairy just before the big jugs went on sale at the dairy's store at 219 Greene Street. Designed as an economy package, the jugs cut 25 cents a gallon from the price of milk. The girls, members of a home management and home economics club study group, are (left to right) Marlene Brings, Sandra Hatfield, president; Elizabeth Murray, Joy Laber and Frances Belt, with Bert Mason, dairy owner. Mason's brother, Edward J. Mason, will manage the store and other stores the dairy plans to open.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS

(You may have them and not know it)

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Maryland Cattle Infested With Grubs

Cattle in all parts of Maryland are infested with grubs, according to T. L. Bissell, University of Maryland extension entomologist.

Bissell bases his report on a survey in five counties, Washington, Howard, Montgomery, Calvert and Wicomico, representing various sections of the state.

Wallace Harding of the department of entomology made the survey with the assistance of county agents. He examined 107 dairy cows and 161 beef animals on 15 afrms. Forty-six per cent of the dairy cows and 68 per cent of the beef animals had grubs. The number of grubs per animal varied from one to 40. Animals were about equally grubby in the five counties.

Two Alarms Checked

Two alarms were answered by city firemen yesterday. At 3:09 p. m. a smoke scare was checked by Central firemen at the Windsor Restaurant, 158 Baltimore Street. West Side firemen were called at 10:57 a. m. to the home of Austin Flanagan, 213 South Spruce Street, when a valve on a gas stove broke. No damage was reported in either fire.

Council Cubs Will Visit In 'Land Of Oz'

Cub scouts of Potomac Council will venture into the magical "Land of Oz" this month to visit the fairy tale characters created by L. Frank Baum in his famous books.

"Cub Scouts in the Land of Oz" is the den and pack theme for March, and the boys and their parents are planning skits, costumes, songs, games and other projects for the pack meetings.

Mothers and fathers will assist their sons in making costumes for the den and pack meetings, and many other projects in preparation for the pack meeting. These will include themecrafts and decorations, skits and songs, Oz puppet characters and exhibit booths.

Council officers outlined the typical program for each of the packs. Prior to the pack meeting, Den Dads, leaders and idea committeemen will set up the meeting place setting with colorful signs, pennants and streamers, with green predominating. Included will be exhibits on the Oz theme, magic stunts, tricks and puzzles, and illustrations of Oz characters.

The main part of the pack meeting will begin with a grand entrance parade to the recorded music of "The Wizard of Oz." Cub Scouts will parade around the room representing all the characters from the land of Oz, finally assembling to sing "We're Off to See the Wizard."

Next, each den will present, in turn, a part of the Oz story until the final scene in the Palace of the Emerald City of Oz. As the lights are dimmed, all will put on cardboard "glasses" because of the brilliance of the city. Leaders plan to use a green flood bulb to create special effects.

The closing ceremony centers around the wizard and his magic. Some packs are planning use of a hidden microphone and a flash of photographer's magnesium to introduce the wizard, who is the cubmaster. When the wizard appears, he will call forward the Cub Scouts and families who have qualified for various awards.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

LAKELAND, Fla., March 2 (AP)—General Manager Muddy Ruel came to terms with pitchers Ralph Branca and Steve Gromek today, cutting Detroit Tigers' holdouts to three.

With Branca and Gromek under contract, Manager Fred Hutchinson now has all his pitchers except Ned Garver at work.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Walt Linden, 28, reserve catcher for the Milwaukee Braves, suffered a fractured and dislocated right thumb today in the first squad game of the spring training season here. The injury was the result of a foul tip from the bat of Braves No. 1 catcher and Captain Del Crandall.

TAMPA, Fla., March 2 (AP)—The Kluszewskis downed the Borkowskis 3-1 today in a Cincinnati Redleg intrasquad game which went six innings.

Setting up the two-run last inning rally for the team captained by Ted Kluszewski was a triple by rookie Nino Escalera. But the nine coached by Bob Borkowski outhit the winners 8-5.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Ted Williams, whose fractured collarbone was the latest shot heard round the baseball world, underwent further X-rays today before leaving for his Miami home where he will be under care of Dr. Herbert Virgin.

Williams, who suffered the injury in a tumble yesterday only a few minutes after arriving here to train with Boston's Red Sox, is due to return to camp March 21.

His half-body cast was trimmed today to make it more comfortable.

Meanwhile, the other players practiced for four hours with another player listed as sick.

Veteran pitcher Ellis Kinder was confined to his room with a virus attack, under treatment of the club physician.

Nixon To Toss Out First Ball For Baltimore

Invitation Accepted By Vice President

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will toss out the first ball here April 15 when the Baltimore Orioles open their first major league home season in 51 years at Memorial Stadium against the Chicago White Sox.

In making the announcement, Orioles President Clarence W. Miles said Nixon and his wife will also lead the giant opening-day parade which will feature 15 bands, some 30 floats and 5,000 orchids to be strewn in the path of the arriving Orioles team.

Miles, a Democrat, said he was taken to Nixon about noon today by Maryland's two Republican senators, Beall and Butler. It was then that he extended the invitation to the vice president to toss out the first ball.

"There's nothing I'd like better," Nixon said. "You know, I'm a great baseball fan and I think it's grand Baltimore's back in the big league."

Selvy Of Furman Unanimous Choice

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 2 (AP)—The nation's greatest basketball scorer in history, Frank Selvy of Furman, captains the All-Southern Conference team with a unanimous vote in the selection announced today by the Southern Sports Writers Assn.

George Washington placed Joe Holup and Walter (Corky) Devlin on the first All-Conference team and landed Elliott Karver and John Holup on the second team.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Ted Williams, whose fractured collarbone was the latest shot heard round the baseball world, underwent further X-rays today before leaving for his Miami home where he will be under care of Dr. Herbert Virgin.

Williams, who suffered the injury in a tumble yesterday only a few minutes after arriving here to train with Boston's Red Sox, is due to return to camp March 21.

His half-body cast was trimmed today to make it more comfortable.

Meanwhile, the other players practiced for four hours with another player listed as sick.

Veteran pitcher Ellis Kinder was confined to his room with a virus attack, under treatment of the club physician.

Invitation Accepted By Vice President

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will toss out the first ball here April 15 when the Baltimore Orioles open their first major league home season in 51 years at Memorial Stadium against the Chicago White Sox.

Miles, a Democrat, said he was taken to Nixon about noon today by Maryland's two Republican senators, Beall and Butler. It was then that he extended the invitation to the vice president to toss out the first ball.

"There's nothing I'd like better," Nixon said. "You know, I'm a great baseball fan and I think it's grand Baltimore's back in the big league."

Selvy To Shoot At Records Set By Shue, Groat

Conference Tourney Set For Morgantown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 2 (AP)—Current Southern Conference Basketball Tournament scoring records are wide open for attack this week by Furman's All-America Frank Selvy, holder of every major college scoring mark.

The fact is that Selvy's 41.7 game average in conference play this season is higher than the tourney's one-game individual record of 40 points, set last year by Maryland's Gene Shue against Wake Forest.

The affair's individual scoring record of 86 points, which Duke's Dick Groat set in 1952 in three games, also is vulnerable if Furman, and Selvy, get by first round play.

Furman, in its first round contest, tangles with Davidson, a foe against which Selvy racked up 50 points in a regular season game won by Furman, 105-93.

The Furman-Davidson game is the third of four first round contests set for Thursday in the 6,500-capacity field house at West Virginia University.

West Virginia and William and Mary will take to the court at 2 p.m., followed by conference champion George Washington and Washington and Lee at 4 p.m.

Davidson and Furman clash at 7:30, with the final first round game between Richmond and Virginia Military scheduled for 9:30.

New Trial Ordered In Hall Case

Jockey Injured When Thrown By Chalglass

TOWSON, Md., March 2 (AP) — Baltimore County Circuit Court has ordered a new trial in a $90,000 damage action won late last year by Jockey Howard L. Hall.

The award at the time was said to be one of the largest ever made by a jury in Maryland.

In granting the defense plea for a new trial, Judge John B. Gontrum said he had no alternative.

Defendants are Leonard M. Carver, Leona M. Carver and Elaine C. Peregoy, owners of a horse called Chalglass which Hall rode at Pimlico Race Track Oct. 31, 1951.

The jockey claims the horse broke to the left, smashed into the rail and threw him to the ground in a spill that resulted in serious injuries.

He contends the horse's eyesight was so defective it should not have been entered in the race and holds the owners liable for damages.

Conference Tourney Set For Morgantown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 2 (AP)—Current Southern Conference Basketball Tournament scoring records are wide open for attack this week by Furman's All-America Frank Selvy, holder of every major college scoring mark.

The fact is that Selvy's 41.7 game average in conference play this season is higher than the tourney's one-game individual record of 40 points, set last year by Maryland's Gene Shue against Wake Forest.

The affair's individual scoring record of 86 points, which Duke's Dick Groat set in 1952 in three games, also is vulnerable if Furman, and Selvy, get by first round play.

Furman, in its first round contest, tangles with Davidson, a foe against which Selvy racked up 50 points in a regular season game won by Furman, 105-93.

The Furman-Davidson game is the third of four first round contests set for Thursday in the 6,500-capacity field house at West Virginia University.

West Virginia and William and Mary will take to the court at 2 p.m., followed by conference champion George Washington and Washington and Lee at 4 p.m.

Davidson and Furman clash at 7:30, with the final first round game between Richmond and Virginia Military scheduled for 9:30.

Grass Classic Set For Hialeah Today

MIAMI, Fla., March 2 (AP)—A dozen grass specialists were entered today in the $50,000 Hialeah turf handicap tomorrow, the final day of this season's meeting.

Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's famed English Royal Vale, defending champion, was considered the horse to beat in the mile and a half feature, despite a top weight assignment of 126 pounds.

Royal Vale won this grass classic last year in 2:28 4-5, a new American record.

W. Arnold Hanger's Chilean-Bred Iceberg II, voted the champion grass performer of last season, and Mrs. J. P. Keezek's Abbe Sting, winner of the Stars and Stripes handicap July 4 at Arlington Park, were rated Royal Vale's most formidable opponents.

LaVale Little Loop Will Meet Tonight

A meeting of parents and others interested in the LaVale Orioles and Maroons of the Pen-Mar Little League will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the LaVale Fire Hall.

A financial report of the 1953 season will be presented and a discussion will be held relative to a new playing field for the coming season.

Officers will be elected for the 1954 campaign. Floyd (Sammy) Cozad is president of the league and Thomas L. Smith is secretary-treasurer.

Jockey Injured When Thrown By Chalglass

TOWSON, Md., March 2 (AP)—Baltimore County Circuit Court has ordered a new trial in a $90,000 damage action won late last year by Jockey Howard L. Hall.

The award at the time was said to be one of the largest ever made by a jury in Maryland.

In granting the defense plea for a new trial, Judge John B. Gontrum said he had no alternative.

Defendants are Leonard M. Carver, Leona M. Carver and Elaine C. Peregoy, owners of a horse called Chalglass which Hall rode at Pimlico Race Track Oct. 31, 1951.

The jockey claims the horse broke to the left, smashed into the rail and threw him to the ground in a spill that resulted in serious injuries.

He contends the horse's eyesight was so defective it should not have been entered in the race and holds the owners liable for damages.

Hi Dee Club Wins

The Hi Dee Club won two out of three games from Clingerman's last nihgt in an Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League match. Gretchen Walsh was high scorer for Hi Dee with 23 points while Edith Gray headed the losers with 20.

Senators May Trade Vernon To Red Sox

ORLANDO, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Washington and Boston Red Sox officials today discussed a possible trade involving Mickey Vernon, holdout first baseman of the Senators, but results of the conference were not disclosed.

Calvin Griffith, Washington vice president, said after a huddle with Joe Cronin, general manager of the Red Sox, "we discussed the possibility of a trade involving Vernon."

The Senators' bargaining position is strengthened by the shoulder injury of Ted Williams. Mickey has played some outfield and could provide some of the batting punch that will be lost indefinitely to the Red Sox by Williams' injury.

Wojey Pitches Hitless Ball

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Pete Wojey, a 31-year-old rookie righthander, pitched two hitless innings today as a team handled by Coach Jake Pitler gained a 4-4 tie with a Billy Herman team in the Brooklyn Dodgers' spring training camp.

Wojey pitched for the Hermans.

All scorekeeping, timekeeping, etc., will be handled by the Beall High Varsity Club under the direction of Edward Finzel of Beall High. Series tickets may be purchased from any boy who participated in the league this season.

Final standings in the league which completed play Saturday, February 27, are as follows:

Team	Record	Position
Frostburg Methodist	14-1	1
St. Michael's	14-1	2
Midland Methodist	12-3	3
St. Joseph's	11-4	4

Congregational	10-5	6
Salem Reformed	10-5	7
Eckhart Methodist	9-6	8
St. Paul's Lutheran	9-6	9

The position of a team in the playoff games was determined (in the event of a tie for any position) by the outcome of the game during the regular season. For instance, Frostburg Methodist defeated St. Michael's during the regular season and thus Frostburg Methodist is the No. 1 team in the playoffs. Three teams tied for the No. 5 position. However, Carlos Methodist defeated both Congregational and Salem Reformed during regular season play and they take over the No. 5 spot. Congregational defeated Salem Reformed and they are No. 6. For No. 8 position, Eckhart Methodist and St. Paul's Lutheran (the defending champs) ended with identical 9-6 records. However, Eckhart Methodist downed St. Paul's during the season and they become the No. 8 team in the playoffs.

The tournament originally was scheduled to start tomorrow night, but it was feared the heavy snow here would cut attendance. The finals will be Saturday night.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 2—(INS)—Jimmy Carter, the lightweight champion lays his title on the line in a battle with Paddy Demarco in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

And if Jimmy loses, he should be forced to turn in his union card. We venture to say that suckers have dropped more dough betting on Carter in bouts he figured to win than on any dozen fighters in the past dozen years.

Jimmy usually turns in a good fight when his title is at stake. But at other times he can look like a preliminary boy. That is why his record is studded with 15 defeats and eight draws.

Just to give you an idea how our hero operates we cite two fights he had in Australia in 1949. In the first one he lost to Norman Gent in Melbourne.

Two weeks later he fought Charlie Ashenden in Sydney and since Ashenden was a better fighter than Gent, the Aussies naturally figured Ashenden would win.

Why not, if Gent could beat Carter, surely Ashenden could beat him.

But what happened? Carter knocked out Ashenden in four rounds.

Three years ago Carter beat Percy Bassett in New York, then lost to Bassett in Philadelphia, a fact which may have played a part in inducing Ike Williams, then champion, to give Carter a crack at the title.

So Carter knocked out Williams to win the title.

The same year he lost to Art Aragon in a non-title bout but in a return match, with the title at stake, he beat Aragon. Two years ago he trimmed Lauro Salas, then lost his title to the same Salas, and then beat Salas to regain the title.

His record last year was truly weird. He started out by losing decisions to Eddie Chavez and Armand Savoie in non-title gallops.

Then he knocked out Tommy Collins in four rounds in a titular affair and followed that up by stopping George Araujo in 13 heats.

Next we find him dropping a 10-round decision to Johnny Cunningham in Miami and please don't ask us to explain how a fighter like Cunningham ever beat him.

On Nov. 11 he went to Montreal to place his title on the line against Savoie. Bear in mind that this was the same Savoie who had gained a decision over him earlier in the year. The good French Canucks naturally were all steamed up over the chances of their boy winning the title.

Carter quickly disillusioned them by stiffening Savoie in five-rounds.

Now we find him ready to fight Paddy Demarco, a rough, tough seasoned battler with no punch but who can take a punch. Last year Paddy won three bouts and lost four.

This should be a good bout for the TV clients. It had better be for the TV people are getting a little sore about some of the miserable bouts the International Boxing Club has shown them lately.

One thing sure—we are not going to bet on it.

Packers Show Profit

GREEN BAY, Wis., March 2 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers showed a profit of $29,267 for the 1953 season despite the team's miserable showing in the National Football League.

The figure was more than double the $12,000 profit reported for 1952. Officials said it was due to increased crowds and television receipts.

Kentucky Leads AP Weekly Poll, Indiana, Second

Duquesne Is Fourth After Two Setbacks

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Kentucky returned to the top of the college basketball rankings today on the strength of a double knockout.

Kentucky completed a "knockout" season of 24 straight victories just after Duquesne, which had won 22 in a row, was belted out twice in succession. The result, reflected in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters, sent the Wildcats back to the lead and the Dukes to fourth place.

Lead By Wide Margin

Kentucky compiled a point total of 964 to take the lead by the unusually large margin of 242 points. Indiana moved up to second place and Western Kentucky held third.

Points were counted on the usual basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second, etc.

Although its regular season is over and its record still is unblemished, Kentucky still doesn't have its conference title won. Seventh-ranked Louisiana State (20-2) also is unbeaten in Southeastern Conference play. And if LSU beats Tulane Saturday, it will play off against Kentucky at Nashville, Tenn. next week for the championship and a place in the NCAA tournament.

A couple of other tournament-bound teams in the top 10 are in similar positions. Indiana has to beat Illinois Saturday to win the Big Ten title and Oklahoma A&M needs victories over Tulsa and St. Louis to be sure of the Missouri Valley championship.

Dukes Face Villanova

Duquesne, top-seeded team in the National Invitation tournament, got back on the winning side against St. Bonaventure last night and winds up its regular season against Villanova Saturday. Notre Dame, already picked for the NCAA tournament, finishes against Marquette the same night.

Nine of the first 10 teams and most of the second 10 are sure, or almost sure, of seeing tournament action.

Along with Duquesne, Western Kentucky (No. 3), Wichita (12) Holy Cross (13), Dayton (14) and Louisville (20) have been picked for the NIT.

Notre Dame 6, LaSalle 8 Seattle (10) and Connecticut (19) have been named for the NCAA.

George Washington (9) leads the way into the Southern Conference Tournament Thursday and Duke (11), Maryland (17) and North Carolina State (18) will begin the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament the same day.

Notre Dame Moves Up

Major changes in the rankings since last week saw Notre Dame go from sixth to fifth, switching places with Oklahoma A&M as the Aggies lost twice, Louisiana State and LaSalle climb from 12th and 13th to seventh and eighth, respectively, and Holy Cross drop from seventh to 13th after a one-point loss to Connecticut.

'Coney Little League Session Set Friday

The Lonaconing Little League will meet at the City Hall there at 8 p. m. Friday to formulate plans for the coming season, according to Melvin Sloan, president.

Sloan said that by-laws and rules for the coming campaign will be discussed and teams will be organized. He urged all managers and other interested parents to attend.

Willie Mays Makes Spectacular Debut

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 2 (AP)—Centerfielder Willie Mays came directly off an all-night plane ride to the ball park and donned a New York Giants uniform for the first time since May 29, 1952 today. He turned in a spectacular debut in an intra-squad game.

The 22-year-old star, released from the Army at Ft. Eustis, Va., yesterday, hit a 400-foot homer with two runners aboard in his initial trip to the plate, then made two amazing fielding plays.

First he ran into right center to snare a ball off the wall and double up a runner who had lingered a bit too far off first base. Then, after losing a ball momentarily in the sun, he raced back to catch it over his shoulder in deepest centerfield, some 400 feet away from home plate.

Despite May's homer, the regulars had to put on a four-run rally in the ninth to down the Yannigans 8-5.

Nagel Joins Sooners

NORMAN, Okla., March 2 (AP)—University of Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson today announced he had hired Ray Nagel, former UCLA quarterback, as a member of his football coaching staff.

Mims, Ward Bout Set For Detroit

DETROIT, March 2 (AP)—Middleweight Holly Mims is due to lose one decision tomorrow before he puts on a glove for his 10-round bout with Moses Ward at Olympic Stadium.

Ward, a Detroiter, and Mims of Washington, D. C., will meet Wednesday in a nationally televised bout (CBS 10 p.m. EST).

William Matney, member of the Michigan Boxing Commission, said Mims would be fined at a commission meeting Wednesday because he arrived in Detroit late Saturday, reporting three days late for his training.

Michigan rules require that a main event fighter must set up training quarters in the state seven days before the bout.

Oddsmakers and statistics give Mims a slight edge over Ward.

Hermanettes Meet

A meeting of the Hermanettes of the newly formed Atlantic Coast Girls' Softball League, will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewing Company. A social will follow the meeting.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 2—(INS)—Jimmy Carter, the lightweight champion lays his title on the line in a battle with Paddy Demarco in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

And if Jimmy loses, he should be forced to turn in his union card. We venture to say that suckers have dropped more dough betting on Carter in bouts he figured to win than on any dozen fighters in the past dozen years.

Jimmy usually turns in a good fight when his title is at stake. But at other times he can look like a preliminary boy. That is why his record is studded with 15 defeats and eight draws.

Just to give you an idea how our hero operates we cite two fights he had in Australia in 1949. In the first one he lost to Norman Gent in Melbourne.

Two weeks later he fought Charlie Ashenden in Sydney and since Ashenden was a better fighter than Gent, the Aussies naturally figured Ashenden would win.

Why not, if Gent could beat Carter, surely Ashenden could beat him.

But what happened? Carter knocked out Ashenden in four rounds.

Three years ago Carter beat Percy Bassett in New York, then lost to Bassett in Philadelphia, a fact which may have played a part in inducing Ike Williams, then champion, to give Carter a crack at the title.

So Carter knocked out Williams to win the title.

The same year he lost to Art Aragon in a non-title bout but in a return match, with the title at stake, he beat Aragon. Two years ago he trimmed Lauro Salas, then lost his title to the same Salas, and then beat Salas to regain the title.

His record last year was truly weird. He started out by losing decisions to Eddie Chavez and Armand Savoie in non-title gallops.

Then he knocked out Tommy Collins in four rounds in a titular affair and followed that up by stopping George Araujo in 13 heats.

Next we find him dropping a 10-round decision to Johnny Cunningham in Miami and please don't ask us to explain how a fighter like Cunningham ever beat him.

On Nov. 11 he went to Montreal to place his title on the line against Savoie. Bear in mind that this was the same Savoie who had gained a decision over him earlier in the year. The good French Canucks naturally were all steamed up over the chances of their boy winning the title.

Carter quickly disillusioned them by stiffening Savoie in five-rounds.

Now we find him ready to fight Paddy Demarco, a rough, tough seasoned battler with no punch but who can take a punch. Last year Paddy won three bouts and lost four.

This should be a good bout for the TV clients. It had better be for the TV people are getting a little sore about some of the miserable bouts the International Boxing Club has shown them lately.

One thing sure—we are not going to bet on it.

Packers Show Profit

GREEN BAY, Wis., March 2 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers showed a profit of $29,267 for the 1953 season despite the team's miserable showing in the National Football League.

The figure was more than double the $12,000 profit reported for 1952. Officials said it was due to increased crowds and television receipts.

Kentucky Leads AP Weekly Poll, Indiana, Second

Duquesne Is Fourth After Two Setbacks

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Kentucky returned to the top of the college basketball rankings today on the strength of a double knockout.

Kentucky completed a "knockout" season of 24 straight victories just after Duquesne, which had won 22 in a row, was belted out twice in succession. The result, reflected in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters, sent the Wildcats back to the lead and the Dukes to fourth place.

Lead By Wide Margin

Kentucky compiled a point total of 964 to take the lead by the unusually large margin of 242 points. Indiana moved up to second place and Western Kentucky held third.

Points were counted on the usual basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second, etc.

Although its regular season is over and its record still is unblemished, Kentucky still doesn't have its conference title won. Seventh-ranked Louisiana State (20-2) also is unbeaten in Southeastern Conference play. And if LSU beats Tulane Saturday, it will play off against Kentucky at Nashville, Tenn. next week for the championship and a place in the NCAA tournament.

A couple of other tournament-bound teams in the top 10 are in similar positions. Indiana has to beat Illinois Saturday to win the Big Ten title and Oklahoma A&M needs victories over Tulsa and St. Louis to be sure of the Missouri Valley championship.

Dukes Face Villanova

Duquesne, top-seeded team in the National Invitation tournament, got back on the winning side against St. Bonaventure last night and winds up its regular season against Villanova Saturday. Notre Dame, already picked for the NCAA tournament, finishes against Marquette the same night.

Nine of the first 10 teams and most of the second 10 are sure, or almost sure, of seeing tournament action.

Along with Duquesne, Western Kentucky (No. 3), Wichita (12) Holy Cross (13), Dayton (14) and Louisville (20) have been picked for the NIT.

Notre Dame 6, LaSalle 8 Seattle (10) and Connecticut (19) have been named for the NCAA.

George Washington (9) leads the way into the Southern Conference Tournament Thursday and Duke (11), Maryland (17) and North Carolina State (18) will begin the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament the same day.

Notre Dame Moves Up

Major changes in the rankings since last week saw Notre Dame go from sixth to fifth, switching places with Oklahoma A&M as the Aggies lost twice. Louisiana State and LaSalle climb from 12th and 13th to seventh and eighth, respectively, and Holy Cross drop from seventh to 13th after a one-point loss to Connecticut.

'Coney Little League Session Set Friday

The Lonaconing Little League will meet at the City Hall there at 8 p. m. Friday to formulate plans for the coming season, according to Melvin Sloan, president.

Sloan said that by-laws and rules for the coming campaign will be discussed and teams will be organized. He urged all managers and other interested parents to attend.

Willie Mays Makes Spectacular Debut

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 2 (AP)—Centerfielder Willie Mays came directly off an all-night plane ride to the ball park and donned a New York Giants uniform for the first time since May 29, 1952 today. He turned in a spectacular debut in an intra-squad game.

The 22-year-old star, released from the Army at Ft. Eustis, Va., yesterday, hit a 400-foot homer with two runners aboard in his initial trip to the plate, then made two amazing fielding plays.

First he ran into right center to snare a ball off the wall and double up a runner who had lingered a bit too far off first base. Then, after losing a ball momentarily in the sun, he raced back to catch it over his shoulder in deepest centerfield, some 400 feet away from home plate.

Despite May's homer, the regulars had to put on a four-run rally in the ninth to down the Yannigans 8-5.

Nagel Joins Sooners

NORMAN, Okla., March 2 (AP)—University of Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson today announced he had hired Ray Nagel, former UCLA quarterback, as a member of his football coaching staff.

Mims, Ward Bout Set For Detroit

DETROIT, March 2 (AP)—Middleweight Holly Mims is due to lose one decision tomorrow before he puts on a glove for his 10-round bout with Moses Ward at Olympic Stadium.

Ward, a Detroiter, and Mims of Washington, D. C., will meet Wednesday in a nationally televised bout (CBS 10 p.m. EST).

William Matney, member of the Michigan Boxing Commission, said Mims would be fined at a commission meeting Wednesday because he arrived in Detroit late Saturday, reporting three days late for his training.

Michigan rules require that a main event fighter must set up training quarters in the state seven days before the bout.

Oddsmakers and statistics give Mims a slight edge over Ward.

Hermanettes Meet

A meeting of the Hermanettes of the newly formed Atlantic Coast Girls' Softball League, will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewing Company. A social will follow the meeting.

Shooting Brings Tighter Capitol Security Rules

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP) — Tightened security precautions were put on at the Capitol and key downtown government buildings today after the wild shooting spree by Puerto Rican Nationalists in the House chamber.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass), after conferring with Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas, announced that beginning today no one will be admitted to the visitors gallery of the House without an admittance card issued by a member.

"We're going to hold each congressman responsible for those he issued a card to," he said.

Martin said precautions will also be taken with regard to visitors to the buildings housing members' offices.

There are several sections in the House gallery. For persons wishing to listen to the debate for an extended period, admittance is by card issued through a member of the House.

Other sections are used by tourists on guided tours of the Capitol. They remain in the House chamber for about 10 minutes before moving on. They are admitted after a check for cameras, but without cards. It was to one of these sections that the Puerto Ricans were admitted yesterday.

C. A. Bottolfsen, deputy sergeant at arms of the Senate, told reporters the Senate galleries would remain open as usual to spectators and that visitors in the future would not be searched.

But he said that additional uniformed Capitol guards would be assigned to police the galleries.

According to a recent study, it was found that cows kept in comfort stalls produce more milk than those in tie-in chain stalls. The comfort stall is larger than the tie-in.

Soviet Ship's Iron Curtain Fails To Stop Scots Nurse

LERWICK, Shetland Islands, March 2 (AP) — A slim Scots nurse broke through the Iron Curtain clambering aboard a gale-lashed Russian trawler grounded in a sandy Scottish cove.

Armed only with a bone for the ship's dog, she broke down the barrier of unfriendly reserve the Russians had put up since their tiny craft ran aground on the Isle of Unst early Sunday.

The 19-man local lifesaving crew, soaked through and exasperated at repeated refusals of their offers of assistance, left the vicinity of the trawler yesterday afternoon after an 18-hour vigil.

So Miss Jemina Sutherland, district nurse on Unst, decided to see what she could to.

With the juicy bone sticking out of her uniform pocket she clambered up a rope ladder and hauled herself aboard. The crew were eating below.

"One man came out and looked at me suspiciously," she said, "then I found a boy who could speak English."

Ten minutes later she called to the shore for three schoolteacher friends who came out with their Russian grammars.

Half an hour later the deck of the trawler was packed with islanders bringing bread, water and local delicacies for the Russians. In return they were given tins of Russian cigarettes and cans of meat.

Fisherman Duncan Mouat came ashore clutching a bottle of perfume with the words "in memory of good comrades" scrawled on the label.

Pamphlets Criticizing Sen. M'Carthy Passed Out By University Students

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 2 (AP)—A dozen Indiana University students, calling themselves Robin Hood's Merry Men, began passing out printed pamphlets on the campus yesterday criticizing Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

"Join Robin Hood's Merry Men," one pamphlet said, "who are concerned about both communism and the McCarthyism threat to American freedom. Wear the green feather."

Students were handed white buttons with green feathers.

One pamphlet was addressed to "Friar General Robert Stevens," the Army secretary who got into a dispute with Sen. McCarthy last week. It said:

"Little John says thee should take extra arrows and use the long bow. McCarthy's hide is like that of yon fellow Hitler's."

The group's name apparently came from a recent furore raised over the Robin Hood legend by Mrs. Thomas White of Indianapolis, a member of Indiana's State Textbook Commission. She said Communists were using the legend for their own propaganda purposes.

One pamphlet, reproducing two New York Times articles about Mrs. White's protest, said: "They're your books; don't let McCarthyism burn them."

Another student whose name appeared on the pamphlet, Bernard Bray of Vevay, Ind., a junior, said financial help to buy buttons and green feathers was provided by the Rev. W. Douglas Rae, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and three members of his congregation. The three he identified as Bob Lemon, manager of television station WTTV; Norman Scissna, WTTV sales manager, and Paul Lennon, a sports announcer.

Col. R. L. Shoemaker, dean of students at the university, issued a statement saying: "They are in no sense attempting to reflect the thinking of the student body or any student organization at Indiana University."

Piedmont To Make Swim Pool Repairs

PIEDMONT — The municipal swimming pool will be repainted in the near future, and a new diving board installed. Seventy-five gallons channel blue paint at $4.95 per gallon and 15 gallons of paint reducer at $1.25 a gallon to paint the pool were ordered at the meeting of Mayor Allan Hill and City Council, Monday evening, from the Sweene Paint Company through its representative Emory Turner of Cumberland.

City officials also ordered 15 gallons white paint at $4.70 a gallon and five gallons thinner from the Concrete Service Company, Philadelphia. This paint will be used to paint the center pier and the pool base in the deep water area.

Also authorized was the purchase of a new 14-foot diving board with wooden deck, from American Playground Device Company, Anderson, Ind., for $138.75, plus ten percent.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 2 (INS)—The cute charmer, Rita Moreno, with her wide, innocent eyes and the curvy figure and kissable mouth, who adorns the cover of this week's Life magazine, has been signed to a long termer by 20th Century-Fox.

Nope, the cover isn't responsible for getting her the job. It's Rita's good performance in "Garden Of Evil" with Susan Hayward and Gary Cooper, the movie shot in Mexico, that won her the contract.

Zsa Zsa Gabor swears that it isn't true that she was at the Phoenix Country Club Saturday night with Porfirio Rubirosa.

"Why you know I wouldn't go out with a married man," she said. "I'll tell you what I think happened. Bundy Solt came down to Phoenix to do a TV show with me and he escorted me to the country club dance. He looks a little like Rubi."

I might not have believed Zsa Zsa if I hadn't received a telegram from Palm Beach saying that Barbara Hutton, Rubirosa, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor were at a party hosted by Cobina Wright and Earl Blackwell at the La Coquile Club.

The compliments are flying right and left for the Sunday Colgate comedy hour show. Frankie Sinatra has never been as good in his life. And as for Ethel Merman, she's always one of my favorite gals. Bert Lahr was better than good. Frankie says Julie Styne deserves credit for the whole comedy spot because he put it together.

And, speaking of my friend Mr. Sinatra, he's going to New York for a couple of weeks—says he has to be there on business. I asked Frankie if by chance he might fly to Rome. He said no, that Ava Gardner will be back in three weeks.

The winners of the Photoplay magazine gold medal awards to be announced at the annual dinner Monday night are Marilyn Monroe for the best actress; Alan Ladd for best actor, and Columbia's "From Here To Eternity," the best picture.

Marilyn wins for both "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" and "How to Marry a Millionaire" and Alan collects for "Shane."

Special awards go to Darryl Zanuck for CinemaScope; to Walt Disney for his unique contributions to picture progress; to Elaine Stewart, most promising newcomer; Robert Wagner, fastest rising star; Frank Sinatra for "From Here to Eternity" and to George Stevens for his direction of "Shane."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Jennifer Jones, who expects her baby this summer, and David Selznick are at the Howard manor in Palm Springs until they find a house.

The six-year-old daughter of Jack Buetel, Cynthia, suffered a compound fracture of her right arm when she fell off the couch in the living room.

Buddy Rogers flew to New York to join Mary Pickford and together they will go on to the Argentine film festival.

Desi Arnaz is translating the "I Love Lucy" comic books for South America, and he's the boy who can do it.

Milton Pickman says it's the ham in his attractive wife, Kay, that takes her to Phoenix to co-star with Buddy Ebsen in "The Male Animal" at the Sombrero Playhouse.

"So," says Milton, "we're calling off the party we were planning for Saturday night."

Walter Winchell and Sally DeMarco at the Mocambo did a dance that practically cleared the floor—yes, it was that good.

Judy Garland and Sid Luft at a ringside table the same night, not only applauded Norman Brooks, but Judy sang along with him.

Helen Hayes, who almost never entertains, took over the private room at Luchow's in New York after the Jack Benny TV show to give a party in Jack's honor. My New York scout reports that all of the Broadway stars were there—Mary Martin, Audrey Hepburn, Mel Ferrer, John Hodiak, Joseph Cotton, Edna Best, Anita Loos, Sloan Simpson, were a few who accepted Helen' invitation.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

"I had my long, fine, pretty hair cut off about a year ago and since then it only looks right on Fridays after I leave the beauty shop," writes a saddened and disillusioned reader. "Consequently I always go around other days with either a scarf over my head or my hair in a net. Can you suggest a solution?"

Well, the fact that your hair does look attractive after your Friday appointment indicates you may need practice in hair grooming. The next time the beauty operator sets your hair, study her techniques.

Tools Important

Of course, you can't hope to do a skilled job without the necessary tools. If you lack even one, a perfect coiffure cannot be achieved.

First of all, you need a spanking clean brush with medium-stiff bristles for sparking, well-separated strands and an even distribution of the hair's oil.

You need a finer, soft-bristled brush for arranging your hair after setting. It takes a little practice to learn how to dress your hair with a brush rather than a comb but once you master the technique, how much more professional and lovely your hair will look!

For setting and arranging, be sure to have a good stock of grip-tooth combs, bobby and hairpins for pinning and holding sections and curls as indicated.

The Groomed Look

Pomades can be used to give hair shine; spray-on liquids are available for wisp control. There now are sprays which may be used as a setting lotion for pin curls and also as a grooming aid to keep your set in place after it has been combed out and dressed. Some of these are specially designed to give fine hair the kind of good firm body that results in a beautiful hair-do.

You can learn to use your equipment with the touch of a professional in a very short time. When you do, you'll have few hair problems, more beauty and a coiffure that looks freshly done all of the time. A precious few minutes of care per day is a small price to pay for locks that always fall beautifully into place!

Butcher Trades Lion For Spaniel

CHICAGO, March 2 (AP) — Monte, the African lion, lost the comfort of parlor living today and went back to life in a pet shop.

In his stead, lion-lover Albert Kuchta, has a fluffy cocker spaniel named Cuddles—as well as some minor scratches and bruises from Monte.

Kuchta, a 72-year-old butcher, got the lion cub Sunday, and was told that among things he should keep in mind about lions in general were (1) don't try to retrieve anything the animal decides to play with, (2) show him who's boss.

Monte was playing with the cover of a kettle and sure enough Kuchta tried to take it away. Monte summoned up all the jungle courage of any four-months-old lion and let Kuchta have it—not the kettle cover—just tooth and claw.

Kuchta remembered about showing Monte just who's boss, and tangled with Monte. He lost.

Today Kuchta elected to give up the lion, even if he'd lose money on the deal. But before any offers could be taken, Bernie Hoffman, the pet owner who had sold Monte to Kuchta for $150, took the lion and gave Kuchta a more suitable parlor pet—a spaniel. He refunded the difference in price.

Kuchta, in explaining his brief life among the lions, said he'd admired Monte for some time before buying him, and then did so because:

"I wanted to be a sport, and have something nobody else had."

Frostburg Blood Bank Hits All-Time Record

Exceeds Cumberland's One-Day Total

FROSTBURG — Volunteers donated a total of 195½ pints of blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank yesterday on the quarterly visit of the Johnstown Bloodmobile unit. This was an all-time record for Frostburg, and exceeded Cumberland's previous day's total.

Key-Mont Seeks Extension Of Water System

Ask Piedmont Council Build Line Extension

PIEDMONT — Mrs. Doe Hott was spokesman for a delegation from Key-Mont, which appeared before the Mayor and Council here and asked that the town's water lines be extended to that community.

Mayor Allan Hill explained that he was afraid it would be a costly proposition as they are not within the city's corporate limits.

The delegation stated there would be about 24 users and thought it would encourage the building of more homes in that settlement.

They were informed the city could only be required to run the line 300 feet and they would have to pay the rest of the expenses. It was ordered that the city clerk get prices of four and six inch water pipe, for their information at the next meeting, March 15.

The lease of Murvin Smith for land in vicinity of Half-Way House for use of city's garbage dump was ordered renewed for one year effective April 1. Smith asked the same fee as the present lease.

Edward Warnick and John Dennison of Dennison Studio claimed there is discrimination in the city's operation of parking meters.

Mayor Hill stated if the police were showing any discrimination he did not know what it was but he and the council had been criticizing the officers for not tagging as many violators as they should. They are doing their job more efficiently and since the city is receiving some complaints, this is a good sign, he said.

State Sophomores To Take Guidance Tests This Week

FROSTBURG — Sophomores at State Teachers College will participate in the National College Sophomore testing program on Wednesday and Friday in sessions to be held at the college.

The purpose of this program is to offer objective tests of achievement in the various fields which are commonly studied during the first two years of college, and to provide a means of counseling and guiding students as they plan further schooling.

As effective guidance aims at showing a student his own relative standing in a wide range of abilities, each student will be given an interpretative leaflet in May. This leaflet will contain a profile sheet and explanatory information. When these results are compared with those obtained from the Freshmen testing program, an accurate appraisal may be made.

In the past, State students have compared favorably with other colleges on this test. It is imperative that all sophomores participate if an accurate result is to be obtained.

First Candidate Announces For Frostburg Vote

Perry W. Myers Is Candidate For Mayor

FROSTBURG—Perry W. Myers, 150 East Main Street, has announced his candidacy for mayor of Frostburg.

Myers, who has been a member of the town council for two consecutive terms and led the ticket in balloting both times, says he is running as an independent and is not a part of any faction or slate.

He is presently police and fire commissioner and was first elected to council in 1950 and reelected with a large plurality in 1952.

Commissioner Myers is a native of Eckhart, but left here many years ago to work in Detroit. He joined the city of Detroit's police department, became a mounted patrolman and earned steady promotions. When he retired after 37 years service he was the police inspector for the entire department.

He returned to Frostburg in 1946 and has taken an active interest in civic and local affairs since.

His wife, the former Miss Anna Caudill, is a native of Frostburg. She is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and taught school for a number of years. She has done some substitute teaching in recent years, and is widely known in civic and social circles.

Jesse Jacobs is the present mayor of Frostburg and he has not yet made any formal announcement as to his intentions.

The election will be held April 6.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Darling, would you do your imitations now? It's time this party was breaking up."

Radio And Television

A Stroll On Madison Avenue

It's been a long time since I took you on a stroll through Madison Avenue, listening to the delightful figures of speech which flower on that thoroughfare. On Madison Avenue, when tackling a problem, a man never says: "Well, we're getting somewhere." That's much too easy.

John Crosby

You have to trick it up a little. Recently, an ad agency executive — so help me Hannah — ended a conference with the words: "Well, the oars are in the water and we're headed upstream." That may easily be my favorite sentence since another genius over there let fly with: "Let's up periscope and look around." The metaphors are all sprouting water-wings.

On Madison Avenue, ideas are inspected, sniffed at, mulled over and tormented more than anywhere else and naturally this has brought forth language of unique beauty. One ad man, sniffling away at a program idea, turned to his colleagues and remarked: "Let's drop this down the well and see how big a splash it makes."

Then there was the network executive who, when confronted with an idea which demanded some cogitation, declared: "Let me take a temperature reading on this and I'll get back to you." And another network executive, trying not to commit himself too deeply on one of his own ideas, qualified it with: "Mind you, I'm only giving a side-saddle opinion."

One crazy mixed up ad agency man, nosing around a projected program, murmured: "Let's guinea pig that for size." Meaning, I guess, let's try it out on a small scale before getting stuck with it on a large one. As I say, I guess that's what it means. Sometimes this stuff comes in badly translated.

Then there was the case of one ad agency man trying to talk down the ideas of another one. Snarled the second one to the first one: "Don't low bridge me."

And in this connection, though outside the agency field, there is an expression which I'm very fond of over at one of the news magazines called "the diagonal nod," it means his opinion falls exactly halfway between "It's great" and "It's lousy." So, naturally everyone over there knows exactly where he stands.

The break up of Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca, long rumored, has become fact — or will be fact June 5 when "Show of Shows" takes its summer vacation. Mr. Caesar will star in his own hour-long show. At this writing, it isn't quite known exactly what Miss Coca's talents, one of the most variegated in TV, will be encased in.

The big question is whether Caesar can get along without Coca or Coca without Caesar. Can Martin get along without Lewis or vice versa? Neither Caesar nor Coca, the latter having been around a long time, too, ever hit top stardom until they got together.

The press conference announcing the dissolution of the five-year partnership, one of the most rewarding and popular in show business, was a tearful one and rightly so. In five years, the Caesar-Coca combine has spoofed just about everything from silent films to "Dragnet." Some of their husband-and-wife routines are classics of authentic humor and deserve to be preserved somewhere like the Museum of Modern Art film library.

The reasons for the break up are simply economic. No one can afford Caesar and Coca and the high-budgeted production of "Show of Shows" all in one package. It's a shame, too. Next thing you know Burns and Allen will be breaking up because George can't afford Gracie.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Barclay

FEAR BAD DISTRIBUTION

WHENEVER you have an extremely freakish distribution, of great suit length combined with shortages, pause a moment to recall who shuffled the cards, and what kind of shuffling he did. If he or she happened to be one of those "beautiful" shufflers who make the cards sing a song during the mechanically precise riffling, then bear in mind the fact that there are probably extremely freakish lengths all around the table. In other words, what happened to your cards was likely to have happened to the others as well, so the remainders of your suits might be stacked against you.

	♠ A K Q 9 8 7 6 5 ♥ None ♦ K Q J 4 ♣ A
♠ J 10 4 3 2 ♥ 8 7 3 ♦ None ♣ J 9 6 4 3	N W E S	♠ None ♥ A K 2 ♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 3 2 ♣ K Q
	♠ None ♥ Q J 10 9 6 5 4 ♦ A ♣ 10 8 7 5 2

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1. 6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl.
2. 2 ♠	3 ♠	3 ♥	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
7 ♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl.
Rdbl.
3. 2 ♠	3 ♦	Dbl.

Not one declarer on this crazy deal in a tournament made his contract. Even the doubled 3-Diamonds by East was beaten two tricks. But what happened to some of the others was a caution, as the remainders of everybody's main suit were bunched in one opponent's hand.

There was no way, in the case of this deal, for any of the players to know just who had shuffled the cards, or how it was done. But several of the participants said, afterward, that if it had come in a rubber bridge game, with a fancy shuffler on the job, they would have been more wary and would have endeavored to get their opponents out on a limb instead of being caught there themselves.

Looking at just the North and South hands, you would think that the top spot would be 7-Spades redoubled. But it was bottom score when West set it two tricks. Middle scores came where the contracts were only 6-Spades, either not doubled, doubled or redoubled.

The only serious lesson in such a freak is to be suspicious when you have such a hand, and bid as gradually as seems wise, in order to confirm or deny your fears.

Radio And Television

A Stroll On Madison Avenue

It's been a long time since I took you on a stroll through Madison Avenue, listening to the delightful figures of speech which flower on that thoroughfare. On Madison Avenue, when tackling a problem, a man never says: "Well, we're getting somewhere." That's much too easy.

John Crosby

You have to trick it up a little. Recently, an ad agency executive — so help me Hannah — ended a conference with the words: "Well, the oars are in the water and we're headed upstream." That may easily be my favorite sentence since another genius over there let fly with: "Let's up periscope and look around." The metaphors are all sprouting water-wings.

On Madison Avenue, ideas are inspected, sniffed at, mulled over and tormented more than anywhere else and naturally this has brought forth language of unique beauty. One ad man, sniffling away at a program idea, turned to his colleagues and remarked: "Let's drop this down the well and see how big a splash it makes."

Then there was the network executive who, when confronted with an idea which demanded some cogitation, declared: "Let me take a temperature reading on this and I'll get back to you." And another network executive, trying not to commit himself too deeply on one of his own ideas, qualified it with: "Mind you, I'm only giving a side-saddle opinion."

One crazy mixed up ad agency man, nosing around a projected program, murmured: "Let's guinea pig that for size." Meaning, I guess, let's try it out on a small scale before getting stuck with it on a large one. As I say, I guess that's what it means. Sometimes this stuff comes in badly translated.

Then there was the case of one ad agency man trying to talk down the ideas of another one. Snarled the second one to the first one: "Don't low bridge me."

And in this connection, though outside the agency field, there is an expression which I'm very fond of over at one of the news magazines called "the diagonal nod," it means his opinion falls exactly halfway between "It's great" and "It's lousy." So, naturally everyone over there knows exactly where he stands.

The break up of Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca, long rumored, has become fact — or will be fact June 5 when "Show of Shows" takes its summer vacation. Mr. Caesar will star in his own hour-long show. At this writing, it isn't quite known exactly what Miss Coca's talents, one of the most variegated in TV, will be encased in.

The big question is whether Caesar can get along without Coca or Coca without Caesar. Can Martin get along without Lewis or vice versa? Neither Caesar nor Coca, the latter having been around a long time, too, ever hit top stardom until they got together.

The press conference announcing the dissolution of the five-year partnership, one of the most rewarding and popular in show business, was a tearful one and rightly so. In five years, the Caesar-Coca combine has spoofed just about everything from silent films to "Dragnet." Some of their husband-and-wife routines are classics of authentic humor and deserve to be preserved somewhere like the Museum of Modern Art film library.

The reasons for the break up are simply economic. No one can afford Caesar and Coca and the high-budgeted production of "Show of Shows" all in one package. It's a shame, too. Next thing you know Burns and Allen will be breaking up because George can't afford Gracie.

Daily Bridge Lesson

FEAR BAD DISTRIBUTION

WHENEVER you have an extremely freakish distribution, of great suit length combined with shortages, pause a moment to recall who shuffled the cards, and what kind of shuffling he did. If he or she happened to be one of those "beautiful" shufflers who make the cards sing a song during the mechanically precise riffling, then bear in mind the fact that there are probably extremely freakish lengths all around the table. In other words, what happened to your cards was likely to have happened to the others as well, so the remainders of your suits might be stacked against you.

	♠ A K Q 9 8 7 6 5 ♥ None ♦ K Q J 4 ♣ A
♠ J 10 4 3 2 ♥ 8 7 3 ♦ None ♣ J 9 6 4 3	N W E S	♠ None ♥ A K 2 ♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 3 2 ♣ K Q
	♠ None ♥ Q J 10 9 6 5 4 ♦ A ♣ 10 8 7 5 2

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1. 6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl.
2. 2 ♠	3 ♦	3 ♥	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
7 ♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl.
Rdbl.
3. 2 ♠	3 ♦	Dbl.

Not one declarer on this crazy deal in a tournament made his contract. Even the doubled 3-Diamonds by East was beaten two tricks. But what happened to some of the others was a caution, as the remainders of everybody's main suit were bunched in one opponent's hand.

There was no way, in the case of this deal, for any of the players to know just who had shuffled the cards, or how it was done. But several of the participants said, afterward, that if it had come in a rubber bridge game, with a fancy shuffler on the job, they would have been more wary and would have endeavored to get their opponents out on a limb instead of being caught there themselves.

Looking at just the North and South hands, you would think that the top spot would be 7-Spades redoubled. But it was bottom score when West set it two tricks. Middle scores came where the contracts were only 6-Spades, either not doubled, doubled or redoubled.

The only serious lesson in such a freak is to be suspicious when you have such a hand, and bid as gradually as seems wise, in order to confirm or deny your fears.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ 8 5 4 2 ♥ A 9 8 ♦ A J 9 4 ♣ 10 6
♠ None ♥ Q 7 4 3 2 ♦ 8 5 3 ♣ A K J 8 2	N W E S	♠ K Q J 10 ♥ K 5 ♦ K 2 ♣ Q 9 7 5 4
	♠ A 9 7 6 ♥ J 10 6 ♦ Q 10 7 6 ♣ 3

Without noting the East and West hands, what would you consider the correct contract for North and South on this deal?

In Memoriam

In memory of my beloved father, George M. Kesecker, Sr., who died 5 years ago today, March 3, 1949.

You have journeyed on to a better land.
Released from your suffering, safe in God's hand.
But the memory of you that is left behind.
Lies deep in my heart, wonderful Dad of mine.

Daughter, Margaret.

Card of Thanks

Our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their kindness and help during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved father, T. R. Samuel. We especially wish to thank the members of the Men's Bible Class of Grace M. E. Church. The use of cars, floral tributes and expressions of sympathy are truly appreciated.

The Samuel Family.

We desire to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind and helpful to us during the illness and following the death of our beloved husband and father, Kepton Burrell. We especially wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

MRS. KEPTON BRIGHT BURRELL and FAMILY.

In Memoriam

In memory of my beloved father, George M. Kesecker, Sr., who died 5 years ago today, March 3, 1949.
You have journeyed on to a better land.
Released from your suffering, safe in God's hand.
But the memory of you that is left behind.
Lies deep in my heart, wonderful Dad of mine.
Daughter, Margaret.

Card of Thanks

Our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their kindness and help during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved father, T. R. Samuel. We especially wish to thank the members of the Men's Bible Class of Grace M. E. Church. The use of cars, floral tributes and expressions of sympathy are truly appreciated.
The Samuel Family.

We desire to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind and helpful to us during the illness and following the death of our beloved husband and father, Kepton Burrell. We especially wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.
MRS. KEPTON BRIGHT BURRELL and FAMILY.

Sen. Kimble Attacks Delegate Whitworth

Delegate Says Senator's Speech Deprives Counties Of Revenues

ANNAPOLIS, March 2 (AP)—Sen. Robert B. Kimble of Allegany County today delivered one of the strongest attacks on another legislator ever heard in the Maryland Senate when he assailed a fellow Republican delegate from his own county, Horace P. Whitworth Jr.

Whitworth replied in a House floor speech that it was a "devious way of defeating" a bill by the delegate to redistribute capital shares taxes from public utilities to all counties.

"He spent 30 minutes chastising me and five minutes talking about merits of the bill," Whitworth told the House. "Then he voted for the bill."

The bill was defeated 20-9.

"Because of the tyrannical and irresponsible remarks by Kimble, 20 counties are deprived of their just share of taxes," Whitworth said. He was greeted with applause by fellow delegates, a majority of whom passed the bill.

Both Whitworth and Kimble mentioned next November's election in their exchange.

"Sen. Kimble has more or less opened up the political campaign because he has reason to believe he will have opposition in the forthcoming election," said Whitworth.

Whitworth has considered running against Kimble.

After accusing Whitworth of "exaggeration and untruths," Kimble said:

"But the grand climax of them all—the one I shall have framed when it becomes my privilege to witness the counting of the ballots (in November) and when I shall have two votes for every one he shall have—is this."

He claimed then that Whitworth was trying "to get the bill out of the Senate Finance Committee. He not only represents the people of Allegany County in the House, He also represents them in the Senate—in his imagination."

Sen. Kimble claimed that Whitworth had called newspapers in Cumberland and misrepresented him as being against the bill and "my county's welfare."

"Men," he stated "ought to recognize the neeessity for adhering to the fundamentals of common decency. Men shouldn't exaggerate or tell falsehoods."

(Editor's Note—Neither Delegate Whitworth nor Senator Kimble has made any effort during the session of the legislature to speak for the other in contacts with this newspaper. Neither has either of these county legislators attempted to belittle the other in conversations with The Cumberland News. If Senator Kimble desires to issue a statement to clarify his comment in Annapolis The News will be glad to print it as an explanation to its readers. The columns of this newspaper also are open to Delegate Whitworth.)

Charges Inaccuracy

The senator charged Whitworth with inaccurately reporting that Allegany County would gain $63,000 by the bill. Kimble said the amount would be reduced to $39,800 because of related losses in school funds.

"I made no attempt to misrepresent or twist the figures," Whitworth replied. He explained he first reported figures given him by the State Tax Commission showing an Allegany gain of $63,000.

"Two days later," he said the commission revised the figure downward to show effect of the school funds and "I immediately gave it to my people."

Whitworth told the delegates that after "the outburst by Sen. Kimble I don't know if I'm worthy to sit in this honorable body."

Answers Accusation

Del. Humphrey (D-Prince Georges) assured him that in his 12 years "I never saw the delegate from Allegany County misrepresent anything in this House."

Sen. Ramsburg (R-Frederick), whose county would suffer a loss of $101,500 in the shares tax and a net loss of $50,750, calmly listed several reasons for opposing the bill.

Among other things, he said, Whitworth had persistently tried to sway individual senators on the bill, telling them key budget legislation would be blocked in the House until his measure passed the Senate.

Whitworth also said other senators "took advantage of misconstruing some statements I made to them last night." He mentioned conversations with Sens. Ramsburg (R-Frederick) and Shehan (D-Talbot).

"They accused me of holding up the bond bill until HB43 (his bill) passed the Senate," he said. "They gave me credit for more power than I have as a member of the minority party.

"Frankly, I hoped the bond bill would not pass until after HB43, because I had visions of quick adjournment then and leaving it hanging."

Posts Removed By State At Kight's Garage

Traffic Channeling Question Solved

A. M. Kight, who operates Kight's Garage on the Baltimore Pike just east of Cumberland said yesterday State Roads Commission crews have removed the fence-post barricades at his station.

Last week, Kight complained that guardposts erected between his garage-service station and U. S. Route 40 created a traffic hazard and also blocked off his tractor-trailer trade.

U. S. Route 40 Association also raised objection to the state's program of channeling traffic by this system of guard rails and posts.

Investigation Takes Place

Earl E. Manges, attorney to the Association, was authorized to intercede for the group as a whole in behalf of Kight and others who felt their business volume was being adversely affected.

Manges contacted the proper officials and investigation was made by State Roads Commission engineers and other officials.

Kight said that during this several day period, three vehicles struck the posts. One, driven by a regular customer, another by a tourist, and the third, a large tractor-trailer. This last mishap occurred early yesterday morning, Kight said. The tractor-trailer struck and tore out five of the posts and the driver did not stop.

State Roads crews removed all of the remaining posts yesterday.

SRC Officials Commended

Kight said he has no criticism of the roads officials responsible for installation. These men were acting on orders and were only doing their job as directed, he stated.

Kight said he appreciates the cooperation of the Association, and that he is also appreciative of the cooperation of officials of the State Roads Commission office here.

"They could not have been more cooperative," he declared.

Lonaconing Man Sentenced In Obscenity Case

Charles Lyons, 43, of Lonaconing, yesterday was sentenced to eight months in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of distributing obscene literature to small children in Lonaconing.

Lonaconing Trial Magistrate Melvin Sloan, who heard the case, recommended that Lyons be given psychiatric treatment at the House of Correction.

Lyons was convicted of violating Section 496 of Article 27 of the State Code. Sloan said this section pertains to the distribution of obscene literature.

The Lonaconing man was arrested Sunday afternoon by State Trooper Harry Bosley after parents complained about the actions of a person there.

Magistrate Sloan said that Lyons admitted having given eight and nine-year-old girls obscene notes. He then disrobed in the presence of the children, the magistrate added. Sloan asserted that three or four times previously Lonaconing residents had complained that their children had been molested in such a manner.

Lyons, who served in the Army during and since World War II, is unmarried.

The magistrate explained that Lyons also was charged with indecent exposure but the sentence was given on the state offense.

The Weather

The weather yesterday was a far cry from that which visited the area on Monday. The sun shone brightly all afternoon, although the air was a little chilly. The high temperature yesterday, according to the official mark at Constitution Park, was 51 degrees with a low reading of 31 degrees and at 8 p. m. the mercury registered 40 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 52 per cent. The forecast for today is increasing cloudiness and mild, high in the 50s, with showers in the west portion this afternoon.

City Will Get Petitions On Gas Rate Case

Fund Solicitation Plan Is Dropped

Petitions protesting a proposed increase in gas rates will be presented to the Mayor and Council Monday morning.

Signed by thousands of citizens of the city, they will be presented by a committee composed of Mrs. J. W. Whittington, chairman, Mrs. John Ashenfelter, Kenneth Alderton and Homer Berry.

Plans for the action were made at a mass meeting held in City Hall and sponsored by a citizens committee set up recently to lead the fight against the rate boost.

Plans were also made to call another mass meeting at City Hall March 23 at 7:30 p. m. to hear reports from Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, on the opening of the case by the Public Service Commission on March 10.

Will Not Solicit

The committee stressed that no public collection will be taken at this time to aid in the fight, and that nobody is authorized to solicit funds.

The city, which will join forces with the county to fight the rate boost, will forward the petitions to the PSC.

Finan said the petitions will strengthen the people's case and suggested that personal letters be sent by citizens to bolster the public's fight.

He said there was no need at present for funds raised by public solicitation, but said such action might be necessary later.

The city and county, he added, will give financial aid in the drive, and there is a possibility that industries, which face increases also, may be willing to contribute.

Finan said the present case will not be decided earlier than late August or early September, and promised to keep the public abreast of the situation.

Fight Must Continue

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who suggested that the petitions be turned in Monday, warned that the fight must be kept moving, adding that some citizens may feel the fight is less urgent as warm weather comes and brings a drop in gas bills.

The present request of the gas company, Finan predicted, will meet stiffer opposition from the PSC, since it comes so soon after last year's.

J. T. Humbertson presided at the meeting, attended by more than 100 citizens.

Whitworth Seeks Kimble's Office

Delegate Whitworth reported from Annapolis last night that he intends to file as a candidate for Senator Kimble's seat in the State Senate as soon as he gets home from the present session.

Whitworth declared Kimble's "personal, antagonistic tirade" was "irresponsible" and that Kimble was "oblivious to the harm it would do to Allegany County," since Whitworth "dared to run against him in the Senate."

Expert Talks On Exports

The Cumberland Rotary Club yesterday heard an export talk from an expert, Richard G. Lurie of New York City, editor of American Exporter, a foreign trade journal.

"Export—a Strange Way of Life" was the topic of Lurie's remarks.

Discussing some of the problems of foreign trade, the editor said prompt payments is not one of them. For instance, he said, some German manufacturers will allow American companies up to five years to pay for goods.

During the past year exports by the United States totaled $15,000,000,000, including $2,000,000,000 in defense goods. Imports amounted to $11,000,000,000.

Foreign trade is important to such a local concern as the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, which has offices around the world, the speaker concluded.

Cash prizes totaling $2,275 will be awarded for the 61 best designs submitted. The grand prize will be worth $350 to the talented youngster who, in the minds of the judges, creates the best poster. The D. C. Division includes the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia.

Jaycees To Meet At Shrine Club

Tomorrow night will be "Exhausted Roosters" night at the regular membership meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce at Ali Ghan Country Club, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

All members of the Jaycees who have reached their 36th birthday will be guests of honor at the association's dinner conference, Albert D. Darby, secretary, announces.

Loughlin Is Added To Celanese Board

K. C. Loughlin, vice president and general manager of the Textile Division of Celanese Corporation of America, has been elected a director of the corporation. Loughlin's election increases the board from nine to ten members.

Conservation Engineering

Soil Conservation Leaders Study Drainage Problems

U. S. Soil Conservation Service employes from three Western Maryland counties are studying the peculiar drainage problems of a Mason Road farm during a two-day engineering meeting which ends here today.

SCS personnel from Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties visited the farm of Robert Adams on Mason Road yesterday afternoon. There George Wheeler, engineering specialist for 14 Maryland counties, led the group as they considered the engineering problem and what can be done to correct drainage problems on Adams' farm.

Leaders in the two-day meeting are Edward Davis, state soil conservationist; Gail Eley, irrigation engineer for 12 northeastern states with headquarters at Upper Darby, Pa.; Hugh Hancock, area conservationist for seven Western Maryland counties, and Wheeler.

Also attending are Kenneth Stone, Martin M. Gordon, Stuart Delbrook and Roy Shryock, all of Allegany County; William Nace and Cecil Kight of Garrett County and Morris Bowser and James Smith of Washington County. The meetings are being held at the Soil Conservation office, 37 Washington Street.

Traffic, Fish Laws Violated At Blue Spring

State Police and fish and game wardens have issued warnings calling for observance of traffic and game laws to persons flocking to Blue Springs, along Route 51, Oldtown Road, to view thousands of carp in the spring's waters.

Altogether in the past two weeks eight violations of the fishing laws have resulted in arrests and fines, five for fishing by illegal means, principally without bait, and three for fishing without a license.

However, State Police are particularly worried because of unsafe driving conditions created by the motorists who drive to the spring, located beside the highway just a few miles from Cumberland.

Authorities said most motorists are blocking access to the narrow highway by parking on both sides of the road before walking to the spring.

State Police issued warning to all drivers in the area during the first two weeks following the discovery of the numerous fish in the spring. Most serious offense was parking along the highway without leaving the 12-foot clearance from the center of the roadway as required by law.

"Most of the drivers would park just off the highway," one officer stated, "and since Route 51 is narrow to begin with in some instances it created one-way traffic."

There is no room for parking along the spring area, police continued, because of a bank on one side of the road and the canal on the other.

"Last Sunday 84 cars were parked in less than a half-mile area," the State policeman continued. "We've warned the motorists but now we're tagging them for illegal parking," he said.

Trial Magistrates Court officials said yesterday more than 35 summonses for illegal parking have been issued in the past week or 10 days by State Police who patrol the area every day.

"Four or five minor accidents have been reported," they added, "and with traffic blocked almost all day long, especially on weekends, the chance for a serious accident is strong."

Naughton Will Speak At Bankers Meeting

Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National Bank, will be one of the speakers during a conference for young bankers in Baltimore April 7-8.

The session, the first of its kind in Maryland, will be sponsored by the educational and public relations committee of the Maryland Bankers Association. Naughton will speak on "Problems of Management in a Medium-Sized Country Bank." Charles A. Piper, president of the Liberty Trust Company, is a member of the senior conference committee.

Board Favors Road Bills

The Allegany County Commissioners yesterday wired State Senator Robert B. Kimble and Delegate Charles M. See, County Delegation chairman, urging their support for two Senate Bills which would liberalize controls over the State Roads Commission in the 12-year roads program.

Senators Kimble and George W. Della, Senate president, introduced the measures, SB 59 and SB 60.

The first would permit the State Roads Commission to construct within 10 per cent of prescribed mileage in the counties during any four-year period, providing the total for the 12-year highway building program comes within five per cent.

SB 60 would give the State Roads Commission leeway in the issuance of amounts of bonds to meet any changes during any four-year period of the 12-year building program.

Dr. Beal To Lead Discussion Group

Dr. G. M. Beal of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Marketing of the University of Maryland will be the discussion leader at the regular weekly meeting of the Economics Discussion group of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the conference room of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Dr. Beal's topic will be "Demand, Supply and Prices." This will be the seventh in a series of 17 discussions being held by the Chamber of Commerce group.

Anthony Saeli, manager of the local chamber, said yesterday the discussion group's program is progressing very satisfactorily and that attendance has increased throughout the weeks.

City Fireman Given Praise For Administering First Aid

A member of the City Fire Department, Pipeman Robert H. Martin, was commended in a recent letter to Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long for his excellent manner in giving first aid to an employe of Mary's Cleaners who sustained first degree burns in an explosion at the plant Saturday afternoon.

Long received the following letter from Lee Silcox: "Our ambulance was called Saturday afternoon to transport the victim of the explosion (Joseph Powell, 26, of 543 Fairview Avenue) at Mary's Cleaners to the hospital.

"You will be interested to know that the first aid for the burns administered by Pipeman Robert Martin was excellent, and the care of shock was not forgotten.

"Congratulations to your department. This is a plus service to our citizens."

Firemen from Central station answered the call.

Martin is a veteran of World War II and was a pharmacist mate second class in the Navy, attached to the Fleet Marine Force. He served 22 months in the Pacific.

He was discharged in February of 1946, was recalled to active duty in February 1951 and served about 16 months at the Naval Medical Center, Bethesda. He joined the Fire Department September 6, 1949.

Area Clean-Up Follows Flood; Damage Slight

Streams Recede As Weather Clears

Water backed up by a coffer dam in the Potomac River left a layer of mud and slime on a number of West Side streets and in a section of Ridgeley. Many residents had water on their sidewalks and in basements.

However, as the water receded here yesterday morning, Street Department crews went to the stricken area, and as far as possible cleaned up the mess. Areas were shoveled and swept out and then hosed down where possible. In a number of instances, portable pumps were used to clear basements.

Rainfall Is Heavy

The Potomac River left its banks here at 3:30 p. m. Monday on Water Street, after 2.64 inches of rain had fallen in the area in less than 12 hours.

Water had returned to its banks after a fairly rapid runoff by daylight yesterday morning.

In the South Branch Valley where the South Branch, North Fork and South Fork Rivers went on a roaring rampage, no serious damage was reported. Lowlands and sections of highways that were flooded are reported clear and normal.

Communications in the entire area, where more than 200 telephones were out of service, had been resumed. In the local area where a number of communities felt a communication blackout due to the wind and rain, was restored by last night. Eight emergency crews worked over 18 hours restoring telephone lines and cables.

Crest Readings Given

Along the Potomac River where readings are made by the Water Resources Division of the Geological Survey, these facts were recorded: The North Branch of the Potomac River reached a crest of 9.02 feet at 10 a. m. Monday at Kitzmiller; a crest of 9.30 feet at Luke at noon; a crest of 13.20 feet at 5 p. m. at Pinto, and crested at the Wiley Ford Bridge here at 8:30 p. m. with a depth of 15.96 feet.

On the flood control project, work was under way cleaning up after the high water. No serious damage to machinery and equipment was reported by the contractor, although a boat was smashed and a section of wooden flood wall and some concrete floors were swept away.

Full scale work on the project is to resume as the water level drops.

More than twice as much rain fell in Mineral County Monday morning than was recorded in the entire month of February, according to a statement made by D. A. Arnold, U. S. Weather observer at Keyser.

Rain Fall Is Noted

Arnold said that only 1.02 inches of rain fell in the entire month of

Discharge Case Ruling Slated

The Civil Service Commission will issue a ruling on a discharge appeal case heard Monday night at City Hall after a transcript of the lengthy meeting is available.

The hearing was requested by James H. Thompson, 65, of 320 Reservoir Avenue, who was discharged from his duties at Constitution Park as of Monday.

The action was taken by Robert R. Golden, park custodian, who cited in a letter to Thompson that "for the past several weeks it has been apparent to me you have been unable to satisfactorily perform the duties which I have assigned."

Thompson was represented by Thomas N. Berry, attorney, and the Civil Service Board by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney.

A spokesman for the board said the testimony was conflicting and that it will be necessary to study the notes of the more than three-hour hearing.

Home Rule Will Be Decided On Ballot

Legislation Passes Both Chambers; Must Be Approved By Referendum

ANNAPOLIS, March 2 (AP)—The General Assembly attached a few strings but voted tonight to allow Maryland municipalities to govern themselves.

The House wrote Senate amendments into a bill it already had passed to extend home rule to the cities and towns, a right coveted for years but heretofore denied by the Legislature.

Only Del. Reed (R-Allegany) voted against the proposed constitutional amendment which will appear on the November ballots.

State senators, some avowedly uncertain of how far they were going, had put home-rule legislation through both chambers this afternoon for the first time in Maryland history.

They made two revisions which hadn't been studied by the House of Delegates, so the proposed constitutional amendment had to go back for concurrence.

Del. Polk (D-Worcester), one of the sponsors, was confident as soon as the Senate acted that the House wouldn't put up a strong argument.

One Senate amendment would require legislative sanction before municipalities could install taxes not in effect next January. As a constitutional amendment, the measure has to be approved at a referendum with the general election or pass into oblivion.

Other Changes Cited

The other changes by Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset), would deny local governments the power to "permit any act" prohibited by State laws on Sunday observance and alcoholic beverages. Phoebus had said his purpose was to prevent such a place as Crisfield in his home county from allowing Sunday movies when folks in the rest of the county didn't want them.

Sen. McLaughlin (R-Washington) inquired if this wouldn't violate the "very spirit of the bill." Sens. Turnbull (D-Baltimore County) and Hoff (R-Carroll) got into an amiable but involved debate on exactly what the bill and amendment would do.

Turnbull said a few communities in one population group might be forced into legislation they disliked. He suggested the questions were abundant. And Sen. Redden (D-Caroline) said the dispute "exposes and illustrates the possible constitutional objections this bill will face."

Amendment Adopted

Phoebus' amendment was adopted nonetheless, 20-5, and the bill as a whole sent over to the House by a 23-6 vote.

The measure follows almost to the letter a recommendation two years ago by the Sobeloff Commission on organization of the State government. It would limit the legislature to local acts putting a ceiling on tax rates and borrowing powers. Otherwise, the General Assembly could pass laws only for municipalities in one of four classes to be established by population.

The Sobeloff Commission also proposed home rule for counties, but the Legislature hasn't been disposed to relinquish its authority in that field.

The home-rule amendment was one of two constitutional changes to win Senate approval. Majority Leader Goldstein (D-Calvert) and Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany) were successful with one to close 30-day sessions to all but fiscal matters.

The House still had to give their bill full treatment before it earned a place on the November ballot.

33 New Voters Register For City Elections

A total of 14,490 persons were listed on the city's voting records on February 28.

The total represents a net gain of 20 as a result of the registration of 33 new voters during February, the biggest registration for many months.

The new voters included 21 men and 12 women, all white.

Losses during the month were two voters stricken off the books due to leaving the city, and 11 deceased voters.

The voters are listed in the following groups, according to records compiled by Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk:

White males, 7,654; white females 6,566; colored males 173 and colored females 97.

City election officials are expecting the registration to reach its peak this month, as interest in the coming city election quickens.

The deadline for city registration is May 11.

The City Registration office is located in the basement of City Hall and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 5 p. m.

Spinners To Meet On Work Assignments

The Spinning Department of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall, according to Vito Dormio, chairman.

Business will include discussion and action on changed work assignments in the department, Dormio said.

Agencies To Map Surplus Food Rules Thursday

State Representatives Explain Procedure

As a direct result of a meeting yesterday afternoon, representatives from four welfare agencies will convene at 1:45 p. m. Thursday in the Associated Charities office at City Hall to conclude plans for certifying county residents who are in need and eligible for surplus food which will be available for distribution this spring.

Yesterday's session at the Court House involved state leaders concerned with the distribution of surplus food and the Board of County Commissioners.

Attending from Baltimore were Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Department of Public Welfare; E. L. Vogelman, supervisor of donable foods for the State Department of Budget and Procurement, and Paul Simpson, who preceded Vogelman in the latter job.

Others Attend

Also on hand were the three commissioners, William H. Lemmert, James Holmes and James Orr; Gorman E. Getty, county attorney; J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor; James G. Stevenson, clerk to the County commissioners, and Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the County Welfare Department.

Waxter said that he was interested in seeing that needy persons get the surplus butter, cheese and dried milk available, but explained that direct responsibility for obtaining the food lies with the State Department of Budget and Procurement.

Simpson told the county representatives that the U. S. Department of Agriculture limits the surplus food to one-and-one-half pounds of butter and one pound each of cheese and dried milk per person per month. Those three commodities are the only ones available.

Shipping Costs

The Federal government will pay the cost of shipping carload lots of the food to Cumberland but the county must bear the expense of storing it and distributing it within the county.

After yesterday's session Mrs. Westerfeld arranged the meeting for tomorrow afternoon with representatives of Associated Charities, Salvation Army and the Red Cross. The three private agencies will certify persons in need of food and the County Welfare Department then must approve the list. Distribution will be made only to persons so certified. Simpson also explained that United Mine Workers locals must submit their recommendations to one of the other agencies for approval.

When they meet tomorrow, the agencies must decide on the following basis of eligibility for receipt of commodities:

Persons or families receiving the following types of assistance may be certified to receive commodities: Direct Relief, Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind, Aid to Dependent Children and persons or families certified as in need, whether or not they receive any other form of assistance. The fact that a person is unemployed is not enough in itself to justify aid.

800 Families Share

Mrs. Westerfeld said she hopes to have some definite recommendations to submit to the county commissioners at their Friday meeting.

Simpson told the group yesterday that if certification can be completed promptly, the surplus food can be shipped here "sometime in April."

During the course of yesterday's meeting, Getty said that some $41,869 of surplus food was distributed in the county to over 800 families at a cost of only about $2,000. This occurred in 1950 and early 1951 when it was decided to drop participation in the program because of the few surplus commodities available.

The commissioners explained that Chapman would be in charge of the food distribution within the county. A system of receipts was devised for this program in 1951 which assured that residents actually got the food, the commissioners noted.

Sen. Kimble Attacks Delegate Whitworth

Delegate Says Senator's Speech Deprives Counties Of Revenues

ANNAPOLIS, March 2 (AP)—Sen. Robert B. Kimble of Allegany County today delivered one of the strongest attacks on another legislator ever heard in the Maryland Senate when he assailed a fellow Republican delegate from his own county, Horace P. Whitworth Jr.

Whitworth replied in a House floor speech that it was a "devious way of defeating" a bill by the delegate to redistribute capital shares taxes from public utilities to all counties.

"He spent 30 minutes chastising me and five minutes talking about merits of the bill," Whitworth told the House. "Then he voted for the bill."

The bill was defeated 20-9.

"Because of the tyrannical and irresponsible remarks by Kimble, 20 counties are deprived of their just share of taxes," Whitworth said. He was greeted with applause by fellow delegates, a majority of whom passed the bill.

Both Whitworth and Kimble mentioned next November's election in their exchange.

"Sen. Kimble has more or less opened up the political campaign because he has reason to believe he will have opposition in the forthcoming election," said Whitworth.

Whitworth has considered running against Kimble.

After accusing Whitworth of "exaggeration and untruths," Kimble said:

"But the grand climax of them all—the one I shall have framed when it becomes my privilege to witness the counting of the ballots (in November) and when I shall have two votes for every one he shall have—is this."

He claimed then that Whitworth was trying "to get the bill out of the Senate Finance Committee. He not only represents the people of Allegany County in the House, He also represents them in the Senate—in his imagination."

Sen. Kimble claimed that Whitworth had called newspapers in Cumberland and misrepresented him as being against the bill and "my county's welfare."

"Men," he stated "ought to recognize the necessity for adhering to the fundamentals of common decency. Men shouldn't exaggerate or tell falsehoods."

(Editor's Note—Neither Delegate Whitworth nor Senator Kimble has made any effort during the session of the legislature to speak for the other in contacts with this newspaper. Neither has either of these county legislators attempted to belittle the other in conversations with The Cumberland News. If Senator Kimble desires to issue a statement to clarify his comment in Annapolis The News will be glad to print it as an explanation to its readers. The columns of this newspaper also are open to Delegate Whitworth.)

Charges Inaccuracy

The senator charged Whitworth with inaccurately reporting that Allegany County would gain $63,000 by the bill. Kimble said the amount would be reduced to $39,800 because of related losses in school funds.

"I made no attempt to misrepresent or twist the figures," Whitworth replied. He explained he first reported figures given him by the State Tax Commission showing an Allegany gain of $63,000.

"Two days later," he said the commission revised the figure downward to show effect of the school funds and "I immediately gave it to my people."

Whitworth told the delegates that after "the outburst by Sen. Kimble I don't know if I'm worthy to sit in this honorable body."

Answers Accusation

Del. Humphrey (D-Prince Georges) assured him that in his 12 years "I never saw the delegate from Allegany County misrepresent anything in this House."

Sen. Ramsburg (R-Frederick), whose county would suffer a loss of $101,500 in the shares tax and a net loss of $50,750, calmly listed several reasons for opposing the bill.

Among other things, he said, Whitworth had persistently tried to sway individual senators on the bill, telling them key budget legislation would be blocked in the House until his measure passed the Senate.

Whitworth also said other senators "took advantage of misconstruing some statements I made to them last night." He mentioned conversations with Sens. Ramsburg (R-Frederick) and Shehan (D-Talbot).

"They accused me of holding up the bond bill until HB43 (his bill) passed the Senate," he said. "They gave me credit for more power than I have as a member of the minority party.

"Frankly, I hoped the bond bill would not pass until after HB43, because I had visions of quick adjournment then and leaving it hanging."

Traffic Channeling Question Solved

A. M. Kight, who operates Kight's Garage on the Baltimore Pike just east of Cumberland said yesterday State Roads Commission crews have removed the fence-post barricades at his station.

Last week, Kight complained that guardposts erected between his garage-service station and U. S. Route 40 created a traffic hazard and also blocked off his tractor-trailer trade.

U. S. Route 40 Association also raised objection to the state's program of channeling traffic by this system of guard rails and posts.

Investigation Takes Place

Earl E. Manges, attorney to the Association, was authorized to intercede for the group as a whole in behalf of Kight and others who felt their business volume was being adversely affected.

Manges contacted the proper officials and investigation was made by State Roads Commission engineers and other officials.

Kight said that during this several day period, three vehicles struck the posts. One, driven by a regular customer, another by a tourist, and the third, a large tractor-trailer. This last mishap occurred early yesterday morning, Kight said. The tractor-trailer struck and tore out five of the posts and the driver did not stop.

State Roads crews removed all of the remaining posts yesterday.

SRC Officials Commended

Kight said he has no criticism of the roads officials responsible for installation. These men were acting on orders and were only doing their job as directed, he stated.

Kight said he appreciates the cooperation of the Association, and that he is also appreciative of the cooperation of officials of the State Roads Commission office here.

"They could not have been more cooperative," he declared.

Lonaconing Man Sentenced In Obscenity Case

Charles Lyons, 43, of Lonaconing, yesterday was sentenced to eight months in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of distributing obscene literature to small children in Lonaconing.

Lonaconing Trial Magistrate Melvin Sloan, who heard the case, recommended that Lyons be given psychiatric treatment at the House of Correction.

Lyons was convicted of violating Section 496 of Article 27 of the State Code. Sloan said this section pertains to the distribution of obscene literature.

The Lonaconing man was arrested Sunday afternoon by State Trooper Harry Bosley after parents complained about the actions of a person there.

Magistrate Sloan said that Lyons admitted having given eight and nine-year-old girls obscene notes. He then disrobed in the presence of the children, the magistrate added. Sloan asserted that three or four times previously Lonaconing residents had complained that their children had been molested in such a manner.

Lyons, who served in the Army during and since World War II, is unmarried.

The magistrate explained that Lyons also was charged with indecent exposure but the sentence was given on the state offense.

The Weather

The weather yesterday was a far cry from that which visited the area on Monday. The sun shone brightly all afternoon, although the air was a little chilly. The high temperature yesterday, according to the official mark at Constitution Park, was 51 degrees with a low reading of 31 degrees and at 8 p. m. the mercury registered 40 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 52 per cent. The forecast for today is increasing cloudiness and mild, high in the 50s, with showers in the west portion this afternoon.

Lions To Meet Today

Three past presidents of the Cumberland Lions Club will be speakers at a meeting-luncheon of the local organization today at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA.

Whitworth Seeks Kimble's Office

Delegate Whitworth reported from Annapolis last night that he intends to file as a candidate for Senator Kimble's seat in the State Senate as soon as he gets home from the present session.

Whitworth declared Kimble's "personal, antagonistic tirade" was "irresponsible" and that Kimble was "oblivious to the harm it would do to Allegany County," since Whitworth "dared to run against him in the Senate."

City Will Get Petitions On Gas Rate Case

Fund Solicitation Plan Is Dropped

Petitions protesting a proposed increase in gas rates will be presented to the Mayor and Council Monday morning.

Signed by thousands of citizens of the city, they will be presented by a committee composed of Mrs. J. W. Whittington, chairman, Mrs. John Ashenfelter, Kenneth Alderton and Homer Berry.

Plans for the action were made at a mass meeting held in City Hall and sponsored by a citizens committee set up recently to lead the fight against the rate boost.

Plans were also made to call another mass meeting at City Hall March 23 at 7:30 p. m. to hear reports from Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, on the opening of the case by the Public Service Commission on March 10.

Will Not Solicit

The committee stressed that no public collection will be taken at this time to aid in the fight, and that nobody is authorized to solicit funds.

The city, which will join forces with the county to fight the rate boost, will forward the petitions to the PSC.

Finan said the petitions will strengthen the people's case and suggested that personal letters be sent by citizens to bolster the public's fight.

He said there was no need at present for funds raised by public solicitation, but said such action might be necessary later.

The city and county, he added, will give financial aid in the drive, and there is a possibility that industries, which face increases also, may be willing to contribute.

Finan said the present case will not be decided earlier than late August or early September, and promised to keep the public abreast of the situation.

Fight Must Continue

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who suggested that the petitions be turned in Monday, warned that the fight must be kept moving, adding that some citizens may feel the fight is less urgent as warm weather comes and brings a drop in gas bills.

The present request of the gas company, Finan predicted, will meet stiffer opposition from the PSC, since it comes so soon after last year's.

J. T. Humbertson presided at the meeting, attended by more than 100 citizens.

Expert Talks On Exports

The Cumberland Rotary Club yesterday heard an export talk from an expert, Richard G. Lurie of New York City, editor of American Exporter, a foreign trade journal.

"Export—a Strange Way of Life" was the topic of Lurie's remarks.

Discussing some of the problems of foreign trade, the editor said prompt payments is not one of them. For instance, he said, some German manufacturers will allow American companies up to five years to pay for goods.

During the past year exports by the United States totaled $15,000,000,000, including $2,000,000,000 in defense goods. Imports amounted to $11,000,000,000.

Foreign trade is important to such a local concern as the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, which has offices around the world, the speaker concluded.

Cash prizes totaling $2,275 will be awarded for the 61 best designs submitted. The grand prize will be worth $350 to the talented youngster who, in the minds of the judges, creates the best poster. The D. C. Division includes the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia.

Conservation Engineering

Soil Conservation Leaders Study Drainage Problems

U. S. Soil Conservation Service employes from three Western Maryland counties are studying the peculiar drainage problems of a Mason Road farm during a two-day engineering meeting which ends here today.

SCS personnel from Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties visited the farm of Robert Adams on Mason Road yesterday afternoon. There George Wheeler, engineering specialist for 14 Maryland counties, led the group as they considered the engineering problem and what can be done to correct drainage problems on Adams' farm.

Today the SCS men will discuss this case in more detail as they study engineering problems present on the Mason Road farm.

Leaders in the two-day meeting are Edward Davis, state soil conservationist; Gail Eley, irrigation engineer for 12 northeastern states with headquarters at Upper Darby, Pa.; Hugh Hancock, area conservationist for seven Western Maryland counties, and Wheeler.

Also attending are Kenneth Stone, Martin M. Gordon, Stuart Delbrook and Roy Shryock, all of Allegany County; William Nace and Cecil Kight of Garrett County and Morris Bowser and James Smith of Washington County. The meetings are being held at the Soil Conservation office, 37 Washington Street.

Traffic, Fish Laws Violated At Blue Spring

State Police and fish and game wardens have issued warnings calling for observance of traffic and game laws to persons flocking to Blue Springs, along Route 51, Oldtown Road, to view thousands of carp in the spring's waters.

Altogether in the past two weeks eight violations of the fishing laws have resulted in arrests and fines, five for fishing by illegal means, principally without bait, and three for fishing without a license.

However, State Police are particularly worried because of unsafe driving conditions created by the motorists who drive to the spring, located beside the highway just a few miles from Cumberland.

Authorities said most motorists are blocking access to the narrow highway by parking on both sides of the road before walking to the spring.

State Police issued warning to all drivers in the area during the first two weeks following the discovery of the numerous fish in the spring. Most serious offense was parking along the highway without leaving the 12-foot clearance from the center of the roadway as required by law.

"Most of the drivers would park just off the highway," one officer stated, "and since Route 51 is narrow to begin with in some instances it created one-way traffic."

There is no room for parking along the spring area, police continued, because of a bank on one side of the road and the canal on the other.

"Last Sunday 84 cars were parked in less than a half-mile area," the State policeman continued. "We've warned the motorists but now we're tagging them for illegal parking," he said.

Trial Magistrates Court officials said yesterday more than 35 summonses for illegal parking have been issued in the past week or 10 days by State Police who patrol the area every day.

"Four or five minor accidents have been reported," they added, "and with traffic blocked almost all day long, especially on weekends, the chance for a serious accident is strong."

Naughton Will Speak At Bankers Meeting

Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National Bank, will be one of the speakers during a conference for young bankers in Baltimore April 7-8.

The session, the first of its kind in Maryland, will be sponsored by the educational and public relations committee of the Maryland Bankers Association. Naughton will speak on "Problems of Management in a Medium-Sized Country Bank." Charles A. Piper, president of the Liberty Trust Company, is a member of the senior conference committee.

Board Favors Road Bills

The Allegany County Commissioners yesterday wired State Senator Robert B. Kimble and Delegate Charles M. See, County Delegation chairman, urging their support for two Senate Bills which would liberalize controls over the State Roads Commission in the 12-year roads program.

Senators Kimble and George W. Della, Senate president, introduced the measures, SB 59 and SB 60.

The first would permit the State Roads Commission to construct within 10 per cent of prescribed mileage in the counties during any four-year period, providing the total for the 12-year highway building program comes within five per cent.

SB 60 would give the State Roads Commission leeway in the issuance of amounts of bonds to meet any changes during any four-year period of the 12-year building program.

Dr. Beal To Lead Discussion Group

Dr. G. M. Beal of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Marketing of the University of Maryland will be the discussion leader at the regular weekly meeting of the Economics Discussion group of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the conference room of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Dr. Beal's topic will be "Demand, Supply and Prices." This will be the seventh in a series of 17 discussions being held by the Chamber of Commerce group.

Anthony Saeli, manager of the local chamber, said yesterday the discussion group's program is progressing very satisfactorily and that attendance has increased throughout the weeks.

City Fireman Given Praise For Administering First Aid

A member of the City Fire Department, Pipeman Robert H. Martin, was commended in a recent letter to Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long for his excellent manner in giving first aid to an employe of Mary's Cleaners who sustained first degree burns in an explosion at the plant Saturday afternoon.

Long received the following letter from Lee Silcox: "Our ambulance was called Saturday afternoon to transport the victim of the explosion (Joseph Powell, 26, of 543 Fairview Avenue) at Mary's Cleaners to the hospital.

"You will be interested to know that the first aid for the burns administered by Pipeman Robert Martin was excellent, and the care of shock was not forgotten.

"Congratulations to your department. This is a plus service to our citizens."

Powell, who was working on a gas furnace, sustained first degree burns of the face, hands and left arm as the explosion occurred.

Firemen from Central station answered the call.

Martin is a veteran of World War II and was a pharmacist mate second class in the Navy, attached to the Fleet Marine Force. He served 22 months in the Pacific.

He was discharged in February of 1946, was recalled to active duty in February 1951 and served about 16 months at the Naval Medical Center, Bethesda. He joined the Fire Department September 6, 1949.

Area Clean-Up Follows Flood; Damage Slight

Streams Recede As Weather Clears

Flood waters which inundated streets and highways, yards, farms and roadways in many sections of the Tri-State area Monday, had receded yesterday with little serious damage reported.

Water backed up by a coffer dam in the Potomac River left a layer of mud and slime on a number of West Side streets and in a section of Ridgeley. Many residents had water on their sidewalks and in basements.

However, as the water receded here yesterday morning, Street Department crews went to the stricken area, and as far as possible cleaned up the mess. Areas were shoveled and swept out and then hosed down where possible. In a number of instances, portable pumps were used to clear basements.

Rainfall Is Heavy

The Potomac River left its banks here at 3:30 p. m. Monday on Water Street, after 2.64 inches of rain had fallen in the area in less than 12 hours.

Water had returned to its banks after a fairly rapid runoff by daylight yesterday morning.

In the South Branch Valley where the South Branch, North Fork and South Fork Rivers went on a roaring rampage, no serious damage was reported. Lowlands and sections of highways that were flooded are reported clear and normal.

Communications in the entire area, where more than 200 telephones were out of service, had been resumed. In the local area where a number of communities felt a communication blackout due to the wind and rain, was restored by last night. Eight emergency crews worked over 18 hours restoring telephone lines and cables.

Crest Readings Given

Along the Potomac River where readings are made by the Water Resources Division of the Geological Survey, these facts were recorded: The North Branch of the Potomac River reached a crest of 9.02 feet at 10 a. m. Monday at Kitzmiller; a crest of 9.30 feet at Luke at noon; a crest of 13.20 feet at 5 p. m. at Pinto, and crested at the Wiley Ford Bridge here at 8:30 p. m. with a depth of 15.96 feet.

On the flood control project, work was under way cleaning up after the high water. No serious damage to machinery and equipment was reported by the contractor, although a boat was smashed and a section of wooden flood wall and some concrete floors were swept away.

Full scale work on the project is to resume as the water level drops.

More than twice as much rain fell in Mineral County Monday morning than was recorded in the entire month of February, according to a statement made by D. A. Arnold, U. S. Weather observer at Keyser.

Rain Fall Is Noted

Arnold said that only 1.02 inches of rain fell in the entire month of

Discharge Case Ruling Slated

The Civil Service Commission will issue a ruling on a discharge appeal case heard Monday night at City Hall after a transcript of the lengthy meeting is available.

The hearing was requested by James H. Thompson, 65, of 320 Reservoir Avenue, who was discharged from his duties at Constitution Park as of Monday.

The action was taken by Robert R. Golden, park custodian, who cited in a letter to Thompson that "for the past several weeks it has been apparent to me you have been unable to satisfactorily perform the duties which I have assigned."

Thompson was represented by Thomas N. Berry, attorney, and the Civil Service Board by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney.

A spokesman for the board said the testimony was conflicting and that it will be necessary to study the notes of the more than three-hour hearing.

Home Rule Will Be Decided On Ballot

Legislation Passes Both Chambers; Must Be Approved By Referendum

ANNAPOLIS, March 2 (AP)—The General Assembly attached a few strings but voted tonight to allow Maryland municipalities to govern themselves.

The House wrote Senate amendments into a bill it already had passed to extend home rule to the cities and towns, a right coveted for years but heretofore denied by the Legislature.

Only Del. Reed (R-Allegany) voted against the proposed constitutional amendment which will appear on the November ballots.

State senators, some avowedly uncertain of how far they were going, had put home-rule legislation through both chambers this afternoon for the first time in Maryland history.

They made two revisions which hadn't been studied by the House of Delegates, so the proposed constitutional amendment had to go back for concurrence.

Del. Polk (D-Worcester), one of the sponsors, was confident as soon as the Senate acted that the House wouldn't put up a strong argument.

One Senate amendment would require legislative sanction before municipalities could install taxes not in effect next January. As a constitutional amendment, the measure has to be approved at a referendum with the general election or pass into oblivion.

Other Changes Cited

The other changes by Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset), would deny local governments the power to "permit any act" prohibited by State laws on Sunday observance and alcoholic beverages. Phoebus had said his purpose was to prevent such a place as Crisfield in his home county from allowing Sunday movies when folks in the rest of the county didn't want them.

Sen. McLaughlin (R-Washington) inquired if this wouldn't violate the "very spirit of the bill." Sens. Turnbull (D-Baltimore County) and Hoff (R-Carroll) got into an amiable but involved debate on exactly what the bill and amendment would do.

Turnbull said a few communities in one population group might be forced into legislation they disliked. He suggested the questions were abundant. And Sen. Redden (D-Caroline) said the dispute "exposes and illustrates the possible constitutional objections this bill will face."

Amendment Adopted

Phoebus' amendment was adopted nonetheless, 20-5, and the bill as a whole sent over to the House by a 23-6 vote.

The measure follows almost to the letter a recommendation two years ago by the Sobeloff Commission on organization of the State government. It would limit the legislature to local acts putting a ceiling on tax rates and borrowing powers. Otherwise, the General Assembly could pass laws only for municipalities in one of four classes to be established by population.

The Sobeloff Commission also proposed home rule for counties, but the Legislature hasn't been disposed to relinquish its authority in that field.

The home-rule amendment was one of two constitutional changes to win Senate approval. Majority Leader Goldstein (D-Calvert) and Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany) were successful with one to close 30-day sessions to all but fiscal matters.

The House still had to give their bill full treatment before it earned a place on the November ballot.

33 New Voters Register For City Elections

A total of 14,490 persons were listed on the city's voting records on February 28.

The total represents a net gain of 20 as a result of the registration of 33 new voters during February, the biggest registration for many months.

The new voters included 21 men and 12 women, all white.

Losses during the month were two voters stricken off the books due to leaving the city, and 11 deceased voters.

The voters are listed in the following groups, according to records compiled by Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk:

White males, 7,654; white females 6,566; colored males 173 and colored females 97.

City election officials are expecting the registration to reach its peak this month, as interest in the coming city election quickens.

The deadline for city registration is May 11.

The City Registration office is located in the basement of City Hall and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 5 p. m.

Spinners To Meet On Work Assignments

The Spinning Department of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall, according to Vito Dormio, chairman.

Business will include discussion and action on changed work assignments in the department, Dormio said.

State Representatives Explain Procedure

As a direct result of a meeting yesterday afternoon, representatives from four welfare agencies will convene at 1:45 p. m. Thursday in the Associated Charities office at City Hall to conclude plans for certifying county residents who are in need and eligible for surplus food which will be available for distribution this spring.

Yesterday's session at the Court House involved state leaders concerned with the distribution of surplus food and the Board of County Commissioners.

Attending from Baltimore were Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Department of Public Welfare; E. L. Vogelman, supervisor of donable foods for the State Department of Budget and Procurement, and Paul Simpson, who preceded Vogelman in the latter job.

Others Attend

Also on hand were the three commissioners, William H. Lemmert, James Holmes and James Orr; Gorman E. Getty, county attorney; J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor; James G. Stevenson, clerk to the County commissioners, and Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the County Welfare Department.

Waxter said that he was interested in seeing that needy persons get the surplus butter, cheese and dried milk available, but explained that direct responsibility for obtaining the food lies with the State Department of Budget and Procurement.

Simpson told the county representatives that the U. S. Department of Agriculture limits the surplus food to one-and-one-half pounds of butter and one pound each of cheese and dried milk per person per month. Those three commodities are the only ones available.

Shipping Costs

The Federal government will pay the cost of shipping carload lots of the food to Cumberland but the county must bear the expense of storing it and distributing it within the county.

After yesterday's session Mrs. Westerfeld arranged the meeting for tomorrow afternoon with representatives of Associated Charities, Salvation Army and the Red Cross. The three private agencies will certify persons in need of food and the County Welfare Department then must approve the list. Distribution will be made only to persons so certified. Simpson also explained that United Mine Workers locals must submit their recommendations to one of the other agencies for approval.

When they meet tomorrow, the agencies must decide on the following basis of eligibility for receipt of commodities:

Persons or families receiving the following types of assistance may be certified to receive commodities: Direct Relief, Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind, Aid to Dependent Children and persons or families certified as in need, whether or not they receive any other form of assistance. The fact that a person is unemployed is not enough in itself to justify aid.

800 Families Share

Mrs. Westerfeld said she hopes to have some definite recommendations to submit to the county commissioners at their Friday meeting.

Simpson told the group yesterday that if certification can be completed promptly, the surplus food can be shipped here "sometime in April."

During the course of yesterday's meeting, Getty said that some $41,869 of surplus food was distributed in the county to over 800 families at a cost of only about $2,000. This occurred in 1950 and early 1951 when it was decided to drop participation in the program because of the few surplus commodities available.

The commissioners explained that Chapman would be in charge of the food distribution within the county. A system of receipts was devised for this program in 1951 which assured that residents actually got the food, the commissioners noted.
